'With All Humility'

California's Republican Governor Earl Warren sits at his desk at his office in Sacramento, Calif., during press conference at which he announced that "with all humility, I have concluded to become a candidate" for President in 1952. He was Thomas E. Dewey's running mate in 1948. (NEA Telephoto).

Prices Are Lowered on Used Autos

Models for 1951 Escape Limitation, Except for Two Per Cent Off for Depreciation

Areas Stipulated

Geographical Locations Are Cited in Pricing Schedules

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—The government today rolled back ceiling prices on used automobiles six per cent below levels of last January.

The Office of Price Stabilization said its new dollars-and-cents ceilings set prices at about current market levels. An exception to the immediate rollback will be 1951 models which may be sold at the going market price.

However, OPS said 1951 cars, along with all others, will be subject to a two per cent deduction for depreciation on January 1. Every three months thereafter, on the first day of each calendar quarter, another two per cent must be cut from the price of all the named 35 makes of cars manufactured between 1940 and 1951.

The ceiling price of pre-1940 cars will be the same as that comparable 1940 model of the same make.

Previous Orders Replaced

The new dollars and cents order replaces previous orders setting ceilings on the basis of prices in several used car guide books. Provisions of the regulation are effective Nov. 20. However, the dollars and cents prices do not go into effect until 30 days after that date.

The order divides the country into three geographical areas for pricing. The areas generally reflect differences in shipping costs of the cars originally. Those in Region A which include New York, New Jersey and Connecticut, will have the lowest price and those in Region C the highest under the lengthy tables.

OPS gave this example of how the two per cent depreciation will apply:

A 1950 Chevrolet Styline special 4-door sedan in region A is listed at $1,555. On Jan. 1, 1952, the ceiling price will be two per cent less than that price, or $1,523.90. On April 1, 1952 the ceiling price will be two per cent less than $1,523.90, or $1,493.42, and so on for each calendar month.

All Standard Equipment

The ceiling prices include all standard equipment, as well as radio, heater and other items on the car at the time the seller bought the car. Automatic transmissions or drives, or air-conditioning units are extra and prices also are listed which may be added to the car ceiling.

OPS said the ceilings for such

Reds Alter Stand After UN Charge

Hodes Accuses Enemy of Attempting to Use Legal Phrase Instead of Good Faith

Silent on Charges

Atrocity Story Brings No Reaction From Communists

Munsan, Korea, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Communists today abandoned their insistence on an immediate cease-fire in Korea.

The reversal came after Maj. Gen. Henry I. Hodes, chief of the United Nations Cease-fire Subcommittee, accused the Reds of wanting to "substitute a legal clause in place of good faith."

Hodes called on the Communists to work out a joint proposal for settlement of the touchy buffer zone dispute.

"With this eliminated," he said, "our (cease-fire) proposals would be to all intents and purposes identical. I propose that we formulate a proposal on this basis."

The Red negotiators replied they never had sought an end to the fighting before a full armistice is signed.

'Would Be Unavoidable'

Wednesday, however, the Reds declared that a de facto cease-fire would be "an unavoidable result of the agenda" and "an indispensable part and inevitable consequence of the progress of armistice negotiations."

Lt. Col. Howard S. Levie, acting spokesman for the UN command, said Communist negotiators told Hodes their speeches Wednesday were entirely unnecessary because their Saturday proposal "spoke for itself."

The Communists continued to insist on immediate establishment of a cease-fire line paralleling the battle front. However, under terms of their Saturday proposal, this line could be changed through subsequent military action.

Levie described the new Communist position as "inconsistent" with one taken Wednesday by North Korean Maj. Gen. Lee Song Cho and Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang who said an immediate cease-fire would be an unavoidable result of the agenda agreed upon last July at Kaesong.

A UN command spokesman said there was no mention of the Allies' prisoner of war atrocity charges at Thursday's negotiating session.

The spokesman, Lt. Cmdr. J. E. Bauernschmidt, said the only reference to prisoners of war came during a discussion on Item Four of the armistice agenda. This covers the exchange of war prisoners.

Throughout the negotiations, the UN command has expressed concern over the fate of Allied troops captured by Communists.

UN negotiators have insisted that an exchange of prisoners be arranged before a cease-fire becomes effective.

Bauernschmidt declined to speculate as to whether disclosure of the long-secret atrocities would have an effect on the negotiations.

Throughout Thursday's three-hour and 20 minute session the Reds continued to insist that a cease-fire line be fixed before negotiators move on to other armistice terms. UN command negotiators reiterated that any line drawn now would result in a de facto cease-fire and permit the Reds to stall on other agenda problems.

Truman to Commit Democrats To 'Fair Deal' Banner Campaign

President Says General and He Did Not Talk Politics at Lunch

Key West, Fla., Nov. 15 (AP)—President Truman declared today he is drafting a "State of Union" message committing the Democratic party to campaign in 1952 under his "Fair Deal" banner.

But, under a bombardment of questions from reporters at a winter White House news conference he refused to comment on whether he intends to support General Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Democratic presidential nomination or whether he will seek it himself.

He said that at no time did he discuss domestic politics with General Eisenhower in their recent conferences on the western European defense program in Washington.

He said he had made that clear as had the general and that both have the reputation of telling the truth.

"Do you have any intention of supporting General Eisenhower for the Democratic nomination? He was asked.

No Comment

Evenly the President replied: No comment.

This was in contrast to another press conference recently when he said he thought General Eisenhower would not be interested in the Democratic nomination, and he could not help him get the Republican nomination.

But, the President may have meant simply he didn't want to discuss Eisenhower in connection with politics.

Asked whether he will urge enactment of his "Fair Deal" program in the "State of the Union" message he will send to Congress in January, he said of course, and added it will be a part of the Democratic platform.

Regardless of who runs?" he was asked.

General Had No Tipoff On Release

War Crimes Chief Says Report Should Have Been Put Out Long Time Ago

Did It for Troops

Says He Wanted to Let GIs Realize What Red Treatment Is

Tokyo, Nov. 15 (AP)—The reported Communist slaughter of some 5,500 American prisoners of war shocked general headquarters from top to bottom today.

Col. James M. Hanley, chief of the war crimes section of the Eighth Army, said he divulged the figures because he thought American soldiers at the front ought to know what they are up against.

In an exclusive interview in Pusan, Korea, Hanley said the story about the "wanton murder" of American prisoners "should have been put out a long time ago."

Apparently no one knew he was going to make the statement—least of all Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, who was duck hunting.

General headquarters officers, after conferring with Hanley by telephone, are preparing an announcement tonight for release tomorrow to clarify "the basis for some of Hanley's figures."

Even Gen. James A. Van Fleet, commander of the Eighth Army in Korea, said he had no advance knowledge. He declined to comment, explaining: "I have not had time to familiarize myself with the content of the statement."

Chief of War Crimes

Hanley is chief of the war crimes section of the Eighth Army.

Hanley released the Red atrocity total yesterday at a press conference in Pusan, Korea.

What Hanley did was total all the reports and estimates of Communist atrocities since the beginning of the war.

These figures came from captured Reds, escaped United Nations prisoners, from questioning civilians, and from Allied agents operating behind Communist lines.

In some cases the bodies actually were counted. Many of the massacres had been reported long before.

It was Hanley's total that was staggering.

"All I wanted," Hanley said today in Pusan, "was to let the GIs know what the Chinese are doing and let them realize the Communist propaganda."

Submitted Memorandum

He said that last September he submitted a memorandum to the office of the judge advocate general of general headquarters in Tokyo asking authority to tell the story. At the time he was leaving Korea for a business trip to Washington. He said on his return early this month he was notified the story could be released.

Hanley said he assumed the approval came through normal channels.

He emphasized that his announcement had nothing to do with the cease-fire talks at Panmunjon or with war crimes.

"To start talking about war crimes at this time would be dynamite," Hanley said. "We shall stay away from it."

The Eighth Army's War Crimes Section, which Hanley heads, is the official investigating body for atrocities.

Some quarters said this was not the opportune time to put out such a story. Hanley said he found this reaction "rather amazing. I did not expect that."

One high officer greeted the announcement with "hopeful skepticism."

"I am just hoping that our estimates are too high," he said. "I am keeping in mind that the enemy knows how dear to America every captured American soldier is and that every captured American is extremely valuable bargaining material in armistice negotiations."

Sentencing Postponed

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—General Sessions Judge Saul S. Streit today postponed until Monday the sentencing of basketball fixer Salvatore T. Solazzo and of 14 players.

Two Are Pinned in Car Wreck on Lonely Road

Mr. & Mrs. T. G. Heath Are Discovered by Resident of Lapala

A rural Ulster county man and wife were injured Wednesday night when their automobile turned over along the lonely Lapala road in the town of Marbletown.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore G. Heath of Route 3, Box 365, lay helpless in the wreckage of the 1926 Studebaker for about two hours before a passerby chanced to hear their cries for help, Deputy Sheriff Arthur B. Smith reported.

A W. N. Conner, Inc., ambulance was summoned to take them to the Benedictine Hospital, where Mrs. Heath's condition today was listed as "serious." The condition of Mr. Heath was reported as "fair."

Because of the delay in discovering the accident and the conditions of the injured, details of the accident were not known. The ages of the injured and the extent of their injuries were also not available this morning.

The accident was discovered about 10:30 p. m. Wednesday by Marilan Cook of Lapala, who heard the injured persons' cries as she was walking along the one-lane road, the sheriff's office reported. She summoned help from a neighboring home.

Deputy Sheriff Smith investigated and reported the automobile had apparently turned over several times after running off the wet road. It was a complete wreck, he reported.

Lapala is a hamlet about three miles northwest of Lomontville in the town of Marbletown, isolated by about that distance from any main thoroughfare.

Swede Gets Prize

Stockholm, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Swedish Academy today awarded the 1951 Nobel prize for literature to one of its own members, Par Lagerkvist, author of the novels "The Dwarf" and "Barabbas." Lagerkvist, who is 60 years old and a playwright, poet, essayist and writer of short stories as well as a novelist, will receive a check for 167,612 crowns ($32,357) from King Gustav Adolf at the Nobel prize presentation ceremony to be held in Stockholm on Dec. 10.

Yugoslavia Tells Of Soviet Threat

Russian Satellites Poise 25 Divisions, Says Foreign Minister

Paris, Nov. 15 (AP)—Communist Yugoslavia charged today that Russia's satellites have 25 divisions poised on her borders, threatening world peace.

Speaking before the United Nations General Assembly, Yugoslav Foreign Minister Edvard Kardelj claimed this was almost double the number of troops the satellites—Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria—had stationed there two years ago. The figure, he said, did not include the Soviet troops in those countries.

The charge was part of a 11-point indictment Kardelj presented to the 60-nation Assembly to back up Yugoslavia's complaint of hostile acts against her by the Soviet Union and other eastern European countries—once her allies but now her bitter enemies.

Not Isolated Incident

Kardelj said Russian aggression against Yugoslavia was not an isolated incident but was part of a worldwide series of Soviet acts which threaten the peace of the world. He cited the war in Korea as another example of warlike Soviet policy.

Kardelj was one of the small nation speakers today in the continuing opening debate before the General Assembly. French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman is

Crime Commission Queries Licensees

The State Crime Commission was scheduled to begin questioning about 40 holders of liquor licenses in stepping up its probe at Hudson of gambling and other alleged vice in Columbia county.

No information or comment was available from the commission on whatever progress it had made with the probe this morning in the St. Charles Hotel at Hudson.

Chief Investigator Joseph Kaitz was scheduled to handle the quizing today assisted by Attorney Ben Matthews, special assistant to the commission, and others.

Subpoenas Served

The Associated Press reported that commission investigators had served subpoenas on 40 businessmen in the county seat Tuesday night. They also picked up financial records of some of those to be questioned.

About 50 Hudson officials and residents appeared before the commission in Catskill in August and September. The nature of the testimony was not disclosed.

The AP said, however, that a commission spokesman said that "a large part" of the inquiry was being devoted to determining whether public servants had received "protection payoffs" from underworld figures.

It was stated at Hudson that State Liquor Authority men had been "loaned" to the commission for the probe there. Hudson restaurant owners and liquor store operators were questioned today.

Kaitz said he expected to finish the questioning today and then would report to the commission.

He would not say whether a public hearing would be held in Columbia county.

Rescue Crews Find Shattered Plane; All 36 Are Dead

Chambon-sur-Lac, France, Nov. 15 (AP)—Rescue crews today found the shattered snow-crusted wreckage of a missing U. S. Air Force transport plane 5,000 feet up a mountain slope in southern France. All aboard were dead.

American and French rescuers began bringing the battered burned bodies of the 36 passengers and crewmen—all U. S. military personnel—down the mountain where the twin-engined flying box car crashed Tuesday.

Rescue teams who fought their way up the snow and ice encrusted slope 250 miles south of Paris said most of the fire-scarred

Tarrock Verdict Upheld by Court

Appellate Division Deals With Question of Street Conditions

A $35,000 Supreme Court verdict for Mrs. Lillian Tarrock, of Port Ewen, against the City of Kingston has been upheld by the Appellate Division, it was learned today.

Mrs. Tarrock brought suit to recover for the death of her husband, Ernest Tarrock, who drowned when his car plunged into the Rondout creek from Dock street on Feb. 4, 1949.

Arthur A. Davis, Jr., attorney of record, and John E. Egan, of counsel, said they had received notice of the decision, and Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly, who had not yet received official notice, said an appeal will probably be made in the Court of Appeals.

The Appellate Division's decision's dealt largely with a question of fact based on conditions on Dock street at the time of the mishap in which the plaintiff's husband died.

It mentioned the lack of a guard rail along the street at the time of the mishap, the height of the crown in the road, and icy conditions.

Refuses Request

London, Nov. 15 (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill refused today to consider a Laborite request that he ask the UN commander in Korea to use Commonwealth troops for defensive purposes only during the cease-fire talks.

Will Boost Shipments

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—Production Chief Manly Fleischmann indicated today this country will increase steel shipments to Britain but not, for the present at least, at the requested rate of 200,000 tons a quarter.

Scoffs at Reports

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—The position of the treasury Nov. 13: Net budget receipts, $150,819,868.17; budget expenditures, $177,327,819.13; cash balance, $3,936,041,342.10; customs receipts for month, $13,896,867.38; budget receipts fiscal year July 1, $16,316,937,721.48; budget expenditures fiscal year $22,170,238,396.92; budget deficit, $5,853,300,675.44; total debt, $257,876,637,728.30; increase over previous day, $5,940,750.10; gold assets, $22,283,044,190.87.

Juror's Mother Dies at Marlborough and Panel Recall Is Made

Another unfortunate circumstance, one of many which have plagued the selection of a jury in the Edward H. Kelly first degree murder trial now on in County court, caused a further postponement in the opening of testimony today after a jury had presumably been acquired Wednesday afternoon prior to the adjournment of court.

During the night the mother of Mrs. Marion Marcks, Marlborough secretary and juror five on the panel, was seized with a heart attack and died. Mrs. Marcks was consequently excused from further service by consent of counsel. At the openning of court this morning Judge John M. Cashin was compelled to recess the court until 2 o'clock this afternoon because of absence of jurors to be examined to fill the vacancy.

Counsel in the case agreed to recalling members of the panels which had been summoned and not examined and Sheriff Cluett Schantz was sent out to round up the jurors so an additional juror for the trial could be secured to fill the vacancy.

It was agreed by counsel that the jurors in the box be moved up one and the juror now to be selected will take the number two alternate seat. John S. Geary, Wawarsing farmer thereby becomes juror number 12 and Jane W. Cater of Kingston is the first alternate.

Six Men, Six Women

The panel of 12 who will sit in on the deliberations, should no further complications arise to make it necessary for an alternate to take a place in the box, will consist of six men and six women. These will determine the

Fourth Strip Paved West of Crossing

Completion of Small Part in Center Opens Way for Joining Gap

The fourth strip of concrete on the west side of the railroad bridge was poured in the rain yesterday on the Broadway crossing project.

The small center strip is still to be poured before that section is completed and this, it is expected, will be finished by early next week.

Shortly after the center strip is completed the contractor will be in a position to pour two lanes over the 180-foot gap between the concrete section east and west of the railroad bridge if weather permits.

If the weather is unfavorable, however, the gap, or at least two lanes in width will be filled with gravel to permit winter use of the underpass.

Sewer work on the west side of the bridge, meanwhile, is progressing slowly because of water conditions.

Pentagon Gives Figures to Reveal Program In Supplying Arms Help to Western Europe

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Pentagon, annoyed by talk that arms aid to the western European nations is lagging, gave out some item-by-item figures to show what has been done.

Whether by coincidence or otherwise, a news conference by Gen. George L. Olmsted, director of military assistance, yesterday followed a series of recent developments, including:

1. Press dispatches from Paris saying the French are concerned over slow delivery of arms aid.

2. The recent visit of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme commander of western European forces, to discuss with Washington officials an increased tempo in equipping his forces.

3. A Paris meeting of Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of Defense Lovett and W. Averell Harriman, director of the Mutual Security Agency, to discuss the arms aid problem.

Gen. Olmsted used France as an example of how the United States is keeping generally abreast of its arms aid commitments. He said that:

The allocation of tanks for France was 2,738 and that deliveries to date total 2,148. Out of an allocation of 847 105-millimeter guns, 658 have been delivered. However, plane deliveries have been somewhat slower. France has been assigned 401 F-84 Thunderjet fighter planes of a late model. These are just beginning to come off the production line. Before the end of this year, the first 19 will have been delivered and all of the allocation will be in French hands in 1952. An assignment of 46 F-84s of earlier model has been fulfilled.

Olmsted said that equipment originally allocated to equip an undisclosed number of western European divisions would be delivered to the member nations by next spring, several months ahead of the planning date first set.

In his public comments while here, Eisenhower did not say he believed there was an actual lag in arms deliveries to Europe. Those familiar with the series of conferences he held at the White House and Pentagon said the point emphasized was that there must be a speedup beyond the present schedule—that instead of a slower program to outfit more divisions a drive should be made to make battle-ready and fully-equipped up to 30 divisions by next summer.

Even while the United States was wrestling with the problem of keeping up to its current European commitments and looking into Eisenhower's plea for faster deliveries of arms, new although not unforeseen problems cropped up in another quarter. The U. S.

Taft Foresees More Troops For Europe Than 6 Divisions

By JACK BELL

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) foresees a likelihood that the United States may be asked to commit "far more than six divisions" to the defense of western Europe.

The Ohio senator said in a new book, "A Foreign Policy for Americans" that the past history of the Truman administration's handling of foreign policies makes it likely that "in another year we will be asked for more divisions" to supplement the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces headed by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

As a candidate for the 1952 Republican presidential nomination, Taft wrote down a barrage of criticism against President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson, Gen. George C. Marshall and other administration figures.

Taft said most presidents "have been imbued with a real determination to keep the country at peace." But he went on in a direct attack on Mr. Truman and President Franklin D. Roosevelt:

"I feel that the last two presidents have put all kinds of political and policy considerations ahead of their interest in liberty and peace."

Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), a supporter of the administration's foreign policy, promptly described Taft's book as "amazing for its blindness to the nature of the problems we face today." A member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, McMahon de-

"All I wanted," Hanley said today in Pusan, "was to let the GIs know what the Chinese are doing and let them realize the Communist propaganda."

Submitted Memorandum

He said that last September he submitted a memorandum to the office of the judge advocate general of general headquarters in Tokyo asking authority to tell the story. At the time he was leaving Korea for a business trip to Washington. He said on his return early this month he was notified the story could be released.

Hanley said he assumed the approval came through normal channels.

He emphasized that his announcement had nothing to do with the cease-fire talks at Panmunjon or with war crimes.

"To start talking about war crimes at this time would be dynamite," Hanley said. "We shall stay away from it."

The Eighth Army's War Crimes Section, which Hanley heads, is the official investigating body for atrocities.

Some quarters said this was not the opportune time to put out such a story. Hanley said he found this reaction "rather amazing. I did not expect that."

One high officer greeted the announcement with "hopeful skepticism."

"I am just hoping that our estimates are too high," he said. "I am keeping in mind that the enemy knows how dear to America every captured American soldier is and that every captured American is extremely valuable bargaining material in armistice negotiations."

Two Are Pinned in Car Wreck on Lonely Road

Mr. & Mrs. T. G. Heath Are Discovered by Resident of Lapala

A rural Ulster county man and wife were injured Wednesday night when their automobile turned over along the lonely Lapala road in the town of Marbletown.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore G. Heath of Route 3, Box 365, lay helpless in the wreckage of the 1926 Studebaker for about two hours before a passerby chanced to hear their cries for help, Deputy Sheriff Arthur B. Smith reported.

A W. N. Conner, Inc., ambulance was summoned to take them to the Benedictine Hospital, where Mrs. Heath's condition today was listed as "serious." The condition of Mr. Heath was reported as "fair."

Because of the delay in discovering the accident and the conditions of the injured, details of the accident were not known. The ages of the injured and the extent of their injuries were also not available this morning.

The accident was discovered about 10:30 p. m. Wednesday by Marilan Cook of Lapala, who heard the injured persons' cries as she was walking along the one-lane road, the sheriff's office reported. She summoned help from a neighboring home.

Deputy Sheriff Smith investigated and reported the automobile had apparently turned over several times after running off the wet road. It was a complete wreck, he reported.

Lapala is a hamlet about three miles northwest of Lomontville in the town of Marbletown, isolated by about that distance from any main thoroughfare.

Yugoslavia Tells Of Soviet Threat

Russian Satellites Poise 25 Divisions, Says Foreign Minister

Paris, Nov. 15 (AP)—Communist Yugoslavia charged today that Russia's satellites have 25 divisions poised on her borders, threatening world peace.

Speaking before the United Nations General Assembly, Yugoslav Foreign Minister Edvard Kardelj claimed this was almost double the number of troops the satellites—Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria—had stationed there two years ago. The figure, he said, did not include the Soviet troops in those countries.

The charge was part of a 11-point indictment Kardelj presented to the 60-nation Assembly to back up Yugoslavia's complaint of hostile acts against her by the Soviet Union and other eastern European countries—once her allies but now her bitter enemies.

Not Isolated Incident

Kardelj said Russian aggression against Yugoslavia was not an isolated incident but was part of a worldwide series of Soviet acts which threaten the peace of the world. He cited the war in Korea as another example of warlike Soviet policy.

Kardelj was one of the small nation speakers today in the continuing opening debate before the General Assembly. French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman is

Crime Commission Queries Licensees

The State Crime Commission was scheduled to begin questioning about 40 holders of liquor licenses in stepping up its probe at Hudson of gambling and other alleged vice in Columbia county.

No information or comment was available from the commission on whatever progress it had made with the probe this morning in the St. Charles Hotel at Hudson.

Chief Investigator Joseph Kaitz was scheduled to handle the quizing today assisted by Attorney Ben Matthews, special assistant to the commission, and others.

Subpoenas Served

The Associated Press reported that commission investigators had served subpoenas on 40 businessmen in the county seat Tuesday night. They also picked up financial records of some of those to be questioned.

About 50 Hudson officials and residents appeared before the commission in Catskill in August and September. The nature of the testimony was not disclosed.

The AP said, however, that a commission spokesman said that "a large part" of the inquiry was being devoted to determining whether public servants had received "protection payoffs" from underworld figures.

It was stated at Hudson that State Liquor Authority men had been "loaned" to the commission for the probe there. Hudson restaurant owners and liquor store operators were questioned today.

Kaitz said he expected to finish the questioning today and then would report to the commission.

He would not say whether a public hearing would be held in Columbia county.

Swede Gets Prize

Stockholm, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Swedish Academy today awarded the 1951 Nobel prize for literature to one of its own members, Par Lagerkvist, author of the novels "The Dwarf" and "Barabbas." Lagerkvist, who is 60 years old and a playwright, poet, essayist and writer of short stories as well as a novelist, will receive a check for 167,612 crowns ($32,357) from King Gustav Adolf at the Nobel prize presentation ceremony to be held in Stockholm on Dec. 10.

Rescue Crews Find Shattered Plane; All 36 Are Dead

Chambon-sur-Lac, France, Nov. 15 (AP)—Rescue crews today found the shattered snow-crusted wreckage of a missing U. S. Air Force transport plane 5,000 feet up a mountain slope in southern France. All aboard were dead.

American and French rescuers began bringing the battered burned bodies of the 36 passengers and crewmen—all U. S. military personnel—down the mountain where the twin-engined flying box car crashed Tuesday.

Rescue teams who fought their way up the snow and ice encrusted slope 250 miles south of Paris said most of the fire-scarred

Appellate Division Deals With Question of Street Conditions

A $35,000 Supreme Court verdict for Mrs. Lillian Tarrock, of Port Ewen, against the City of Kingston has been upheld by the Appellate Division, it was learned today.

Mrs. Tarrock brought suit to recover for the death of her husband, Ernest Tarrock, who drowned when his car plunged into the Rondout creek from Dock street on Feb. 4, 1949.

Arthur A. Davis, Jr., attorney of record, and John E. Egan, of counsel, said they had received notice of the decision, and Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly, who had not yet received official notice, said an appeal will probably be made in the Court of Appeals.

The Appellate Division's decision's dealt largely with a question of fact based on conditions on Dock street at the time of the mishap in which the plaintiff's husband died.

It mentioned the lack of a guard rail along the street at the time of the mishap, the height of the crown in the road, and icy conditions.

Refuses Request

London, Nov. 15 (AP)—Prime Minister Winston Churchill refused today to consider a Laborite request that he ask the UN commander in Korea to use Commonwealth troops for defensive purposes only during the cease-fire talks.

Will Boost Shipments

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—Production Chief Manly Fleischmann indicated today this country will increase steel shipments to Britain but not, for the present at least, at the requested rate of 200,000 tons a quarter.

Scoffs at Reports

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—The position of the treasury Nov. 13: Net budget receipts, $150,819,868.17; budget expenditures, $177,327,819.13; cash balance, $3,936,041,342.10; customs receipts for month, $13,896,867.38; budget receipts fiscal year July 1, $16,316,937,721.48; budget expenditures fiscal year $22,170,238,396.92; budget deficit, $5,853,300,675.44; total debt, $257,876,637,728.30; increase over previous day, $5,940,750.10; gold assets, $22,283,044,190.87.

Juror's Mother Dies at Marlborough and Panel Recall Is Made

Another unfortunate circumstance, one of many which have plagued the selection of a jury in the Edward H. Kelly first degree murder trial now on in County court, caused a further postponement in the opening of testimony today after a jury had presumably been acquired Wednesday afternoon prior to the adjournment of court.

During the night the mother of Mrs. Marion Marcks, Marlborough secretary and juror five on the panel, was seized with a heart attack and died. Mrs. Marcks was consequently excused from further service by consent of counsel. At the opennig of court this morning Judge John M. Cashin was compelled to recess the court until 2 o'clock this afternoon because of absence of jurors to be examined to fill the vacancy.

Counsel in the case agreed to recalling members of the panels which had been summoned and not examined and Sheriff Cluett Schantz was sent out to round up the jurors so an additional juror for the trial could be secured to fill the vacancy.

It was agreed by counsel that the jurors in the box be moved up one and the juror now to be selected will take the number two alternate seat. John S. Geary, Wawarsing farmer thereby becomes juror number 12 and Jane W. Cater of Kingston is the first alternate.

Six Men, Six Women

The panel of 12 who will sit in on the deliberations, should no further complications arise to make it necessary for an alternate to take a place in the box, will consist of six men and six women. These will determine the

Fourth Strip Paved West of Crossing

Completion of Small Part in Center Opens Way for Joining Gap

The fourth strip of concrete on the west side of the railroad bridge was poured in the rain yesterday on the Broadway crossing project.

The small center strip is still to be poured before that section is completed and this, it is expected, will be finished by early next week.

Shortly after the center strip is completed the contractor will be in a position to pour two lanes over the 180-foot gap between the concrete section east and west of the railroad bridge if weather permits.

If the weather is unfavorable, however, the gap, or at least two lanes in width will be filled with gravel to permit winter use of the underpass.

Sewer work on the west side of the bridge, meanwhile, is progressing slowly because of water conditions.

Pentagon Gives Figures to Reveal Program In Supplying Arms Help to Western Europe

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Pentagon, annoyed by talk that arms aid to the western European nations is lagging, gave out some item-by-item figures to show what has been done.

Whether by coincidence or otherwise, a news conference by Gen. George L. Olmsted, director of military assistance, yesterday followed a series of recent developments, including:

1. Press dispatches from Paris saying the French are concerned over slow delivery of arms aid.

2. The recent visit of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, supreme commander of western European forces, to discuss with Washington officials an increased tempo in equipping his forces.

3. A Paris meeting of Secretary of State Acheson, Secretary of Defense Lovett and W. Averell Harriman, director of the Mutual Security Agency, to discuss the arms aid problem.

Gen. Olmsted used France as an example of how the United States is keeping generally abreast of its arms aid commitments. He said that:

The allocation of tanks for France was 2,738 and that deliveries to date total 2,148. Out of an allocation of 847 105-millimeter guns, 658 have been delivered. However, plane deliveries have been somewhat slower. France has been assigned 401 F-84 Thunderjet fighter planes of a late model. These are just beginning to come off the production line. Before the end of this year, the first 19 will have been delivered and all of the allocation will be in French hands in 1952. An assignment of 46 F-84s of earlier model has been fulfilled.

Olmsted said that equipment originally allocated to equip an undisclosed number of western European divisions would be delivered to the member nations by next spring, several months ahead of the planning date first set.

In his public comments while here, Eisenhower did not say he believed there was an actual lag in arms deliveries to Europe. Those familiar with the series of conferences he held at the White House and Pentagon said the point emphasized was that there must be a speedup beyond the present schedule—that instead of a slower program to outfit more divisions a drive should be made to make battle-ready and fully-equipped up to 30 divisions by next summer.

Even while the United States was wrestling with the problem of keeping up to its current European commitments and looking into Eisenhower's plea for faster deliveries of arms, new although not unforeseen problems cropped up in another quarter. The U. S.

Taft Foresees More Troops For Europe Than 6 Divisions

By JACK BELL

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) foresees a likelihood that the United States may be asked to commit "far more than six divisions" to the defense of western Europe.

The Ohio senator said in a new book, "A Foreign Policy for Americans" that the past history of the Truman administration's handling of foreign policies makes it likely that "in another year we will be asked for more divisions" to supplement the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) forces headed by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

As a candidate for the 1952 Republican presidential nomination, Taft wrote down a barrage of criticism against President Truman, Secretary of State Acheson, Gen. George C. Marshall and other administration figures.

Taft said most presidents "have been imbued with a real determination to keep the country at peace." But he went on in a direct attack on Mr. Truman and President Franklin D. Roosevelt:

"I feel that the last two presidents have put all kinds of political and policy considerations ahead of their interest in liberty and peace."

Senator McMahon (D-Conn.), a supporter of the administration's foreign policy, promptly described Taft's book as "amazing for its blindness to the nature of the problems we face today." A member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, McMahon de-

SHOKAN NEWS

Shokan, Nov. 15 — Weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Farrell in the village center were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Michael Farrell, Jr., and four children and Mr. and Mrs. John Gang and children, all of New York. Young Farrell is employed at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and John Gang is a pressman on the Journal-American.

Ed Finn, central Broadway businessman, and Andy Buzzanco, Abeel street truckman and collector of antiques, were numbered among Kingstonians calling in the hub of the reservoir country Tuesday morning.

Tommy Hughes who farms it up at Conesville, looked out of the barn and saw a big raccoon engaged in furious combat with some of his cows. Hughes killed the 'coon whose carcass later was found to be infested with rabies. One of the cows was badly bitten on the nose.

The Queen Esther Society of the Glenford Methodist Church meets tonight with Mrs. Aaron Gray. A meeting of the Wesleyan guild of the West Hurley Church is scheduled for the same evening at the home of Mrs. Garvin Russell.

Mrs. Frank Lowe of Orchard Close, Kerhonkson, was a caller here the latter part of the week. Joan Farrell accompanied Mrs. Lowe on a trip to Kingston.

Louis Thiel has among his collection of antiques the old high desk which was used by Dr. Abram Hull in his office in the old village of Olive some 70 years ago. It was Dr. Hull, who was also postmaster, under whom John Burroughs studied medicine for a time while teaching school at Olive in his younger days. The doctor, who enjoyed an excellent reputation in northern Hurley and Olive as a family physician, was a grandfather of Mrs. Elva Bogart of Fair street, Kingston.

Henry Gebelein has completed the work of remodelling the kitchen and breakfast nook at the Gebelein home adjoining the corner store. Henry spent several weeks on this job and the pleasing results attest the local man's versatility and careful workmanship.

Theron Davis and son, Donald, of Grand George will have enough meat regardless of success in the coming deer season: they bagged a 500 pound moose in Canada and had to send for their wives to come up with a larger car to help bring the big moose home.

Birthdays falling on Thursday, Nov. 15 include that of Joseph Elefant, Ashokan groceryman. Joe came here from Trenton two years ago though he had previously resided in the lower village for a time in 1938. He married Rose Cohen 16 years ago and they have three children, Ralph, a junior at Kingston High School, Louis and Betty.

Keller Says State Business Expands

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—Business in New York state has been expanding constantly this year, State Commissioner of Commerce Harold Keller reports.

Business volume was up five per cent during the first nine months of this year, compared with last year's like period, he told the Joint Legislative Committee on Labor and Industry yesterday.

The committee's hearing on proposed changes in legislation resume today (10 a. m. EST).

Keller said that for this year's nine-month period manufacturing alone was up ten per cent and retail trade seven per cent. The national sales increase was six per cent, he added.

"The dollar gains, however, are offset somewhat by price rises," he said.

Deputy Commerce Commissioner Donald H. Davenport told the committee that while New York's business is growing, the rate is not as fast as the rest of the nation.

Davenport noted a trend in which other parts of the nation are taking over work previously done in this state. Instead of trying to fight this trend, he said, New York state should seek to develop new industries, services and ideas to maintain its important role.

Davenport added:

"As cities of considerable magnitude develop in other states, as they develop population, they will develop their own industry to meet their own needs, and our role will diminish in relative importance."

Dr. Davenport, citing television as an example, told a newsman after the hearing that New York should encourage industries that generate growth and tend to spread New York's influence.

Kerhonkson, Nov. 15—Mr. and Mrs. Ben Megal entertained a party of friends at a buffet luncheon and cards Sunday night. Those present were Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Feldshuh, Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Downs, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Nachman, Mr. and Mrs. Max Brown, Dr. and Mrs. Saul Shapiro and Mr. and Mrs. Max Geller.

Mrs. Frank Pugliese visited her husband, Frank Pugliese, at Golden Hill Sanitarium.

Abigail Stokes was a visitor in Kingston Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Carr spent Friday night with Mrs. Anna Poole and brother, Frank, at Pataukunk.

Mrs. Leo Stengle of Albany recently entertained a party of close friends and neighbors at a dinner party at which time the engagement of her daughter, Mary Elizabeth, to James Bond of Raleigh, N. C., was announced. Plans are now being made for a January wedding. Miss Stengle is well-known here, having been affiliated with the local school in the English Department for several years.

The House of Delegates of the NEA will meet for the annual meeting Nov. 19 at Rochester in the Hotel Seneca. There will be a forum Sunday night at which time delegates may air their views on matters of common interest to all. The highlight will be a banquet Monday night in the main ballroom. Miss Abigail Stokes will represent the school at this important meeting.

Gov. Thomas Dewey has designated this week as National Education Week. This will be duly observed by the school system.

Mrs. Richard J. Doyle and infant daughter, Lynn Ann, are expected home today.

Siegel's Food Market reopened Monday after alterations made necessary by the accident that caused the death of Isadore Seigel.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stockin and family motored to Montclair, N. J., Sunday when they visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Hollenbeck.

Jim Gunther, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gunther of Academy street, has returned to his naval base at Key West, Fla., after spending a leave with his parents. Seaman Gunther will serve aboard the Gilmoe, a base ship.

Mr. and Mrs. John Heusser of North Bergen, N. J., spent the weekend as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. McCauley.

The Mawah Child Study Club met with Mrs. Francis L. McCauley Tuesday night.

The Home Bureau met Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Roy Conklin.

Ed Brown, scoutmaster, and James Wynkoop, assistant scoutmaster, accompanied by the assistants, Arthur Stockin, Ed Friedman and Fred Sherman, chaperoned a group of local Scouts who attended the football game at West Point Saturday. Scouts making the trip were Donald Gunther, Bruce Cyr, William Mustin, John Mustin, Melvin Gilman, Gerald Depuy, Melvin Barnum, Arthur Stockin, Maurice Burger, Floyd Sherman, Eddie Friedman, John Beesemer and Ed Brown, Jr. Also Duane Van Etten accompanied the group as explorer advisor.

The WSCS of the Federated Church served dinner Thursday night to 28 members of the local Lions Club.

Mrs. Stanley Decker entertained Mrs. James Allison Tuesday afternoon. Both mothers were helping their infants celebrate their first month's birthday.

A number of gentlemen from here attended the Sportsman's banquet held Tuesday night at the club house in Wawarsing.

Mrs. Archie Hall Davis has returned home after after spending a few days in New York with her husband, Archie Hall Davis, prior to his embarking for Peru, South America. After Mr. Davis' departure, Mrs. Davis visited Mrs. Minnie MacIntosh.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis L. McCauley, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Heusser of North Bergen, N. J., motored to Rhinecliff Saturday where the former's son, Lawrence, played on the Cardinal Farley Military Academy football team which defeated Hudson. This coming Saturday is a big day at the school for it climaxes the football season with a father-son banquet following the final game of the season played on that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gunther entertained their son, Apprentice Jim Gunther, at dinner Thursday night at the Grossinger Hotel in Ferndale. Seaman Gunther recently graduated from the Sonor Fleet School at Key West, Fla., and has been spending his leave here.

Mary Elizabeth Stengle, daughter of Mrs. Leo Stengle of Albany, announced her engagement to James Bond of Charleston, S. C., at a recent tea at her home in Albany. Miss Stengle was for several years a member of the English Department in the school system and resided with Mrs. Ethel Decker.

Funeral services for Emanda Newman were held Tuesday from the Humiston Funeral Home at 2 p. m. with the Rev. John Pfromm officiating. Burial was made at the Wallkill Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Van Aken and daughter, Barbara, of Poughkeepsie, were Sunday guests of Mrs. James Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Doyle, Mrs. Homer Wynkoop, Jr., and son, James A., and daughter, Margaret Jane.

FOOTBALL SPORTSMANSHIP

One of the accusations frequently made about sports competition among schools and colleges is that dirty playing is tolerated, even encouraged, by some coaches who want very badly to win games. The accusation is probably heard more in relation to football than to any other team game; football is rough, and it is relatively hard to tell the difference between dirtiness and mere hard playing.

A series of pictures taken by newspaper photographers during the football game in which Johnny Bright of Drake University suffered his now famous broken jaw seems to show beyond reasonable doubt that he was a victim of intentional roughness. Opposing players deny foul play, naturally, but fans will drawn their own conclusions from the pictures, which have received nationwide publication.

The incident therefore constitues a serious indictment of collegiate football; it dovetails with other incidents of similar but less spectacular nature. Such incidents also are related to the questions of recruiting and subsidizing of players, in that all these matters stem from the motives which underlie intercollegiate sports. The motives determine how the players are taught to perform on the field, what principles they are taught to uphold. Such things as the slugging of a valuable football player and the acceptance of a bribe to hold down the score of a basketball game raise serious questions about the teaching and indoctrination connected with sports competition.

The young swain in love may complain he can't eat or sleep. At today's prices there are many who can't do both.

ROMANTIC RIDER

Modern playwrights and writers of historical romance, always on the alert for picturesque persons and events, perhaps have not fully appreciated the possibilities of the story of Paul Revere. His ride to Lexington and Concord to warn of the approach of the British soldiers is one of the best-known episodes in our history. Longfellow's poem has much to do with his fame.

There are other reasons for remembering Revere. He was a noted silversmith, and pieces bearing his initials are much sought after today. He was an engraver of skill, and created the seal which is used by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. A lover of the past, he persisted in wearing his Revolutionary costume down to his death in 1818, thereby causing much astonishment to passers-by in Boston streets.

His creative career and one adventurous feat make him an interesting personality of his times.

Some married folk are ready to agree that their respective spouses have their rights, as long as they keep them to themselves.

DEFENSE TRAINING

Men and women who will study civil defense at the Western Training Center of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, at St. Mary's College, California, will do so in a realistic setting. It is to have a street constructed as it might appear after the explosion of an enemy bomb. Smashed power poles and fallen electric lines, broken fire hydrants and the wreckage of damaged buildings will add to the reality of the scene. Dummies will be placed in the debris to simulate human casualties.

The project at St. Mary's is set up to train civil defense leaders in eleven states. It is designed to give them an opportunity to learn procedure under conditions which closely approximate those of an actual attack. Such measures may help to allay workers' fears and prepare them for working unhindered by the shock of seeing wreckage and suffering for the first time.

Trainees who see the street of nightmares that can result from a bomb hit will be impressed by the urgency of civil defense measures. The training may also help them to realize that war is no longer for distant shores only, but can be a destructive force in the streets of our own towns. Such knowledge might move us to work more energetically for peace even as we prepare for the emergencies of war.

'These Days'

By GEORGE E. SOKOLSKY

PEACE AND DEMOCRACY

The great value of letters from readers is that they keep a writer sweet and mellow, particularly those that attack him. For instance, I once received a letter from Joseph A. Prachar of Berwyn, Illinois, in which he told me off good and proper. He started like this:

"I find most of your comments primarily motivated by misunderstanding of all our democratic ideals and institutions. Your remarks smack of blind patriotism and perverted nationalism. . . ."

To some of this, I must plead guilty. I fear that I do suffer from the disease of patriotism, but whether it is the blind or the seeing kind, I have never bothered to discover. I also believe in nationalism. I belong to the United States of America and it belongs to me, and I measure all the rest of the world from that vantage point.

Maybe that is blind and perverted, but I do not know any other way of living. There are some who can spread themselves thin into an ethereal globalism, but others must keep their feet deep in some traditional soil.

Nationalism appears to be fashionable again everywhere except in the United States where such a word and its associate, "patriotism," may still be used opprobriously, as Mr. Prachar does.

Mr. Prachar, however, makes this point:

"We advocate world law and order while you preach the out-dated dogma of militarism in a world of anarchy and power politics. You propose we abandon our democratic ideals by resorting to violence and destruction. You say this without realizing it."

I advocate nothing of the sort. I do advocate the defense of the United States as a nation from enemies at home and over the seas. I do advocate the maintenance of the integrity of American life, definable in its traditions since the writing of the Declaration of Independence. It is always curious to me that few of those who now say that even self-defense is anarchy and militarism, held to those views when this country was being advocated into World War I and World War II. The war against the Kaiser was to have made the world safe for an undefined democracy; World War II was to have achieved the four freedoms.

Both those wars seemed to me unwise and unnecessary, particularly World War II, which now gives the impression of having been an historical error. Beginning in 1938 (a year before it occurred), I began to write and speak against those who advocated war on Germany because I feared Stalin more than Hitler, communism more than nazism, and the consequences of the withdrawal of powerful nations from the periphery of the Russian empire more than the existence of a madman in the heart of Europe.

Curiously, my fears have been fully verified since 1945. They have brought us into a third war, in Korea—a war that has already cost 100,000 American casualties, including 16,480 American dead.

But not favoring wars does not mean that one blindly supports every idea for world union. None of these plans answers the question of how such a blueprint for world federation or world union or world discipline or any form of globalism can be implemented when the largest group of nations in territory, manpower and resources insists upon going its own way. The United Nations is an example of how such a power as Russia can keep the world in economic unbalance as a method of warfare.

The assumption that American ideals will be imperilled by maintaining this country a national unit, strong and effective and able to keep at bay a Mongol-Slav predatory force, seems to me to have no validity in fact or in logic.

The Tolstoyan concept of non-resistance, which my correspondent advocates, is as noble pehaps as the ideals of Isaiah and Micah, who loved peace, but non-resistance would be of little avail if our homes and cities were to be bombed by an enemy.

Nor can we maintain the will to survive and the capacity to defend ourselves unless our children, in each generation, are reared to love their country and its institutions. The will to survive as a nation is as important in the defense of a people as arms and munitions. Our peril is that that will to survive is being weakened, if not vitiated, by a globalism which, while soundly conceived in ideas, is unrelated to the times in which it is being advocated.

I think I shall have to risk abuse, but I prefer patriotism and nationalism.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

ADVISE WEIGHT REDUCTION

"Persuading the 25 million adult Americans who are overweight to lose their excess poundage through intelligent dieting under medical supervision has been made a major project by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company."

I am quoting from the Medical News Department of the Journal of the American Medical Association. While many may think that excess fat is not a serious matter, not a disease but just a condition that can be controlled by a little will power, and that there is no danger, only a disadvantage in being overweight, insurance companies and health organizations know from long experience that the overweight is risking health, life itself, in allowing himself to become and remain overweight. The purpose of this project is to effect an improvement in general health by reducing the number of cases where overweight is causing various disorders and diseases of the body.

It is interesting to note the various organizations that will join in this fight of reducing weight. The records show that overweight is a factor in causing and maintaining the diseases these organizations are attempting to bring under control. Approval and active support of the nation-wide effort is being given by the American Heart Association, the American Diabetes Association and the American Dietetic Association.

"One medium by which the campaign will be carried to the public is an eight-minute animated motion picture film for theatre use entitled 'Cheers for the Chubby.' The film will be offered without rental charge to theatres throughout the country."

A key activity of the campaign will be the distribution of a booklet "Overweight and Underweight." Copies of this free booklet will be available to the public at each of the offices of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

What are the dangers of overweight that this large insurance company, aided by these large health agencies, are trying to combat?

1. Lessened life expectancy; lean men live longer.

2. Fat people have poorer chances of recovery in operations and infectious diseases.

3. Predisposition to functional diseases of the heart and blood vessels, kidneys and pancreas (diabetes.)

4. Overweights are sluggish physically and sometimes mentally, lack ambition.

If the overweight is strong physically, heart and blood vessels normal, exercise and reduction of food is best treatment. If the overweight is "soft" and middle-aged, reducing the food is safest treatment.

Maybe He Just Doesn't Care for the Sport

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—"Will-he-won't-he" Eisenhower—Governor Dewey did not meet secretly with Eisenhower at the Waldorf as reported last week. A Broadway columnist got that one mixed with a Waldorf meeting which did take place between Dewey, Senator Duff of Pennsylvania, Herbert Brownell, the Dewey GOP mentor, and Gen. Lucius Clay. Georgia-born Clay, a lifelong Democrat, is now in the Eisenhower camp. The meeting discussed ways and means of rounding up delegates despite the fact that Ike cannot declare himself until next spring....There's not the slightest question but that Ike started life as a Democrat. His first speech at the age of 18 at Abilene, Kansas, was at a Jackson Day dinner....Taftites are suspected of putting a neat one over on Arthur Krock. He reported that Ike would come over to the Taft side if the senator would desert the isolationists....It now seems certain that Ike will face President Truman in the Oregon primary—whether he likes it or not. He will also face Taft in the Republican side of that primary. Ike's name has been entered on both the GOP and Demo tickets, which makes Oregon the most significant test of political strength in the country—namely, Eisenhower vs. Taft and Eisenhower vs. Truman.

Inside Washington — Dictator Franco may be scratching the barrel back in Spain, but he seems to have plenty of dough to spend on lobbying in Washington. Chief Franco lobbyist Charles Patrick Clark sometimes passes out $20 tips to Mayflower Hotel waiters when ordering sandwiches and coffee....Down in Texas, they are not feeling so lush. The city of Houston has been struggling for some months to raise $8,510.55 to pay its entertainment bill for Douglas MacArthur. Glenn McCarthy, the Houston hotel owner, is even putting the bite on San Antonio, Ft. Worth and Austin to help out, while in Athens, Texas, (noted for peaches, peas, potatoes, peanuts, pigs, pottery, petroleum and phiddling) the folks auctioned off one can of black-eyed peas to help Glenn McCarthy. The can sold for $1.93....Chief expense of the MacArthur trip was a special airplane rented from Eastern Airlines....Taft forces don't seem one bit improverished. They have retained Julius Klein, who finessed the rank of brigadier general in the army and the presidency of the Jewish War Veterans, into a lucrative public relations business. Klein, also retained by Pan American Airways, has been headline-hunting for Taft.

Cuban Thanksgiving — Four days before our Thanksgiving, the people of Cuba, for the first time in their history, will celebrate their own Thanksgiving Day on November 18 . . . While Cuba does not have over three hundred years of tradition behind their celebration as do we, the basic idea of Thanksgiving Day should not be limited to any one country. For the Pilgrim fathers established Thanksgiving Day to thank God for helping them survive a difficult year in a free world . . . The Cuban people share our democratic birthright, and it is an important step toward the universality of Thanksgiving that they should wish to count their blessings of free thought and free speech on a day set aside for this specific purpose . . . So this year they start a tradition which should live forever with the freedom-loving people of the Republic of Cuba.

Louis B. Mayer's Taxes—Every so often an amendment sneaks into a tax bill aimed at benefiting or hitting one individual American. One was the "Marshall Field Amendment," tucked into the tax bill during the war to prevent Marshall Field from taking tax losses on the Chicago Sun. Reactionary congressmen didn't like Field's liberal newspaper, hit back with a tax amendment banning deductible losses of more than $50,000 for five straight years . . . First man to get hit by this was not Field, a Democrat, but the former Republican national committeeman from California, movie mogul Louis B. Mayer. His racing stable was in the red by more than $50,000 and he got hit with a big tax bill . . . Now it looks as if Louis B. Mayer has staged a comeback with a tax amendment all his own. Latest tax bill permits a capital gains tax for income when a former employe sells his rights to future profits to his former employer. This fits Mayer, now retiring from MGM, right down to the button. The tax bill even provides that the retiring employe must have worked for his company twenty years, with profit rights for 12 years, and be entitled to profit rights for five years after retirement. Few people outside of Louis B. Mayer, fit this picture . . . (Mayer's tax lawyer in the past has been astute Ellsworth Alvord, close friend of Senator George of Georgia, who largely writes the tax bill.)

Kansas-Missouri Floods — The Trumanites have thrown up their hands once more regarding Missouri valley authority flood control integrated with public power . . . Instead, Democratic leaders will endeavor to get a compromise through the next session of Congress, calling for a limited system of flood control dams and some power development in the Kansas river basin. This is a piecemeal plan recommended by army engineers who want to get the money out of Congress in driblets. The tragic losses caused by the Missouri-Kansas floods last summer could have been used to pass an over-all flood control-power plan for the Missouri valley, but Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman didn't have the courage to get out and lead.

Monty and Ike—Field Marshal Montgomery of Great Britain has sent a message to General Eisenhower urging him to continue as supreme allied commander. Montgomery said he had heard Ike planned to quit in February, return to the United States and run for President. Warning that western defense would fall apart when Eisenhower left, Monty urged that he reconsider. Eisenhower hasn't answered the message yet but I predict he will say no man is indispensable....Interesting thing about Montgomery's message is that he was partly sidetracked by Eisenhower when the British Army failed to keep up with General Bradley after the Normandy invasion. Later Eisenhower gave Monty two of Bradley's armies during the battle of the Bulge—a move bitterly resented by Bradley. (Perhaps Monty fears Bradley might replace Ike in Paris.)

French Friction—It wasn't in the news cables, but conference-weary Dean Acheson was called on the carpet by French Foreign Minister Schuman in Paris last week and bawled out because Americans have been encouraging independence-hungry Arab leaders in Morocco....The secretary of state was in no mood to be bawled out. Increasingly worried over relations with Russia, he told the French foreign minister that there were a lot more important things in the world than Morocco ....He also told Schuman, whom he regards as one of the most far-sighted statesmen in Europe, that the U. S. did not intend to back French colonial tactics, suggested France should worry more about Russia and less about French prestige in Africa and Asia.

8,000 Men Buried Alive

Eight thousand laborers labored for five years to construct the tomb of the first Chinese emperor, Huang Ti, who died 209 B.C. All the vast imperial treasure, amounting to millions was interred with the ruler. To preserve the secrecy of the exact spot where the great hoard was buried an extraordinary step was taken. One by one the exits to the tomb were sealed. When there was only one gate left open, the imperial camarilla ordered it closed while the laborers were still inside. Not one of them escaped and with them was hidden the secret of the exact location of the treasure hoard.

Maintenance of Relations With Red China Becomes Something Difficult to Understand

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 15—How the British government or the government of India or any other government in the world can hereafter maintain diplomatic relations with the Communist regime in China after the disclosures of barbarism just made will be difficult to understand.

The "left wing" school of thought, which in the United States and elsewhere has been insisting that military supremacy alone in a given area is all that is needed to merit diplomatic recognition, will have to abandon that narrow concept now. For the failure of any government to discharge international obligations—and that includes humane treatment of prisoners—is an even more important requirement for recognition than possession of any given area.

Thus for nearly 17 years the Communists held military supremacy over Russia, but the United States withheld recognition until an agreement was negotiated to require Russian adherence to certain international obligations.

What the Chinese Communists have done in murdering 5,790 United Nations prisoners and tens of thousands of Korean civilians would seem to deserve a denunciation so severe that no new government in China would ever be admitted to the UN or to the family nations until those Chinese responsible for the Korean crimes are punished.

The Chinese leader Mao should be tried as a war criminal some day before the UN considers admitting any new government of China. If some anti-Communist regime does some day win military supremacy in China, the American government and other governments, before extending recognition, might well demand as a first condition the execution of the Communist leaders who permitted the Korean atrocities to happen.

It will be interesting to see what the UN does about the massacre of the prisoners of war who lost their lives fighting for the UN. Certainly a resolution condemning the action and declaring that the present Chinese leaders will be held personally accountable for what has happened would serve notice throughout Asia that the western world doesn't intend to let such brutal deeds go unpunished.

Demands are arising already that the atom bomb be used on the Communists. This, however, is something wholly unrelated to the decision heretofore to withhold the use of the bomb. The military authorities have had no restraint placed upon them except one—that military effectiveness shall dictate the use of atom weapons. The argument up to now has been that not enough troop concentrations were available to drop the type of bomb which was used in World War II. But the murder of 5,500 Americans, out of the 5,790 UN prisoners reported killed by both Chinese and North Korean commanders, will make the next decision on atom bombs easier for the UN forces to apply.

Disclosure by the 8th Army's judge advocate general, Colonel James M. Hanley, of the statistics of the murders is a significant development. It tells the Chinese rulers that the UN negotiators have had no illusions about that unsettled point in the armistice talks which concerns a possible exchange of prisoners. The Communists haven't many UN prisoners left to give back, and, now that the facts are revealed, a breaking-off of truce negotiations would not be surprising. For there isn't much to negotiate with an enemy guilty of such barbarism that it violates all humane rules. Such an enemy's word on a truce agreement woud be valueless.

The horrible part of the whole story is the anguish which the latest reports will cause the parents and relatives of those boys who up to now have been listed as "missing." It had been hoped that the Chinese might have kept alive most of the prisoners. If, of course, the reports announced by Colonel Hanley are incorrect, all the Communists have to do now is to produce the prisoners and disprove the report. But the disclosure of the reports available to the American military authorities was undoubtedly decided upon because the prospect of a large number returning was considered hopeless.

Communist China is not deserving any place in the family of nations, and the UN would be justified in deciding to aid openly all elements in China which have for their objective the overthrow of the Communist rulers.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

London—A booklet that came with my passport says that the Department of State has always considered that it is improper for American citizens to interfere in the political affairs of foreign countries, as Dave Dubinsky, Walter Reuther and the Marxian front called Americans for democratic action have been doing ever since the shooting quit.

In fact, the little warning says, the department has regarded such political interference by American citizens in foreign lands as grounds for refusing them passports and registration facilities or the protection of our embassies and our flag.

But that doesn't apply to Dubinsky or Reuther or any of the agents of A.D.A. who have been meddling in European politics, even taking it upon themselves, in the case of Dubinsky and the American Federation of Labor, to set up their own independent "foreign policy" and their own organization of ambassadors under a 'minister of foreign affairs" who used to be a Communist, by the name Jay Lovestone.

As I related in my studies written on the boat, this mischief has been impudent, aggressive and defiant and I will further allege that it has been encouraged and promoted by official bureaucrats of the Democratic Party in Washington under the dirty auspices of the E.C.A.

If the State Department "has always considered it improper for American citizens to interfere in the political affairs of foreign countries" why hasn't it revoked the passports of these unioneers and ordered them back home with the alternative of losing their citizenship?

I have published parts of this story, but I want to rub it in so that when I begin to show what these people really have been up to you will understand their effrontery.

In the story which was the tip-off, David J. Dallin, a great sympathizer with unionism, wrote from Germany that the Soviet leaders were aroused because "American labor has not seen fit to restrict itself to merely functioning as a domestic economic movement."

"Rather," he continued, 'it has developed its own unique foreign policy, one which has, in significant ways, differed from that of the State Department and both political parties."

Now just who are the people constituting "American labor" who have been promoting their own "foreign policy" in illicit competition with the official foreign policy of the lawful government of the United States?

"During the recent wartime love fest with the Soviet government, the A.F. of L.—led by such men as William Green, Matthew Woll, David Dubinsky and Jay Lovestone—remained free of popular delusions about the Communist state. The A.F. of L. chose to do its own thinking."

Well, so did Pegler and so did millions of other Americans who today are minding their own business and repose no more trust in Green, Woll, Dubinsky and Lovestone than they ever reposed in Hitler, Mussolini, Roosevelt or Stalin. We are better Americans than any of these usurpers. We are real American liberals. Our motto is "keep your filthy hands off me." And don't try to take over the government of our coun-

FOOTBALL SPORTSMANSHIP

One of the accusations frequently made about sports competition among schools and colleges is that dirty playing is tolerated, even encouraged, by some coaches who want very badly to win games. The accusation is probably heard more in relation to football than to any other team game; football is rough, and it is relatively hard to tell the difference between dirtiness and mere hard playing.

A series of pictures taken by newspaper photographers during the football game in which Johnny Bright of Drake University suffered his now famous broken jaw seems to show beyond reasonable doubt that he was a victim of intentional roughness. Opposing players deny foul play, naturally, but fans will drawn their own conclusions from the pictures, which have received nationwide publication.

The incident therefore constitues a serious indictment of collegiate football; it dovetails with other incidents of similar but less spectacular nature. Such incidents also are related to the questions of recruiting and subsidizing of players, in that all these matters stem from the motives which underlie intercollegiate sports. The motives determine how the players are taught to perform on the field, what principles they are taught to uphold. Such things as the slugging of a valuable football player and the acceptance of a bribe to hold down the score of a basketball game raise serious questions about the teaching and indoctrination connected with sports competition.

The young swain in love may complain he can't eat or sleep. At today's prices there are many who can't do both.

ROMANTIC RIDER

Modern playwrights and writers of historical romance, always on the alert for picturesque persons and events, perhaps have not fully appreciated the possibilities of the story of Paul Revere. His ride to Lexington and Concord to warn of the approach of the British soldiers is one of the best-known episodes in our history. Longfellow's poem has much to do with his fame.

There are other reasons for remembering Revere. He was a noted silversmith, and pieces bearing his initials are much sought after today. He was an engraver of skill, and created the seal which is used by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts. A lover of the past, he persisted in wearing his Revolutionary costume down to his death in 1818, thereby causing much astonishment to passers-by in Boston streets.

His creative career and one adventurous feat make him an interesting personality of his times.

Some married folk are ready to agree that their respective spouses have their rights, as long as they keep them to themselves.

DEFENSE TRAINING

Men and women who will study civil defense at the Western Training Center of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, at St. Mary's College, California, will do so in a realistic setting. It is to have a street constructed as it might appear after the explosion of an enemy bomb. Smashed power poles and fallen electric lines, broken fire hydrants and the wreckage of damaged buildings will add to the reality of the scene. Dummies will be placed in the debris to simulate human casualties.

The project at St. Mary's is set up to train civil defense leaders in eleven states. It is designed to give them an opportunity to learn procedure under conditions which closely approximate those of an actual attack. Such measures may help to allay workers' fears and prepare them for working unhindered by the shock of seeing wreckage and suffering for the first time.

Trainees who see the street of nightmares that can result from a bomb hit will be impressed by the urgency of civil defense measures. The training may also help them to realize that war is no longer for distant shores only, but can be a destructive force in the streets of our own towns. Such knowledge might move us to work more energetically for peace even as we prepare for the emergencies of war.

PEACE AND DEMOCRACY

The great value of letters from readers is that they keep a writer sweet and mellow, particularly those that attack him. For instance, I once received a letter from Joseph A. Prachar of Berwyn, Illinois, in which he told me off good and proper. He started like this:

"I find most of your comments primarily motivated by misunderstanding of all our democratic ideals and institutions. Your remarks smack of blind patriotism and perverted nationalism. . . ."

To some of this, I must plead guilty. I fear that I do suffer from the disease of patriotism, but whether it is the blind or the seeing kind, I have never bothered to discover. I also believe in nationalism. I belong to the United States of America and it belongs to me, and I measure all the rest of the world from that vantage point.

Maybe that is blind and perverted, but I do not know any other way of living. There are some who can spread themselves thin into an ethereal globalism, but others must keep their feet deep in some traditional soil.

Nationalism appears to be fashionable again everywhere except in the United States where such a word and its associate, "patriotism," may still be used opprobriously, as Mr. Prachar does.

Mr. Prachar, however, makes this point:

"We advocate world law and order while you preach the out-dated dogma of militarism in a world of anarchy and power politics. You propose we abandon our democratic ideals by resorting to violence and destruction. You say this without realizing it."

I advocate nothing of the sort. I do advocate the defense of the United States as a nation from enemies at home and over the seas. I do advocate the maintenance of the integrity of American life, definable in its traditions since the writing of the Declaration of Independence. It is always curious to me that few of those who now say that even self-defense is anarchy and militarism, held to those views when this country was being advocated into World War I and World War II. The war against the Kaiser was to have made the world safe for an undefined democracy; World War II was to have achieved the four freedoms.

Both those wars seemed to me unwise and unnecessary, particularly World War II, which now gives the impression of having been an historical error. Beginning in 1938 (a year before it occurred), I began to write and speak against those who advocated war on Germany because I feared Stalin more than Hitler, communism more than nazism, and the consequences of the withdrawal of powerful nations from the periphery of the Russian empire more than the existence of a madman in the heart of Europe.

Curiously, my fears have been fully verified since 1945. They have brought us into a third war, in Korea—a war that has already cost 100,000 American casualties, including 16,480 American dead.

But not favoring wars does not mean that one blindly supports every idea for world union. None of these plans answers the question of how such a blueprint for world federation or world union or world discipline or any form of globalism can be implemented when the largest group of nations in territory, manpower and resources insists upon going its own way. The United Nations is an example of how such a power as Russia can keep the world in economic unbalance as a method of warfare.

The assumption that American ideals will be imperilled by maintaining this country a national unit, strong and effective and able to keep at bay a Mongol-Slav predatory force, seems to me to have no validity in fact or in logic.

The Tolstoyan concept of non-resistance, which my correspondent advocates, is as noble perhaps as the ideals of Isaiah and Micah, who loved peace, but non-resistance would be of little avail if our homes and cities were to be bombed by an enemy.

Nor can we maintain the will to survive and the capacity to defend ourselves unless our children, in each generation, are reared to love their country and its institutions. The will to survive as a nation is as important in the defense of a people as arms and munitions. Our peril is that that will to survive is being weakened, if not vitiated, by a globalism which, while soundly conceived in ideas, is unrelated to the times in which it is being advocated.

I think I shall have to risk abuse, but I prefer patriotism and nationalism.

ADVISE WEIGHT REDUCTION

"Persuading the 25 million adult Americans who are overweight to lose their excess poundage through intelligent dieting under medical supervision has been made a major project by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company."

I am quoting from the Medical News Department of the Journal of the American Medical Association. While many may think that excess fat is not a serious matter, not a disease but just a condition that can be controlled by a little will power, and that there is no danger, only a disadvantage in being overweight, insurance companies and health organizations know from long experience that the overweight is risking health, life itself, in allowing himself to become and remain overweight. The purpose of this project is to effect an improvement in general health by reducing the number of cases where overweight is causing various disorders and diseases of the body.

It is interesting to note the various organizations that will join in this fight of reducing weight. The records show that overweight is a factor in causing and maintaining the diseases these organizations are attempting to bring under control. Approval and active support of the nation-wide effort is being given by the American Heart Association, the American Diabetes Association and the American Dietetic Association.

"One medium by which the campaign will be carried to the public is an eight-minute animated motion picture film for theatre use entitled 'Cheers for the Chubby.' The film will be offered without rental charge to theatres throughout the country."

A key activity of the campaign will be the distribution of a booklet "Overweight and Underweight." Copies of this free booklet will be available to the public at each of the offices of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

What are the dangers of overweight that this large insurance company, aided by these large health agencies, are trying to combat?

1. Lessened life expectancy; lean men live longer.
2. Fat people have poorer chances of recovery in operations and infectious diseases.
3. Predisposition to functional diseases of the heart and blood vessels, kidneys and pancreas (diabetes.)
4. Overweights are sluggish physically and sometimes mentally, lack ambition.

If the overweight is strong physically, heart and blood vessels normal, exercise and reduction of food is best treatment. If the overweight is "soft" and middle-aged, reducing the food is safest treatment.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

Washington—"Will-he-won't-he" Eisenhower—Governor Dewey did not meet secretly with Eisenhower at the Waldorf as reported last week. A Broadway columnist got that one mixed with a Waldorf meeting which did take place between Dewey, Senator Duff of Pennsylvania, Herbert Brownell, the Dewey GOP mentor, and Gen. Lucius Clay. Georgia-born Clay, a lifelong Democrat, is now in the Eisenhower camp. The meeting discussed ways and means of rounding up delegates despite the fact that Ike cannot declare himself until next spring....There's not the slightest question but that Ike started life as a Democrat. His first speech at the age of 18 at Abilene, Kansas, was at a Jackson Day dinner....Taftites are suspected of putting a neat one over on Arthur Krock. He reported that Ike would come over to the Taft side if the senator would desert the isolationists....It now seems certain that Ike will face President Truman in the Oregon primary—whether he likes it or not. He will also face Taft in the Republican side of that primary. Ike's name has been entered on both the GOP and Demo tickets, which makes Oregon the most significant test of political strength in the country—namely, Eisenhower vs. Taft and Eisenhower vs. Truman.

Inside Washington — Dictator Franco may be scratching the barrel back in Spain, but he seems to have plenty of dough to spend on lobbying in Washington. Chief Franco lobbyist Charles Patrick Clark sometimes passes out $20 tips to Mayflower Hotel waiters when ordering sandwiches and coffee....Down in Texas, they are not feeling so lush. The city of Houston has been struggling for some months to raise $8,510.55 to pay its entertainment bill for Douglas MacArthur. Glenn McCarthy, the Houston hotel owner, is even putting the bite on San Antonio, Ft. Worth and Austin to help out, while in Athens, Texas, (noted for peaches, peas, potatoes, peanuts, pigs, pottery, petroleum and phiddling) the folks auctioned off one can of black-eyed peas to help Glenn McCarthy. The can sold for $1.93....Chief expense of the MacArthur trip was a special airplane rented from Eastern Airlines....Taft forces don't seem one bit improverished. They have retained Julius Klein, who finessed the rank of brigadier general in the army and the presidency of the Jewish War Veterans, into a lucrative public relations business. Klein, also retained by Pan American Airways, has been headline-hunting for Taft.

Cuban Thanksgiving — Four days before our Thanksgiving, the people of Cuba, for the first time in their history, will celebrate their own Thanksgiving Day on November 18 . . . While Cuba does not have over three hundred years of tradition behind their celebration as do we, the basic idea of Thanksgiving Day should not be limited to any one country. For the Pilgrim fathers established Thanksgiving Day to thank God for helping them survive a difficult year in a free world . . . The Cuban people share our democratic birthright, and it is an important step toward the universality of Thanksgiving that they should wish to count their blessings of free thought and free speech on a day set aside for this specific purpose . . . So this year they start a tradition which should live forever with the freedom-loving people of the Republic of Cuba.

Maintenance of Relations With Red China Becomes Something Difficult to Understand

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Nov. 15—How the British government or the government of India or any other government in the world can hereafter maintain diplomatic relations with the Communist regime in China after the disclosures of barbarism just made will be difficult to understand.

The "left wing" school of thought, which in the United States and elsewhere has been insisting that military supremacy alone in a given area is all that is needed to merit diplomatic recognition, will have to abandon that narrow concept now. For the failure of any government to discharge international obligations—and that includes humane treatment of prisoners—is an even more important requirement for recognition than possession of any given area.

Thus for nearly 17 years the Communists held military supremacy over Russia, but the United States withheld recognition until an agreement was negotiated to require Russian adherence to certain international obligations.

What the Chinese Communists have done in murdering 5,790 United Nations prisoners and tens of thousands of Korean civilians would seem to deserve a denunciation so severe that no new government in China would ever be admitted to the UN or to the family nations until those Chinese responsible for the Korean crimes are punished.

The Chinese leader Mao should be tried as a war criminal some day before the UN considers admitting any new government of China. If some anti-Communist regime does some day win military supremacy in China, the American government and other governments, before extending recognition, might well demand as a first condition the execution of the Communist leaders who permitted the Korean atrocities to happen.

It will be interesting to see what the UN does about the massacre of the prisoners of war who lost their lives fighting for the UN. Certainly a resolution condemning the action and declaring that the present Chinese leaders will be held personally accountable for what has happened would serve notice throughout Asia that the western world doesn't intend to let such brutal deeds go unpunished.

Demands are arising already that the atom bomb be used on the Communists. This, however, is something wholly unrelated to the decision heretofore to withhold the use of the bomb. The military authorities have had no restraint placed upon them except one—that military effectiveness shall dictate the use of atom weapons. The argument up to now has been that not enough troop concentrations were available to drop the type of bomb which was used in World War II. But the murder of 5,500 Americans, out of the 5,790 UN prisoners reported killed by both Chinese and North Korean commanders, will make the next decision on atom bombs easier for the UN forces to apply.

Disclosure by the 8th Army's judge advocate general, Colonel James M. Hanley, of the statistics of the murders is a significant development. It tells the Chinese rulers that the UN negotiators have had no illusions about that unsettled point in the armistice talks which concerns a possible exchange of prisoners. The Communists haven't many UN prisoners left to give back, and, now that the facts are revealed, a breaking-off of truce negotiations would not be surprising. For there isn't much to negotiate with an enemy guilty of such barbarism that it violates all humane rules. Such an enemy's word on a truce agreement woud be valueless.

The horrible part of the whole story is the anguish which the latest reports will cause the parents and relatives of those boys who up to now have been listed as "missing." It had been hoped that the Chinese might have kept alive most of the prisoners. If, of course, the reports announced by Colonel Hanley are incorrect, all the Communists have to do now is to produce the prisoners and disprove the report. But the disclosure of the reports available to the American military authorities was undoubtedly decided upon because the prospect of a large number returning was considered hopeless.

Communist China is not deserving any place in the family of nations, and the UN would be justified in deciding to aid openly all elements in China which have for their objective the overthrow of the Communist rulers.

AS PEGLER SEES IT

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

London—A booklet that came with my passport says that the Department of State has always considered that it is improper for American citizens to interfere in the political affairs of foreign countries, as Dave Dubinsky, Walter Reuther and the Marxian front called Americans for democratic action have been doing ever since the shooting quit.

In fact, the little warning says, the department has regarded such political interference by American citizens in foreign lands as grounds for refusing them passports and registration facilities or the protection of our embassies and our flag.

But that doesn't apply to Dubinsky or Reuther or any of the agents of A.D.A. who have been meddling in European politics, even taking it upon themselves, in the case of Dubinsky and the American Federation of Labor, to set up their own independent "foreign policy" and their own organization of ambassadors under a "minister of foreign affairs" who used to be a Communist, by the name Jay Lovestone.

As I related in my studies written on the boat, this mischief has been impudent, aggressive and defiant and I will further allege that it has been encouraged and promoted by official bureaucrats of the Democratic Party in Washington under the dirty auspices of the E.C.A.

If the State Department "has always considered it improper for American citizens to interfere in the political affairs of foreign countries" why hasn't it revoked the passports of these unioneers and ordered them back home with the alternative of losing their citizenship?

I have published parts of this story, but I want to rub it in so that when I begin to show what these people really have been up to you will understand their effrontery.

In the story which was the tip-off, David J. Dallin, a great sympathizer with unionism, wrote from Germany that the Soviet leaders were aroused because "American labor has not seen fit to restrict itself to merely functioning as a domestic economic movement."

"Rather," he continued, 'it has developed its own unique foreign policy, one which has, in significant ways, differed from that of the State Department and both political parties."

Now just who are the people constituting "American labor" who have been promoting their own "foreign policy" in illicit competition with the official foreign policy of the lawful government of the United States?

"During the recent wartime love fest with the Soviet government, the A.F. of L.—led by such men as William Green, Matthew Woll, David Dubinsky and Jay Lovestone—remained free of popular delusions about the Communist state. The A.F. of L. chose to do its own thinking."

Well, so did Pegler and so did millions of other Americans who today are minding their own business and repose no more trust in Green, Woll, Dubinsky and Lovestone than they ever reposed in Hitler, Mussolini, Roosevelt or Stalin. We are better Americans than any of these usurpers. We are real American liberals. Our motto is "keep your filthy hands off me." And don't try to take over the government of our coun-

Looking at a hand in a newspaper is not quite the same thing as holding it at the bridge table. As a player, you get only one chance to make the right play; as a reader, you get as many chances as you want.

Even so, here's a little challenge. Imagine that you hold the East cards and that your partner opens the king of hearts against the contract of three spades. Find the right defense. Take as many tries as you like; if you find the correct defense you're one player in ten thousand.

While you're thinking, let's see what happens if the defense is a matter of routine. Hearts are continued, and South ruffs the third round. South draws three rounds of trumps (two rounds of trumps would be slightly more expert, but it doesn't matter in this case), cashes the top clubs and gives up a club.

Maybe the defenders come to life so that West manages to win the third club trick. (East drops his jack and queen). He leads a fourth heart, and South ruffs with his last trump. Dummy saves the last club and the two diamond honors. Dummy must get in with a diamond to cash the established five of clubs. That is declarer's ninth trick, so he makes his contract.

Are you ready with the right answer by now? Make your mind up before you read any farther.

East should overtake the king of hearts with the ace of hearts at the first trick. Then East returns the six of diamonds at the second trick.

Simple, isn't it? But also quite devastating. This defense holds South to only eight tricks.

West plays the nine of diamonds, forcing dummy to win the second trick with the queen of diamonds. South cannot prevent West from gaining the lead with a heart. And West will then lead the jack of diamonds, giving the defenders two tricks in that suit. The defense thus surely takes two hearts, two diamonds, and a club, setting the contract.

Incidentally, don't dismiss this defense as an impossible play. Robert de Nexon, the great French expert, actually made the play in a European tournament some years ago.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Despite a record turkey crop this year, prices of the traditional Thanksgiving Day feast bird will average slightly higher than last year.

Final prices for turkeys in the big buying days next week will not be set until about Monday. And spokesmen for major store chains and independents said little change was expected between now and then, so shoppers generally can expect to pay about four to five cents a pound more than a year ago.

A crop estimated at around 52,800,000 birds, or about one-sixth larger than last year's, will assure plenty of turkeys. The popular eight to 12 pound sizes may be in somewhat tight supply in a few scattered places, but food men agreed that with a little shopping around, housewives would be able to order just about anything they needed, from "broiler" sizes up to the big 30-pounders in demand for family reunions and church suppers.

Reason for Prices

Why are prices up? For one thing, poultry men say, the military has taken a hefty amount of that big crop. Also, according to the Poultry and Egg National Board, a lot of the turkeys produced this year were small broilers and Beltsville whites. Folks have been eating them at a good clip ever since May, which trimmed down the supplies available for Thanksgiving.

A buyer for a large store chain said he believed some growers were holding back turkeys in the expectation that prices would climb even higher by Christmas time.

The cranberry crop this year is somewhat below last year's record but still a big one—916,000 barrels. Prices have been edging upward for the past two weeks but are expected to stay only slightly above a year ago.

Most Are Plentiful

Most of the other foods of interest to holiday menu-planners are plentiful, too, and many will be featured specials in big-volume stores this week-end. They include celery, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, chestnuts and walnuts, oranges, several varieties of apples, pie crust mixes and plum pudding.

Meat prices followed an irregular trend this week. New ceiling adjustments by the Office of Price Stabilization, effective on Tuesday, resulted in some sharp increases in prices of veal, lamb and mutton, but the changes were not uniform and varied widely.

Leg of lamb, for example, was unchanged to as much as 10 cents a pound higher, with part of the increase blamed on localized shortages.

Pork prices also showed wide fluctuations in some marketing areas, with center cut chops up as much as 10 cents a pound in scattered sections, off as much as 17 cents in others. Meat sources said sharp reductions last week caused brief buying spurts in some areas and cleaned out supplies, bringing price rallies.

Beef prices were mostly steady.

Chicken was unchanged to six cents a pound higher and top grade eggs advanced one to four cents in the majority of markets, compared with last weekend.

On fresh produce counters, cabbage, tomatoes, brussels sprouts and spinach all were lower, reflecting heavier supplies. Carrots and snap beans advanced.

Wholesale food prices posted the first upturn in six weeks, according to the Dun & Bradstreet food index which advanced to $6.67 from last week's $6.64 (the 1951 low to date). A year ago the index was $6.58. It represents the total wholesale cost of one pound each of 31 general use foods.

The U. S. Geological Survey says the so-called "saber-tooth tiger" of 25,000,000 years ago was neither a true tiger nor a cat.

Tops Texas

Denver, (AP) — Colorado's Gov. Dan Thornton had a turnip dinner the other night. One turnip did it, too. It was a 6-pound giant grown by Charles Storm at Silver Plume, a Colorado mountain village. The governor commented the turnip was "even bigger than they grow in Texas." Thornton is a native of the Lone Star state.

Weekly Food Review

(By The Associated Press)

Despite a record turkey crop this year, prices of the traditional Thanksgiving Day feast bird will average slightly higher than last year.

Final prices for turkeys in the big buying days next week will not be set until about Monday. And spokesmen for major store chains and independents said little change was expected between now and then, so shoppers generally can expect to pay about four to five cents a pound more than a year ago.

A crop estimated at around 52,800,000 birds, or about one-sixth larger than last year's, will assure plenty of turkeys. The popular eight to 12 pound sizes may be in somewhat tight supply in a few scattered places, but food men agreed that with a little shopping around, housewives would be able to order just about anything they needed, from "broiler" sizes up to the big 30-pounders in demand for family reunions and church suppers.

Reason for Prices

Why are prices up? For one thing, poultry men say, the military has taken a hefty amount of that big crop. Also, according to the Poultry and Egg National Board, a lot of the turkeys produced this year were small broilers and Beltsville whites. Folks have been eating them at a good clip ever since May, which trimmed down the supplies available for Thanksgiving.

A buyer for a large store chain said he believed some growers were holding back turkeys in the expectation that prices would climb even higher by Christmas time.

The cranberry crop this year is somewhat below last year's record but still a big one—916,000 barrels. Prices have been edging upward for the past two weeks but are expected to stay only slightly above a year ago.

Most Are Plentiful

Most of the other foods of interest to holiday menu-planners are plentiful, too, and many will be featured specials in big-volume stores this week-end. They include celery, sweet potatoes, tomatoes, chestnuts and walnuts, oranges, several varieties of apples, pie crust mixes and plum pudding.

Meat prices followed an irregular trend this week. New ceiling adjustments by the Office of Price Stabilization, effective on Tuesday, resulted in some sharp increases in prices of veal, lamb and mutton, but the changes were not uniform and varied widely.

Leg of lamb, for example, was unchanged to as much as 10 cents a pound higher, with part of the increase blamed on localized shortages.

Pork prices also showed wide fluctuations in some marketing areas, with center cut chops up as much as 10 cents a pound in scattered sections, off as much as 17 cents in others. Meat sources said sharp reductions last week caused brief buying spurts in some areas and cleaned out supplies, bringing price rallies.

Beef prices were mostly steady.

Chicken was unchanged to six cents a pound higher and top grade eggs advanced one to four cents in the majority of markets, compared with last weekend.

On fresh produce counters, cabbage, tomatoes, brussels sprouts and spinach all were lower, reflecting heavier supplies. Carrots and snap beans advanced.

Wholesale food prices posted the first upturn in six weeks, according to the Dun & Bradstreet food index which advanced to $6.67 from last week's $6.64 (the 1951 low to date). A year ago the index was $6.58. It represents the total wholesale cost of one pound each of 31 general use foods.

The U. S. Geological Survey says the so-called "saber-tooth tiger" of 25,000,000 years ago was neither a true tiger nor a cat.

Tops Texas

Denver, (AP) — Colorado's Gov. Dan Thornton had a turnip dinner the other night. One turnip did it, too. It was a 6-pound giant grown by Charles Storm at Silver Plume, a Colorado mountain village. The governor commented the turnip was "even bigger than they grow in Texas." Thornton is a native of the Lone Star state.

KRUMVILLE

Krumville, Nov. 15—Miss Beatrice Brown of Modena spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Raymond Markle.

Mrs. Kurt Hahn is improving slowly after being ill for several days.

The local school was closed Monday in observance of Armistice Day.

Several from this community attended the funeral Saturday for Virgil Gordon at the Olive Bridge Church. Mr. Gordon was well-known in this section.

Alice, Clara and Helen Davis who are employed in Kingston spent the holiday weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Davis.

Children of the local school have invited their parents to visit the school in honor of National Education Week.

Mrs. Florence Donahue and granddaughter, Barbara, called on Mrs. Katie Davis and family last week. Mrs. Donahue is a former resident of Krumville.

Owls Club

November 12-15 are Bundle Days at MJM under the sponsorship of the Owls Club, the girls' service organization. During these days clothing will be collected for the "Save the Children Federation" as well as for specific schools in Kentucky, sponsored directly by the MJM School.

The Owls Club adviser is Miss Elsie Phillips. Owls Club representatives are Ruth Ann Hart, Alice Reilly, Lola Gray, Betty Lou Barth, Joan Gelbert, Joan Slater, Carol Joseph, Arlene Van Allen, Patricia Melville, Melinda O'Dell, Essie Jackson, Maureen Kelly, Francine Turck, Diane Guistino, Virginia Sims, Sheila Blakely, Shirley Ziros, Patricia Ricketson, Dolores La Torre, Mary Lou Ruffing, Marilyn Black, Lorraine Passante, Constance Williams.

School Pess Project

In cooperation with the Ulster County Chapter of National Tuberculosis Association and other schools of the county, the MJM newspaper, Chatter, will conduct a project in publishing editorials, stories, and cartoons publicizing the Christmas Seal sale. Students of the school are urged to contribute entries, the winning article and cartoon to be printed in the Christmas issue of the school paper.

The editor-in-chief of Chatter is David Eighmey. Other editors include: Seymour Semilof, sports; John Tomaseski, assistant sports; Betty Ahlers, club; Emily Goodyear, assistant club; Sherrill Phillips, art. Associate editors are: Ruth Hart, Carol Rose, Martin Gerstenzang, Arthur Beck, Judith Petro, Lorraine Etienne, Fred Bruhn, Edward Zwick.

The faculty advisor for Chatter is Mrs. Beatrice V. Cullum.

National Book Week

During book week Nov. 12-18, Miss Ruth Van Orden, librarian, and her junior librarians group, have planned several activities. These include appropriate bulletin board displays and special book reviews in Chatter written by Judith Petro and Clarence Campbell. This year's National Book Week poster was done by Miss Marcia Brown, a former Kingston High School student.

MJM Football

Last week three games were played in the intramural football league: Green defeated Orange 24-20; Blue defeated Green 13-0; Maroon defeated Orange 25-6.

The league standings are as follows:

	W	L	Tied
Maroon	4	0	1
Green	2	3	0
Orange	0	5	0

MJM coaches are Albert Gruner and Sheffield Nasser.

Nicholas Murray Butler and Professor Brander Matthews, of Columbus University, were having a conversation and Professor Matthews was giving his ideas as to plagarism, from an article of his own on that subject.

Professor Matthews — In the case of the first man to use an anecdote, there is originality; with the third, it is lack of originality; and with the fourth it is drawing from a common stock.

President—Yes, and in the case of the fifth, it is research.

Hired Man—Boss, my wife told me to ask you for a raise.

Boss—Okay, I'll ask my wife if I can give it to you.

Although there are a great number of men who like a vest for warmth and also to carry a few extra pieces of machinery, it would appear that suits with them are going to be rare this year.

Two judges were arrested for speeding. When they arrived in court no other judge was present, so they decided to try each other. The first judge went up to the bench and said: "You are charged with exceeding the speed limit. How do you plead? Guilty," was the answer. "You are hereby fined five dollars." "Hmmm," said the other judge, "these cases are becoming far too common. This is the second case of this sort we've had this morning. I hereby fine you ten dollars or ten days in jail."

George—What's the difference between kissing your wife and kissing your sweetheart?

John—Oh, just a matter of time.

Lie Detector Catches Fib

Michigan City, Ind. (AP) — A lie detector caught a girl employe of St. Anthony Hospital in a fib about her age. She was being questioned about the disappearance of a baby from the hospital. She answered all questions satisfactorily until asked about her age. She gave it as 18 years. The questioning officer looked at the instrument and said: "Are you sure?" The girl blushed. "I'm a year younger," she admitted.

Israel, Topic of Rabbi Bloom at Rotary Luncheon

Speaking on the subject, "Israel the Outpost of Democracy" at the Rotary Club luncheon-meeting Wednesday at the Hotel Stuyvesant, Rabbi Herbert I Bloom of Temple Emanuel declared that there is no animosity between the Arabs and the Jews but there is animosity on the part of the Arab leaders, who no longer are able to use the Arab masses as slaves and chattels. And the disunity of the Arabs together with the terrible conditions existing there enabled the jews to establish a democracy in Israel.

Forced to go there because other lands had rejected them, these streams of homeless, who were denied food and sustenance, established a homeland with the ideal of democracy and with humanitarian vision. Concerned with democracy, the United States was the first to recognize Israel.

In the struggle for Israel, he said, the Jews were not interested in dead Arabs or dead anybody else.

In the brief time allotted, the local rabbi touched upon other topics in relation to Israel including the question of Arab refugees, which he admitted was in a bad state and that there was a dire situation, which should be helped. However, he said, the claims of the Arab leaders that all should be taken back in Israel are unfair.

On the American Jew, he asserted, that the American Jewish Community always will be American and those who wish to go to Israel will go there of their own choosing. But American Jews are interested because they are Americans.

In conclusion, he stated that the American vision and the Israeli vision have a common source—The Bible—with its common bonds in the dignity of man. Today there is a crisis. We believe that man is made in the image of God and is not expendable. The Totalitarian state declares that man is expendable.

If Israel should not survive and die, probity and decency will not survive anywhere.

Rescue Crews Find

bodies were battered to bits by the crash.

The plane itself appeared to be in one piece, with only small bits of wreckage scattered over an area of some 80 square yards. Its two engines had buried themselves into the snow-crusted soil and the fuselage apparently had burst open. Half the twin tail assembly was burned, but the other part was intact.

A team of French soldiers first sighted the wreckage just after dawn. They had trekked afoot and on skis all night, through a three-foot snow layer, to reach the crash scene. Later they were joined by 10 U. S. Air Force rescue workers.

The plane disappeared Tuesday on a routine flight from Frankfurt to Bordeaux with 29 airmen, a U. S. soldier and six crewmen aboard. It crashed into a peak in the Mont Dore group some 20 miles south of Clermont Ferrand.

The names of the victims have been withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Taft Foresees . . .

clared the Taft views reflected "total ignorance of a sound foreign policy for the United States."

Perhaps in reply to Taft's criticism of Mr. Truman and the late President Roosevelt, McMahon said:

"Sentence after sentence (of the book) contains a quotation out of context or a distorted statement, all woven together to support a politically expedient but factually incorrect conclusion."

Praising administration policy, McMahon said it "stopped Soviet expansion in every area of the world which Russia did not occupy with its own troops during the war."

Taft wrote that he doesn't go along with those who think this country can withdraw to its own shores. He said he believes the threat of Russian aggression is "so serious today that in defense of the liberty and peace of the people of the United States I think we are justified in extending economic aid and military aid to many countries * * *."

But he said he is not for any permanent program calling for "a global plan for general free assistance to all mankind, on an organized scale as part of our foreign policy."

Taft, who opposed the North Atlantic Treaty and agreed with reluctance to the contribution of six American divisions to the North Atlantic Treaty forces, said it was "encouraging" that Eisenhower "by the force of his personality made so much headway in persuading the European nations of the tremendous importance of arming thmselves in a joint defense."

Eisenhower is being boomed by some Republicans as a possible candidate against Taft for the 1952 Republican presidential nomination.

Taft said the United States has no choice now but to "complete as rapidly as possible the arming of western Europe if it desires to be armed."

"That policy was decided on in the Atlantic Pact and I am in favor of carrying out this commitment, as worked out by the council and General Eisenhower under the pact," the Ohioian declared.

Charging that the Truman administration's "lack of policy" brought on the Korean War, Taft said the same basic policies should be applied to Asia as to Europe —"to check communism at every possible point where it is within our capacity to do so."

In a foreword Taft said he had published his book "to emphasize the fact that the freedom of the people of the United States is in serious danger from the foreign policy of the present administration."

Contending that the executive departments were claiming more and more power, he declared:

"If the present trend continues it seems obvious that the President will become a complete dictator to force upon Congress all kinds of domestic policies which must necessarily follow."

Talks About Pearls

Jack J. Felsenfeld of New York, a 35-year veteran of the pearl business, was speaker at the monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the Old First Dutch Church Wednesday night. His illustrated talk described the process of raising cultured pearls in the pearl farms of Japan, which he visited several times on buying trips. He was secured as a speaker through Safford and Scudder, local jewelers.

Patents Boomed

An average of 451 patents weekly were granted by the U. S. Patent Office during 1948, as compared with 335 in 1947 and 430 in 1946.

In the brief time allotted, the local rabbi touched upon other topics in relation to Israel including the question of Arab refugees, which he admitted was in a bad state and that there was a dire situation, which should be helped. However, he said, the claims of the Arab leaders that all should be taken back in Israel are unfair.

On the American Jew, he asserted, that the American Jewish Community always will be American and those who wish to go to Israel will go there of their own choosing. But American Jews are interested because they are Americans.

In conclusion, he stated that the American vision and the Israeli vision have a common source—The Bible—with its common bonds in the dignity of man. Today there is a crisis. We believe that man is made in the image of God and is not expendable. The Totalitarian state declares that man is expendable.

If Israel should not survive and die, probity and decency will not survive anywhere.

Rescue Crews Find

bodies were battered to bits by the crash.

The plane itself appeared to be in one piece, with only small bits of wreckage scattered over an area of some 80 square yards. Its two engines had buried themselves into the snow-crusted soil and the fuselage apparently had burst open. Half the twin tail assembly was burned, but the other part was intact.

A team of French soldiers first sighted the wreckage just after dawn. They had trekked afoot and on skis all night, through a three-foot snow layer, to reach the crash scene. Later they were joined by 10 U. S. Air Force rescue workers.

The plane disappeared Tuesday on a routine flight from Frankfurt to Bordeaux with 29 airmen, a U. S. soldier and six crewmen aboard. It crashed into a peak in the Mont Dore group some 20 miles south of Clermont Ferrand.

The names of the victims have been withheld pending notification of next of kin.

Taft Foresees . . .

clared the Taft views reflected "total ignorance of a sound foreign policy for the United States."

Perhaps in reply to Taft's criticism of Mr. Truman and the late President Roosevelt, McMahon said:

"Sentence after sentence (of the book) contains a quotation out of context or a distorted statement, all woven together to support a politically expedient but factually incorrect conclusion."

Praising administration policy, McMahon said it "stopped Soviet expansion in every area of the world which Russia did not occupy with its own troops during the war."

Taft wrote that he doesn't go along with those who think this country can withdraw to its own shores. He said he believes the threat of Russian aggression is "so serious today that in defense of the liberty and peace of the people of the United States I think we are justified in extending economic aid and military aid to many countries * * *."

But he said he is not for any permanent program calling for "a global plan for general free assistance to all mankind, on an organized scale as part of our foreign policy."

Taft, who opposed the North Atlantic Treaty and agreed with reluctance to the contribution of six American divisions to the North Atlantic Treaty forces, said it was "encouraging" that Eisenhower "by the force of his personality made so much headway in persuading the European nations of the tremendous importance of arming thmselves in a joint defense."

Eisenhower is being boomed by some Republicans as a possible candidate against Taft for the 1952 Republican presidential nomination.

Taft said the United States has no choice now but to "complete as rapidly as possible the arming of western Europe if it desires to be armed."

"That policy was decided on in the Atlantic Pact and I am in favor of carrying out this commitment, as worked out by the council and General Eisenhower under the pact," the Ohioian declared.

Charging that the Truman administration's "lack of policy" brought on the Korean War, Taft said the same basic policies should be applied to Asia as to Europe —"to check communism at every possible point where it is within our capacity to do so."

In a foreword Taft said he had published his book "to emphasize the fact that the freedom of the people of the United States is in serious danger from the foreign policy of the present administration."

Contending that the executive departments were claiming more and more power, he declared:

"If the present trend continues it seems obvious that the President will become a complete dictator to force upon Congress all kinds of domestic policies which must necessarily follow."

Talks About Pearls

Jack J. Felsenfeld of New York, a 35-year veteran of the pearl business, was speaker at the monthly meeting of the Men's Club of the Old First Dutch Church Wednesday night. His illustrated talk described the process of raising cultured pearls in the pearl farms of Japan, which he visited several times on buying trips. He was secured as a speaker through Safford and Scudder, local jewelers.

Patents Boomed

Smith Suggests Arts as Vehicle For Expression

People everywhere today are reaching out in all directions for a means of obtaining inner security, and, although limitless resources are made available for scientific research, little or nothing is provided to nourish the creative arts so necessary to the soul, Carleton Smith, director of National Arts Foundation, told more than 100 members and guests of the Kingston National Dinner Club at the Governor Clinton Hotel last night.

Mr. Smith paid tribute to the scientists but he stated that the strong tendency evident in this country towards "escapism" can only be overcome through the release of the imagination provided through expresion in the creative arts.

Necessity for Education

He criticized the leading universities in the country because they do not furnish a home for the creative artist as they do for the scientist. Our business is to train the men to like the arts and I do not believe our universities do that. The men do not know how to look at a painting, hear a musical composition, or really enjoy the drama."

In the speaker's opinion, education for liking the creative arts must begin in the grade school. He cited for an example the fact that children are full of imagination and have a natural desire to express everything but after three or four years of absorbing the standard teaching techniques, they don't want to express anything.

In this regard, Mr. Smith believes that the education must begin with the teacher's teacher in order that the young children might eventually benefit. He was frank to state that undoubtedly years would elapse before the results of such teaching would prove fruitful but regardless of the time element, he asserted it was perhaps the most important phase of teaching to be encouraged in these trying times.

"We all realize that in the next years we will have much less to eat, fewer gadgets, but we have so much more than any people in the world and so very much for which to be grateful," he said.

Mr. Smith has just recently returned from Europe where he spends a great deal of time interviewing leading personalities in all fields of creative arts. He spoke of the freedoms enjoyed in America as compared to other countries.

Art for Propaganda

In Russia, all phases of the arts are used for propaganda purposes. There, the people who create want to do exactly what Stalin wants them to do but it is difficult for them to find out what he really wants. "Their theatre is wonderful, so far as their performance is concerned." He told his listeners the Russians take their folk songs using a new text to prove to the people how much better life is under the Communist regime than it was under the Czars.

After abolishing "easy divorce" in Russia, Beethoven's opera "Fidelio" was presented and the theme of women helping their husbands was promoted. A reproduction of "a large fat dove" by Picasso is seen everywhere the listeners were told. More propaganda to present the Russians as a peace loving people, he stated.

About the rank and file of the Russian people, the speaker said, "I think it is a great mistake for us to think we are going to be contaminated by Communists. It is wrong for us to get hysterical with fear. They, the Russians, are really afraid of us." He spoke of the fact that the Russian people have been living in a jail for the past twenty years and in his opinion any American who lived under similar conditions without access to the outside world would fare no better. The Russians he described as a "very magnificent people" but they are "the victims of the gangsters who are ruling them."

Mr. Smith during his years of collecting folk songs throughout the world had two interviews with Stalin whom he described as an "unemotional man," whose face was a complete mask for his real thoughts.

Satisfied to Sit Back

In his opinion the only thing that will touch off the third world war will be an accident, because he is firmly convinced that the Russians hope to conquer the world by a cold war and not by combat fighting, unless they can get their satellites to do the fighting for them. They are perfectly satisfied to sit back and wait for us to go bankrupt, he stated.

The motion picture is another form of art used abroad for propaganda purposes. It was reported that the Russian government purchases all of the worst pictures made in this country and those are presented to the people as being descriptive of our way of life and it is largely because of this form of propaganda that Europeans have such a misconception of us.

Art for Humanity

Everyone should be taught early in life to enjoy the arts, the large assemblage was told. It is a wonderful escape but more important they learned, the arts are really a way of understanding oneself. Said Mr. Smith, "It is more difficult to live with one's self than with your neighbor, and because humanity does not change very much, the arts are a means of discourse for all peoples.

The same problems that were true in the Bible days are happening today, he asserted, as he discussed briefly the basis for great art in any phase, and urged those present to "give yourselves to the arts . . . whatever art you happen to like, you should learn something about it; it is all free. The real reason for knowing the arts is that you get some inner security from it. I sometimes think Europeans are right, we are trying to run away from ourselves; we are afraid of our responsibilities; we have built the most wonderful country in the world, but we do not feel secure."

As his talk came to an end, he asked, "Do we want to escape ourselves or do we want to understand ourselves?" Offering participation in the creative arts as a most rewarding hobby, he suggested the quotation which he noted on Winston Churchill's calendar, "If men would only understand each other, they would neither idolize nor hate each other."

National Arts Foundation

The National Arts Foundation, of which Mr. Smith is director, has two fundamental purposes: first, to encourage creative interpretation and appreciation of the arts; and secondly, to increase the exchange of art and artists between countries.

Mr. Smith said the foundation is working to build up a reserve which will allow a large cash award in the arts, similar to the Nobel prize. He believes in this way to help refute the propaganda that Americans are mad materialists. Art, he stated, is a language all peoples can understand.

He strongly believes that in the future the arts will turn to industry and labor unions to contribute and sponsor the arts because with taxation continuing to mount, individuals who have sponsored these efforts in the past, will not be able to afford to continue.

President Clair S. Sheaffer presided, welcomed the guests and new members, and announced that the next meeting of the Dinner Club would take place January 8. John Henry Faulk, CBS television star and American humorist, will be the guest speaker. His topic will be "Speaking of People."

Pentagon Gives

and Yugoslavia signed an agreement providing terms upon which American military aid will go to the Balkan nation which broke from Russia's family of satellites.

Some small arms, artillery and vehicles already have been delivered to Yugoslavia as the result of negotiations which started last June. But now, because Yugoslavia becomes fully eligible to a share of the $7,328,000,000 foreign aid program, the problem becomes more complex.

Moreover, some of Yugoslavia's critical needs are in the very items where American supply sources are hardest pressed.

Olmsted included jet planes among the weapons needed by Yugoslavia. From other sources, it was learned that her requirements appear to embrace all types of aircraft.

It has been announced by Attorney Arthur B. Ewig, president of the Jewish Community Center of Kingston, that the board of directors will be represented November 18 at the 36th annual conference of the New York State Section of the National Jewish Welfare Board in Albany.

More than 30,000 adults, youth and children are affiliated with the state section through which JWB serves the Jewish center movement and communities, leaders of which will take up important questions at the conference.

The keynote speech at a November 17 session in the DeWitt Clinton Hotel will be delivered by Gustav P. Heller of Newark, N. J., prominent in community center work and civic activities. He is a trustee of the Jewish Community Council of Essex county, the Community Chest of the Oranges and Maplewood and the New Jersey Symphony Orchestra. He is active in the United Jewish Appeal and is on the National Jewish Welfare Board.

Many other prominent speakers are scheduled on the program, a portion of which will be devoted on Saturday to the subject How to Make the Sabbath More Meaningful to Jewish Youth.

Local Death Record

Edward J. Heckel

The funeral of Edward J. Heckel, 50, of 122 Downs street, who was found hanged on a cattle car off Cornell street Wednesday morning, will be held from the parlors of A. Carr & Son, 1 Pearl street, Friday at 2 p. m. Police found a note pinned on his coat asking that two men and the funeral home be notified, and Coroner Ernest A. Kelly gave a verdict of suicide. Rosendale Church Men Will Meet on Monday

Rosendale, Nov. 15—An important meeting for all men of All Saints Episcopal Church, Rosendale, will be held Monday, Nov. 19, at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. Charles H. Brieant, vicar, requests a large attendance to consider many important matters affecting the church program and every member canvass now underway and also to consider tentative plans for 75th anniversary of All Saints Church during the Easter period of 1952.

Also invited to attend meeting are all former male members of the parish as well as Episcopalians in Rosendale area who have recently located in this section and at present not affiliated with local parish. Further information may be obtained at the service Sunday, Nov. 18 at 8 a. m. or by contacting the Rev. Charles H. Brieant, phone High Falls 4881.

Pupils Pay Visit To Local Library

Several local elementary school classes have visited the Kingston Public Library this week in observance of Children's Book Week.

The Sixth Grade pupils of Miss Dorothy E. vanGaasbeck, School No. 7, visited the library on Tuesday. They were welcomed by Miss Mary Schaeffer, librarian, who explained the purpose of the library in a clear and interesting manner. The children were invited to browse among the large collection of children's books, including the special exhibit of recent publications. Before leaving, each child voluntarily filled out a borrower's card and took a book home.

Another section of sixth grade pupils from No. 7 School, under Miss Sadie Feldman, was planning to visit the library later this week.

Parents are also invited to visit the library with their children this week.

Deputies to Aid Truckers in Area

Edgar J. Dempsey, deputy county clerk in charge of the Motor Vehicle Bureau office on Main street, recommends that truck owners take advantage of the presence of examiners who will be at the Motor Vehicle Bureau office, 34 Main street, Friday to assist in preparation of the initial truck mileage tax report.

These examiners will be from the Truck Mileage Tax Bureau, which is entirely separate from the Motor Vehicle Bureau, and therefore the information needed to complete this report is not available under ordinary circumstances at the Motor Vehicle Bureau office.

Congressmen Tour

Singapore (AP) — Two American congressmen passed through Singapore from Bangkok enroute to Australia. They were Rep. Monroe Redden of North Carolina and Rep. Fred L. Crawford of Michigan. They are members of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs. With them was Irwin Silverman, Chief Counsel, Office of Territories, Department of Interior.

Big Fishing Year

Regina, Sask., (AP)—Saskatchewan's well-known fishing spot at Lac La Ronge had a record number of fishermen this year. Estimates are that about 6,000 visitors, mostly Americans, took more than 270,000 pounds of fish from the lake, mainly lake trout, pike and pickerel.

Quoted by Russians

Moscow, Nov. 15 (AP)—A recent issue of Colliers magazine dealing with the aftermath of an imaginary war with Russia is being widely quoted by the Moscow press to show Soviet readers that America plans to invade and destroy the U.S.S.R.

Truman to . . .

after his "State of the Union," budget and economic messages are delivered.

And he added, he may even wait a little later.

Under questioning, the President said he would ask further changes in the Taft-Hartley Act which has been the frequent target of union leaders, but he would not disclose them at this time.

The President sat on a tree-shaded lawn of the "Little White House" in a blue sea shore, seagull sport shirt open at the neck, blue trousers and white shoes.

He was asked about a story out of Pusan, Korea in which U. S. Eighth Army charged the Reds with murdering about 5,500 American prisoners of war.

'Most Uncivilized'

It's a horrible thing, the President said. No facts have reached him as yet, he said, but he declared it is the most uncivilized thing that has happened in the last century if this is true.

But he wouldn't comment on whether it would bring closer the day when he might use the atomic bomb in Korea.

The Pusan story to which the President referred also charged the killing of British, Turkish, Belgian and other prisoners of war, and Mr. Truman's remarks covered his sorrow at their reported massacre.

The President also told the conference:

1. Re French President Auriol's suggestion of a "Big Four" meeting to relieve international tension: His views haven't changed that the United Nations is the proper forum for settling world disputes.

2. He still has hope that an American-French-British proposal for reduction of atomic and other weapons will get favorable Russian reaction eventually because of the Russian people's longing for peace. If the Soviet foreign minister did, as he said, laugh all night after hearing of it, the President said it was the first time in his life Vishinsky ever had a hearty laugh that he knew of.

3. That Republican Gov. Earl Warren of California, who announced for the GOP presidential nomination yesterday, is a fine man. He said he once said Warren was a Democrat and didn't know it, and that that still goes.

4. He did not believe the Korean war should be an issue of the 1952 campaign. This was in response to criticism by Senator Taft of Ohio, Republican presidential aspirant, over the U. S. getting into the conflict.

Dedicate School Friday Evening

The new $800,000 Tri-Valley School at Grahamsville will be dedicated Friday at 8:15 p. m. with an address by Williard E. Goslin, champion of promoting modern educational methods in the classroom.

Unite for Freedoms is the topic of the speaker who is chairman of the division of administration and community development at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn.

More than 30 state and national civic and educational leaders are expected to attend.

The school is said to be one of the most functional and attractive educational plants in the nation, serving the mountainous area surrounding and including the two huge New York city aqueducts now under construction. It took two years to build.

There will be an inspection period starting at 7 p. m., followed by a concert by the 65-piece student band.

try by the sneak process of "enlightened unionism" which is the way the Fascists took England after all the warnings of Italy, Germany and Spain. And if you insist, we will fight you for it.

William Green! That bellowing old faker has sat in a hundred councils with the dirtiest crooks and thugs in our criminal history and has yet to raise his voice on the side of decency or a downtrodden working stiff threshing on the floor of the union hall with a bullet in his belly from the vice president of the Nevada State Federation.

Woll has been an easy-rider on the body of labor all his life, his record of aggressive opposition to the racketeers, the gunmen and thieves in union office who persecuted workers and disgraced the union movement is no better than Green's. Dubinsky is a socialist opportunist, a dictator and an arrogant, patronizing oppressor of the "little people" whose earnings have built his empire and his power. He once did speak out against criminals in the racket, but Joe Fay popped him in the snoot and kicked him in the pants in public at the hoodlums' old home week known as the annual convention of the A.F. of L. and that was the end of Dave Dubinsky's great moral crusade. Anyway, his own union, the garment workers, had had plenty of gangsters in it and might have need of their help again.

"The A.F. of L. quietly went about planning and setting up its own foreign service structure and concentrated on evolving its own foreign policies," Dallin continued, so help me God he did. "The A.F. of L. became the natural leader of the new International Confederation of Free Trade Unions," which is a world Socialist political organization run by a very few Marxian schemers and not a labor movement at all except that it exploits unions to obtain money and prestige. "Minister of foreign affairs, so to put it, is Lovestone, a former Communist who, quietly but with extreme competence has weaved his six envoys in the east and west into a well coordinated political and labor network. Ambassador in Europe is Irving Brown, former New York University athlete, short-time former Communist, an organizer of the United Auto Workers and later member of the War Production Board. In 1945 he took up his job as European representative of the A.F. of L. Europe was already a major field of operation when the A.F. of L. decided to open a regular office there in 1946."

Last January, when the French Communists threatened to stop the unloading of military supplies in France, Brown and some French unionists organized "vigilance committees" in the ports.

"Communist force was to be met by superior force," Dallin says. "'For the first time,' Brown told the press, 'the agents of terror will have a taste of counter-terror'."

So these swashbucklers, holding passports from the State Department which warn real Americans to keep out of politics in foreign countries, are organizing Brown Shirt gangs to engage in terror unknown to the quiet, law-abiding, unsuspecting mass of Americans who never heard of Brown or Lovestone and never heard anything good of Green, Woll or Dubinsky nor Walter Reuther, or the CIO who sent over his brother, Victor, to open an office in Paris.

Fashion Institute Dedicated by State

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Fashion Institute of Technology, described by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as "an exciting new concept in education," was dedicated here last night.

The institution, established as a unit of the State University of New York, was said to be the first public school on the college level engaged exclusively in training students for work in the apparel and allied industries.

In his dedication speech before some 1,600 persons, the governor said the Institute would "produce new blood, new brains, new leadership for one of the greatest industries in New York and all America."

The Institute was established by the State University, the city Board of Education and the Education Foundation for the Apparel Industries.

Dewey described the combined effort as "the kind of partnership I like," and added:

"There are altogether too few examples in these United States of Government cooperation with industry. Here is a case where government is lending a genuine helping hand without trying to be the boss."

The first president of the Institute will be Dr. Mortimer C. Ritter.

$57 Million Loan Is Figured for Copper

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP) — A proposed $57,000,000 loan to open up a vast new supply of critically scarce copper comes up for final decision and probable approval by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation today.

Authorities said the loan, if granted, would be the biggest by the RFC since World War 2.

It would finance mining of low grade copper ore deposits at the White Pine mine in northern Michigan. Development of these deposits—the nation's biggest untapped copper resource—has been an on-again, off-again, project for some time.

FAT FOLKS!
Your Dream Has Come True!

If you are a normal, healthy, overweight man or woman by all means read about this amazing, new, clinically tested medical discovery, that is already creating a sensation all over the country.

Forget all about diets, hunger, calorie counting, massage, drugs, exercise and all other unpleasant, unnecessary things usually associated with reducing.

For a great medical discovery now makes it possible for you to lose pounds of excess fat safely—without dieting, without having a single hungry moment.

Doctors Discover Wafex

Most doctors agree that the best way to lose excess fat it to eat less—to go on a restricted diet. A group of New York doctors, making a special study of obesity, realized however, that while dieting was desirable it wasn't as easy or as simple as it sounds for most overweight people.

Hunger—The Fat Person's Enemy!

Dieting for most folks means hunger. And few people can resist hunger. So they appease it by eating between meals, by going off their diets. And back comes the unwanted pounds and inches.

So these New York doctors worked for years searching for a formula that would lick hunger and make people lose fat safely, without dieting. They finally announced success in a food adjunct called WAFEX.

Clinical Tests Proved Their Discovery

The doctors clinically tested WAFEX on a large group of non-glandular overweight men and women.

The group undergoing the tests were instructed by the doctors to chew or suck a tasty WAFEX half an hour before each meal but not to go on any special diet, not to cut out any special foods—just sit down at the table and eat until satisfied.

Results Amazing

Every member of the group lost 8 to 20 pounds in a short period of time; in fact satisfactory weight losses were noticed the very first week. And not a single person said she had a hungry moment.

Wafex as Harmless as a Glass of Water

A food adjunct not a drug

During the tests the doctors carefully checked the physical condition of each member of the group, took electro-cardiograms, and did not find a single case of ill effect. Everyone said she never felt better. So at last, the fat person's dream has come true — a way to lose excess fat without dieting, without hunger, without giving up the foods she likes.

Start slimming down your figure. Get WAFEX today. $3 for a month's supply. GUARANTEE: if you aren't pleased with the weight you lost after using one bottle of WAFEX you get your money back.

Wafex Stops Hunger

This Wafex Wafer has according to scientific calculations, the hunger satisfying capacity of 1 lb. boiled potatoes, 4 eggs or 8 slices of white bread. Yet contains only 5 calories.

Fashion Institute Dedicated by State

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—The Fashion Institute of Technology, described by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey as "an exciting new concept in education," was dedicated here last night.

The institution, established as a unit of the State University of New York, was said to be the first public school on the college level engaged exclusively in training students for work in the apparel and allied industries.

In his dedication speech before some 1,600 persons, the governor said the Institute would "produce new blood, new brains, new leadership for one of the greatest industries in New York and all America."

The Institute was established by the State University, the city Board of Education and the Education Foundation for the Apparel Industries.

Dewey described the combined effort as "the kind of partnership I like," and added:

"There are altogether too few examples in these United States of Government cooperation with industry. Here is a case where government is lending a genuine helping hand without trying to be the boss."

The first president of the Institute will be Dr. Mortimer C. Ritter.

$57 Million Loan Is Figured for Copper

Washington, Nov. 13 (AP) — A proposed $57,000,000 loan to open up a vast new supply of critically scarce copper comes up for final decision and probable approval by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation today.

Authorities said the loan, if granted, would be the biggest by the RFC since World War 2.

It would finance mining of low grade copper ore deposits at the White Pine mine in northern Michigan. Development of these deposits—the nation's biggest untapped copper resource—has been an on-again, off-again, project for some time.

FAT FOLKS!
Your Dream Has Come True!

If you are a normal, healthy, overweight man or woman by all means read about this amazing, new, clinically tested medical discovery, that is already creating a sensation all over the country. Forget all about diets, hunger, calorie counting, exercise, strenuous exercise and all other unpleasant, unnecessary things usually associated with reducing.

For a great medical discovery now makes it possible for you to lose pounds of excess fat safely—without dieting, without having a single hungry moment.

Doctors Discover Wafex

Most doctors agree that the best way to lose excess fat is to eat less—to go on a restricted diet. A group of New York doctors, making a special study of obesity, realized however, that while dieting was desirable it wasn't as easy or as simple as it sounds for most overweight people.

Hunger—The Fat Person's Enemy!

Dieting for most folks means hunger. And few people can resist hunger. So they approach it by eating between meals, by going off their diets. And back come the unwanted pounds and inches.

So these New York doctors worked for years searching for a formula that would lick hunger and make people lose fat safely, without dieting. They finally announced success in a food adjunct called WAFEX.

Clinical Tests Proved Their Discovery

The doctors clinically tested WAFEX on a large group of non-glandular overweight men and women.

The group undergoing the tests were instructed by the doctors to chew or suck a tasty WAFEX half an hour before each meal but not to go on any special diet, not to cut out any special foods—just sit down at the table and eat until satisfied.

Results Amazing

Every member of the group lost 8 to 20 pounds in a short period of time, in their satisfactory weight losses were noticed the very first week. And not a single person said she had a hungry moment.

Wafex as Harmless as a Glass of Water

A food adjunct not a drug

During the tests the doctors carefully checked the physical condition of each member of the group, took electrocardiograms, and did not find a single case of ill effect. Everyone said the never felt better. So at last, the fat person's dream has come true—a way to lose excess fat without dieting, without hunger, without giving up the foods she likes.

Start slimming down your figure. Get WAFEX now. $3 for a month's supply. GUARANTEE: If you aren't pleased with the weight you lose after using one bottle of WAFEX you get your money back.

Wafex Stops Hunger

This Wafex Wafer has according to scientific calculations, the hunger satisfying capacity of 1 lb. boiled potatoes, 4 eggs or 8 slices of white bread. Yet contains only 5 calories.

Teacher Gets Job Back, Year's Salary

Mrs. George W. Simpkins of 33 Vall street, who won tenure in he Kingston school system sevral years ago, but who was ropped from the position as diector of grade school cafeterias n 1949 when the job was abolshed and the entire cafeteria sysem was placed under direction of he high school director, will be eemployed in the Homemaking epartment.

Mrs. Simpkins who was repreented by Attorney Louis G. Bruhn, won her right to return o the school system from the referred list through retirement of Mrs. Rhea Finnerty. This vacancy was filled by another teacher who took over homemaking work.

Mrs. Simpkins contended she had a right to that appointment and the board of education has taken action to restore her to the job. The teacher who has held the position to which Mrs. Simpkins has been appointed will be moved to the Washington School homemaking division when that school is opened.

Although Mrs. Simpkins was not employed on the job last year she will receive a salary for the period to which she was entitled to the job. Corporation Counsel James G. Connelly appeared for the board in the matter.

The name of the gymnasium and garden in ancient Athens where Aristotle taught wes known as the Lyceum.

Death Causes . . .

guilt or innocence of Edward H. Kelly, former Kingston real estate broker, now on trial in County Court before County Judge John M. Cashin for the shooting of Mrs. Eloise McHugh, 44; on May 22, 1950. Kelly faces a jury for the second time on a murder, first degree, charge.

Selection of a jury began a week ago when four jurors were accepted on Thursday. Three more were accepted on Friday. Court recessed over Armistice Day and resumed on Tuesday when three additional jurors were accepted. The final three and two alternates were accepted Wednesday only to have Mrs. Marcks excused today. Mrs. Marie L. Bush of Oak street, Kingston, was selected as jurors number seven on Friday but on Tuesday she was excused by consent when personal matters arose which made it necessary for her to seek to be relieved from service. She told the court personal matters had arisen which would make it impossible for her to be confined for an indefinite period. Jurors then in the box were moved up one seat and the selection was resumed.

Comprising Panel

The panel which will hear the evidence is:

Mrs. Emma K. Jenkins, Clintondale housewife, who as the first juror selected becomes foreman; Mathias Thiel, Rosendale, retired; Ann M. Van Der Lieth, Rifton housewife; Helen S. Turner, Accord housewife; Gosta Lingren, Accord truck driver; William C. Petry, Hurley retired business man; Arleigh C. Hendry, Port Ewen electrical contractor; Rose P. Peters, Albany avenue extension school attendance officer; Lillian Phillips, Mt. Tremper housewife; Bernard H. Ott, Rosendale, and Elizabeth Shumate, R.D. 1, Kingston, housewife; John S. Geary, Wawarsing farmer. Jane W. Cater of 103 Downs street, housewife, is the first alternate.

Eloise McHugh, an employe at the Burgevin florist office on Main and Fair streets, was on her way to work on May 22, 1950. Near the Old First Dutch Reformed Church parish house, Kelly riding in a borrowed car stopped the car and fired a shot from a rifle. The shot struck Mrs. McHugh, who had been friendly with Kelly for several years, and she died from the shot. Kelly turned the gun on himself and inflicted a slight injury on his forehead. On May 29, 1950, the grand jury handed down a first degree murder charge and in September the trial was held and Kelly convicted. Judge Cashin directed that Kelly be electrocuted. An appeal was taken and on June 1, 1951, a new trial was granted when the Court of Appeals reversed the former conviction.

Venue Change Denied

Later a motion was made to have the trial held elsewhere on the grounds a fair and impartial trial could not be had in Ulster county. That motion was denied and the case remained in Ulster county.

Judge Cashin has announced that on completion of the jury to hear the evidence the jurors will be kept together under the supervision of the sheriff until a verdict has been returned. During the selection of the jury those already accepted were allowed to return home until the panel was completed.

Defense Counsel Whitman Knapp and Howard C. St. John will not deny that Kelly shot Mrs. McHugh but they contend that he was not mentally responsible for his act and that at the time of the shooting he did not know the nature or quality of the act and that the act was wrong.

On the first trial evidence was offered by the prosecution to show that Kelly did know what he was doing and that he knew the nature of the act. Testimony was offered that he had spoken to Mrs. McHugh, in the presence of a sister, prior to the shooting and had made threatening remarks. The prosecution also offered testimony to show that Kelly had arranged to borrow a car some time prior to the date of the shooting and that he had canceled that arrangement when Mrs. McHugh arranged to be absent from town. The car was later borrowed and used by Kelly on the morning of the shooting.

The defendant at the last trial offered testimony to the effect that he had been drinking heavily several days prior to the shooting and that he was in a confused state and therefore did not know what he was doing. No evidence was offered to indicate that he was drinking on the morning of the shooting. His defense, as indicated by his counsel, will be mental incapacity to know the nature of his actions on the morning of the shooting.

Goldman Gets Medal From Catholic Group

A medal from Pope Pius XII was presented in Kansas City on Sept. 6 to George L. Goldman, president of the Catholic Youth Organization. Presentation was made at the Hotel Muehlebach in Kansas City by the Most Rev. Edwin V. O'Hara, bishop of the Kansas City Catholic Diocese.

Goldman's nephew, Robert Cramer, is the husband of a granddaughter of Hyman Leventhal of Kingston.

In presenting the medal for distinguished service in the spirit of religion to Goldman, whom Bishop O'Hara referred to as "my Hebrew parishioner," Bishop O'Hara commented, "The CYO is a group of men of all faiths who are united in their concern for the physical, mental and spiritual development of youth."

Yugoslavia Tells

expected to be the last speaker Friday.

Kardelj called on the Assembly "to recommend to the Soviet Union and other governments of the Soviet bloc * * * to use all means for the peaceful adjustment of the outstanding problems existing between them and the federated people's republic of Yugoslavia."

He also suggested that a meeting of President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill, Prime Minister Stalin and France's Premier Rene Pleven would be a "positive step" towards peace.

Stretcher Bearers, Nurses' Aides Are Needed in Defense

Dr. John A. Cooke, Jr., deputy director in charge of medical services, is seeking to enlist volunteers as stretcher bearers and nurses' aides, according to an announcement today from the Kingston Office of Civilian Defense.

Registration for those positions will be at the local city hall at 8 p. m. Monday. Persons unable to appear at that time may register at the Civil Defense booths in Reade's Kingston and Broadway theatres.

The stretcher bearer classification is open to all volunteers whose health will permit them to carry out the duties of carrying wounded. Young men 16 years of age and older may apply, and Robert J. Kreines, deputy director in charge of public information, suggests the duties will appeal particularly to those interested in familiarizing themselves with the medical and allied professions.

A stretcher bearer must be proficient in first aid, although persons not trained in that field will be given the training by the Civil Defense program after they register.

Practical nurses in particular are sought for nurses' aides, although the field is open to all women willing to receive training in that field, according to Kreines.

No numerical limit has been set for registrants in either classification. The Civil Defense office will register "as many as volunteer," Kreines said.

Depreciation Taxes Cuts Worth of Estate

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 15 (AP)—An audit filed yesterday in Lackawanna County Orphans Court shows that taxes and depreciation have reduced the estate of Charles S. Woolworth from more than $16,000,000 to a net of $2,513,864 in the five years since his death.

Woolworth, co-founder of the five and 10 cent store chain, left a major portion of the estate to two children, Mrs. Ethel A. Huber, Scranton, and Richard Woolworth, of Salem Center, N. Y., his will also set up a trust fund of $500,000 for another son, Fred E. Woolworth, of West Chester, Pa.

Health Clinics Slated Next Week

Three child health conferences are scheduled next week by the Ulster County Health Department:

Tuesday, Nov. 20—Clinic rooms, 25 East O'Reilly street from 2 to 4 p. m.

Wednesday, Nov. 21—Health center, Woodstock, 2 to 4 p. m.

Wednesday, Nov. 21—Health center, Stone Ridge, 9:30 to 11:30 a. m.

These clinics are for prevention of disease and not for the care of sick children. Immunizations will be given for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

Those with no transportation for the Stone Ridge clinic may make arrangements for rides by phoning High Falls 4743.

Will Seek Pardon

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—Nathan Kaplan, 49, who has been declared innocent of a crime for which he served seven years in a federal prison, says he will soon seek a complete pardon. Federal Judge Weinfeld said yesterday that Kaplan, a Manhattan resident and unemployed salesman, was the victim of a "grave miscarriage of justice" in 1938 when a federal jury convicted him as a dope seller.

DiSalle Rules Opera Free From OPS Hold

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—Any doubt about the right of opera and ballet companies and symphony orchestras to retain a recent 100 per cent tax cut on admissions rather than pass it on to ticket buyers was dispelled yesterday.

Director Michael V. DiSalle of the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) ruled that they are theatrical enterprises exempt from OPS controls.

The new tax law which took effect Nov. 1 repealed the 20 per cent admissions tax for operas, ballets and orchestras. Most of them have not passed the tax elimination on to ticket buyers, but have kept their prices stable.

This had led to some speculation that by doing so they might be violating government regulations. DiSalle's decision, announced in a formal statement resolved the speculation in their favor.

New York ranks as the world's largest coffee importing center.

DeniesBlacklisting Actors on Politics

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—The president of the advertising company for the Celanese Theatre, a television drama show, says his agency has not blacklisted any actor for his political beliefs.

Jesse T. Ellington, president of Ellington and Company, Inc., said last night the agency has no right to hire anybody for the program, only approves persons engaged by the producer and does not base its approval on "political views or pressure from any outside sources."

Ellington made his statement in reply to playwright Elmer Rice, who severed his tie with the American Broadcasting Company program Tuesday on the ground that the advertising agency blacklisted actors with alleged "subversive" political beliefs.

Rice also had charged that the advertising company's lawyer had to clear artists appearing on the program.

Ellington said his firm's attorney is responsible for legal advice on contracts and does not make any decisions on casting.

Ellington added that Rice's letter of resignation did not alter plans to televise "Counsellor-at-Law" and "Street Scene," two of the Pulitzer Prize winner's plays.

The program's sponsor, the Celanese Corp. of America, has made no comment.

Curtailment Is Urged

Boston, Nov. 15 (AP)—Complete curtailment of all residential construction except in critical housing shortage areas was urged last night by Tighe E. Woods, national rent stabilization director. He told high ranking military officers and New England construction and real estate dealers he would present his suggestion to Eric Johnston, economic stabilization administrator, and Charles E. Wilson, defense mobilization director. The curtailment is necessary, he said, "to insure adequate housing for defense workers and military personnel in critical areas." A critical area is "any place where housing is tight enough to have rent control, Woods explained.

Depreciation Taxes Cuts Worth of Estate

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 15 (AP)—An audit filed yesterday in Lackawanna County Orphans Court shows that taxes and depreciation have reduced the estate of Charles S. Woolworth from more than $16,000,000 to a net of $2,513,864 in the five years since his death.

Woolworth, co-founder of the five and 10 cent store chain, left a major portion of the estate to two children, Mrs. Ethel A. Huber, Scranton, and Richard Woolworth, of Salem Center, N. Y., his will also set up a trust fund of $500,000 for another son, Fred E. Woolworth, of West Chester, Pa.

Health Clinics Slated Next Week

Three child health conferences are scheduled next week by the Ulster County Health Department:

Tuesday, Nov. 20—Clinic rooms, 25 East O'Reilly street from 2 to 4 p. m.

Wednesday, Nov. 21 — Health center, Woodstock, 2 to 4 p. m.

Wednesday, Nov. 21 — Health center, Stone Ridge, 9:30 to 11:30 a. m.

These clinics are for prevention of disease and not for the care of sick children. Immunizations will be given for smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough.

Those with no transportation for the Stone Ridge clinic may make arrangements for rides by phoning High Falls 4743.

Will Seek Pardon

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—Nathan Kaplan, 49, who has been declared innocent of a crime for which he served seven years in a federal prison, says he will soon seek a complete pardon. Federal Judge Weinfeld said yesterday that Kaplan, a Manhattan resident and unemployed salesman, was the victim of a "grave miscarriage of justice" in 1938 when a federal jury convicted him as a dope seller.

DiSalle Rules Opera Free From OPS Hold

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—Any doubt about the right of opera and ballet companies and symphony orchestras to retain a recent 100 per cent tax cut on admissions rather than pass it on to ticket buyers was dispelled yesterday.

Director Michael V. DiSalle of the Office of Price Stabilization (OPS) ruled that they are theatrical enterprises exempt from OPS controls.

The new tax law which took effect Nov. 1 repealed the 20 per cent admissions tax for operas, ballets and orchestras. Most of them have not passed the tax elimination on to ticket buyers, but have kept their prices stable.

This had led to some speculation that by doing so they might be violating government regulations. DiSalle's decision, announced in a formal statement resolved the speculation in their favor.

New York ranks as the world's largest coffee importing center.

Appliance Firm To Open Friday

The opening of the new Ellis' GE Appliances at 121 North Front street will take place Friday.

The new establishment has been awarded the franchise for the full line of General Electric appliances, and occupies not only the store in which the Public Furniture Company continues to operate, but also utilizes the space of a large addition recently constructed on the rear of the premises.

Delno R. Ellis, manager of Public Furniture, is also manager of the new appliance business.

During opening day, demonstrations of cooking ranges will be held under the direction of Miss Dorothy Rhodes, Home Service Representative of the Central Hudson. "Gifts of appreciation will also be given to adults attending our opening," stated Manager Ellis.

Faculty Housing Survey Underway

A faculty housing advisory committee has been appointed by the board of education of the Onteora Central School District, and is now busy preparing a mail survey of the district.

The committee members are Mrs. William W. Adams of Chichester, Harry Allen of Pine Hill, Donald Bishop of West Shokan, Mrs. Jean Colberg of Wittenberg, Mrs. J. Belden Hyatt of Shady, Frank Platz of Shandaken, Andrew Savage of Brown Station, Mrs. Nelson Shultis of Wittenberg, and Mrs. Mabel Weidner of West Shokan.

After receiving its instructions from the board of education, the committee held a two-hour meeting, during which time it elected Harry Allen its chairman and Mrs. Shultis its secretary. The four points to be covered by the committee's work will be:

1. To make the public aware of the fact that housing must be made available for faculty members in the Onteora Central School District.
2. To study available housing suitable for faculty members and report the results to the board of education.
3. To recommend to the board of education measures that could be taken to meet the problem, if a problem exists.
4. To encourage a spirit of understanding and cooperation on the part of the citizens of the school district to help meet the problem for the general welfare of the school district.

She committee prepared a survey of housing units which might be available July 1, 1952, and will have it mailed to every boxholder in the central school district. This survey will provide the committee with the basic information it needs to continue its work.

Engineers to Hear About Atomic Power

Principal speaker at the November 19 meeting of the Hudson Valley Division, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, will be Col. J. W. Green, Jr., a member of the faculty at United States Military Academy, West Point.

The session at which the professor of electrical engineering is to speak will be held in the auditorium of Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, South road, Poughkeepsie, and his subject will deal with application of atomic energy.

A graduate of West Point in 1927, Col. Green received his masters degree from Yale University, where he specialized in communications. During World War 2, he served as chief signal officer in Western Pacific. He joined the staff at the academy in 1947.

Paltz Teacher Is Chosen as Santa

S. Fersh, history teacher of New Paltz High School, has been chosen as the county's "jolliest teacher" who looks most like the Santa Claus depicted on the 1951 Christmas Seals.

Fersh was selected to represent Santa Claus during ceremonies Saturday afternoon to inaugurate the 1951 Christmas Seal sale sponsored by the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

After a ride on a bright red fire truck through city streets, Fersh will be at the head of Wall street in Kingston's business district at 2:30 p. m. Saturday to buy the first sheet of seals from little Sara Jane Palmer, daughter of Farm Bureau Agent and Mrs. William H. Palmer.

Also present during the ceremonies will be James Rowe, chairman of the 1951 seal sale, and members of his committee.

Unanimous Choice

Fersh was selected unanimously by a panel of judges from candidates elected in each of the county's high schools. The runner-up was Kenneth Watson, vice principal of Highland High School.

Judges were the Rev. Robert C. Dickson of Saugerties, Mrs. Dorothy Hocmer of Ellenville and Mrs. William T. Hookey of Lake Katrine.

Children present at Saturday's ceremonies will be given Santa Claus health buttons. Representative Boy and Girl Scouts will be present to assist in the distribution.

Background for the ceremonies will be the large, illuminated double-barred cross erected on the Montgomery Ward department store. Another cross will be erected at Academy Green as in past years, through the courtesy of Modjeska Sign Studios.

Prices Are Lower

extra equipment must be depreciated at the same rate as that of the car itself.

The agency said allowances for a used car being traded in on another new or used automobile may exceed the ceiling price. However, the allowance must not exceed the ceiling for the car on which it is being traded.

OPS specified that used cars on dealers' lots must bear tags stating the make, model, line or series and the ceiling price, including any extra, special or optional equipment. The tag also must show the price at which the car is being offered for sale. Sellers also must issue invoices within seven days after a sale giving this detailed information.

The order bars sellers from any special requirements as a condition for sale, such as: demanding time payments, loans through any particular agency, or purchasing extra equipment, parts or service to get the car.

Change Soles

When bears come out of winter hibernation, a thick sole peels from each of their feet, and a new, soft, rubbery layer is exposed.

About 400 types of cheese are produced in the United States.

Probing Threat On Dredge Barge

Coxsackie, N. Y., Nov. 15 (AP)—Police and army officers are investigating the report of a threat to dynamite a gasoline-loaded barge being used on a dredging project in the Hudson river.

J. A. La Port, head of the La Port Dredging Company of Arlington, Va., said yesterday he had received the threat.

The company, which is working on the dredging project near here for the army engineers, previously had reported that "hoodlums" had attacked company employes last Friday.

La Port claimed the attackers wanted his men to join a union. He did not name the union.

The company employs about 25 men.

State police, the Greene county sheriffs' office and army engineers are investigating.

The barge, which has a capacity of about 20,000 gallons, is under 24-hour guard by three deputy sheriffs.

Topic This Week

This evening's topic for discussion by the Rev. Arthur E. Oudemool at regular midweek meeting in Old First Reformed Church, Wall and Main streets, is The Key to Good Fortune. The meetings are devoted to explaining application of Christian teaching in solving everyday problems, and demonstrating silent healing. All are welcome to the undenominational sessions.

High Wire Queen Plunges to Death

Baltimore, Nov. 15 (AP)—The smiles on the faces of the clowns weren't so bright last night—but the show went on.

It went on without pretty 17-year-old Evy Trostl, the high wire queen of "The Great Arturos."

She dropped to her death during the afternoon performance of the Shrine Circus before 7,500 persons while performing a Spanish dance with a balance pole on a wire 60 feet above the floor of the Fifth Regiment Armory.

Her father, Arturo—"The Great Arturo" of Ringling Bros. fame—was on the high platform, level with her when she dropped. He quickly slid down a rope and was one of the first to reach her.

"I can't breathe, Daddy," she kept moaning. "Help me. It hurts."

Her crushed body was hurried to the nearby Maryland General Hospital, where she died a half-hour later.

Arturo collapsed when he received the word. But he shrugged off pleas of his friends to stay in the hospital and called his wife at Tampa, Fla.

Evy was to have returned to Tampa to reenter school this weekend. She started working on the high wire when she was 10 and joined her father and her cousin Eric three years ago.

Asked if this meant the end of "The Great Arturos," Sam Polack, circus manager paused, then said: "I don't know. It's hard to tell. This is about all Arturo knows, and he's great. Perhaps after the shock is gone . . . well, you just can't tell."

Turkey Support

Des Moines, Ia. (AP) — The Department of Agriculture has indicated, in view of the record large turkey crop U. S. farmers are raising this year, that it intends to buy turkeys, if necessary, to keep the market from being overloaded. The department has what it calls a "standby" program under which it would buy large size birds, and distribute them to schools, for lunches, and to some non-profit institutions.

Preventive Rules Cited on Mastitis

New York (Special)—Farmers could prevent many cases of bovine mastitis, if they would abide by sensible and proved preventive rules, the American Foundation for Animal Health suggested today.

"Mastitis is often brought on by use of faulty milking equipment, and through barnyard and pasture udder injuries which might have been avoided," the report said.

As a case in point the Foundation cited the instance of one Illinois man who reportedly lost a $5,000 investment in less than a year simply because he used the wrong kind of suction cup on his milking machine. The entire herd developed mastitis and had to be slaughtered.

To help prevent mastitis losses this winter, the Foundation advised dairymen to:

Guard against udder injuries by removing sticks and other sharp objects from barnyards. Also, door sills should be kept free of ice so cows will not slip and stumble on them.

Sterilize milking equipment and use only machines which are properly adjusted.

Avoid rough handling while hand stripping.

Milk infected cases last.

Buy only clean, healthy replacements which are known to be free of mastitis.

Work out a practical control program with the veterinarian, using both medical treatment for affected cows and preventive methods with those that are free of the disease.

Revenue Inspector Shoots Self in Home

Manhasset, Nov. 15 (AP)—Thomas D. Behne, 53, described by police as an inspector for the Bureau of Internal Revenue in New York city, shot and killed himself last night.

Behne's body was found by his two children, John, 16, and Susan, 9, who heard a shot in an upstairs room of their home while they were watching television in the basement.

Behne had held a shotgun against his right cheek and fired, police said.

Police said no note was found. They called the case a suicide.

Behne's wife, who was attending a civic meeting at the time, later said her husband had shown "no indication of worry about anything."

The Behne family resides at 16 Andover Lane.

Donation Is Complete

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—One hundred per cent of the officers and enlisted men aboard the aircraft carrier Oriskany—all 1,436 of them—have donated blood to the armed forces. Donations by wives of men assigned to the ship, now at the Brooklyn Navy Yard for repairs after a Mediterranean cruise, and by a marine detachment doing guard duty aboard brought the two-day total to 1,624.

Fire Halts Traffic

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—A fire in a truck halted Manhattan-bound traffic at about 8 a. m. today in the Holland Tunnel. The fire was reported to be 500 feet in the tunnel from the Jersey City entrance. Fire headquarters said it was not serious. No fire apparatus was sent from here, fire headquarters said, because the location was under the jurisdiction of Jersey City.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, Nov. 15 — Miss Myra Wright and Miss Betty Jenkins of Poughkeepsie were recent supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell.

Anna Beatyy is spending a few weeks with friends in Highland.

Mrs. George Sherwood called on her cousin, Mrs. Dasie Gilbert, who is a patient at the Goshen Hospital Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell were dinner guests at the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Barr in Middletown Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cronk and daughter of Wallkill were callers in this place Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Cocks and son, Jay, of New York, spent the weekend with his father, Nicholas T. Cocks.

Mrs. Fred Rose of Gardinertown called at the home of Miss Bertha Sutton Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant and son, Bobbie, of New Jersey, were visitors at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Grant Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell and Miss Bertha Sutton called at the home of their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hallock Sutton Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Sutton, who has been a patient at Goshen Hospital, returned home Saturday.

John Paul Tysse spent the weekend and Monday at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Fred Simpson at Accord.

Plans are being made for a congregational meeting and supper to be held at the church hall Tuesday night, Dec. 11. Elders and deacons will be elected.

Last Thursday afternoon the Missionary Society was entertained at the home of Mrs. Joseph Monell in Newburgh. The devotions were led by Mrs. Albert Cronk and the program for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Charles Jenkins who had arranged a short play entitled The Spirit of Brewton with several members taking part. The president, Mrs. Tysse, presided over the business meeting. Plans were made for the December meeting which will be at the home of Mrs. Bertha Powell. At the close of the meeting the hostess served refreshments and a social time was enjoyed.

The annual turkey supper under the auspices of the Young Women's Club of the New Hurley Church was a success.

The junior choir will meet at the church tonight at 7:15 to begin rehearsal for the Christmas music.

On Friday night of this week a business meeting of the Sunday school will be held at the home of Superintendent Albert Cronk. All interested in Sunday school work are urged to attend.

There will be regular preaching services in the New Hurley Church Sunday at 11 a. m. and Sunday school at 10 a. m. with classes for all ages. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

Proceeds from the meal coin boxes for the church building fund amounted to $52. Anyone having banks is asked to return them to a member of the Missionary Society as soon as possible.

A Thanksgiving Eve service will be held in the church on Wednesday, Nov. 21, at 8 p. m. An offering for the hungry and needy of the world will be taken.

Members of the congregation are invited to attend the service at the Montgomery Reformed Church Sunday night, Nov. 18, when Dr. Joseph Sizoo, president of the New Brunswick Seminary will bring the message.

The young people will meet at the church Sunday at 7:30 p. m. John Garrison will lead devotions. The slide film, The Good Samaritan, will be shown and discussed.

The Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Tysse and family attended the 250th year celebration of the Rochester Reformed Church of Accord on Monday night. Mrs. Tysse is a former member of the Accord Reformed Church.

Named Surrogate

Albany, Nov. 15 (AP)—David M. Potts, former Republican congressman, was appointed Bronx county surrogate today by Governor Dewey. Potts, 45, fills a vacancy in the $28,000-a-year post caused by the death recently of Albert H. Henderson.

Preventive Rules Cited on Mastitis

New York (Special)—Farmers could prevent many cases of bovine mastitis, if they would abide by sensible and proved preventive rules, the American Foundation for Animal Health suggested today.

"Mastitis is often brought on by use of faulty milking equipment, and through barnyard and pasture udder injuries which might have been avoided," the report said.

As a case in point the Foundation cited the instance of one Illinois man who reportedly lost a $5,000 investment in less than a year simply because he used the wrong kind of suction cup on his milking machine. The entire herd developed mastitis and had to be slaughtered.

To help prevent mastitis losses this winter, the Foundation advised dairymen to:

Guard against udder injuries by removing sticks and other sharp objects from barnyards. Also, door sills should be kept free of ice so cows will not slip and stumble on them.

Sterilize milking equipment and use only machines which are properly adjusted.

Avoid rough handling while hand stripping.

Milk infected cases last.

Buy only clean, healthy replacements which are known to be free of mastitis.

Work out a practical control program with the veterinarian, using both medical treatment for affected cows and preventive methods with those that are free of the disease.

Revenue Inspector Shoots Self in Home

Manhasset, Nov. 15 (AP)—Thomas D. Behne, 53, described by police as an inspector for the Bureau of Internal Revenue in New York city, shot and killed himself last night.

Behne's body was found by his two children, John, 16, and Susan, 9, who heard a shot in an upstairs room of their home while they were watching television in the basement.

Behne had held a shotgun against his right cheek and fired, police said.

Police said no note was found. They called the case a suicide.

Behne's wife, who was attending a civic meeting at the time, later said her husband had shown "no indication of worry about anything."

The Behne family resides at 16 Andover Lane.

Donation Is Complete

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—One hundred per cent of the officers and enlisted men aboard the aircraft carrier Oriskany—all 1,436 of them—have donated blood to the armed forces. Donations by wives of men assigned to the ship, now at the Brooklyn Navy Yard for repairs after a Mediterranean cruise, and by a marine detachment doing guard duty aboard brought the two-day total to 1,624.

Fire Halts Traffic

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—A fire in a truck halted Manhattan-bound traffic at about 8 a. m. today in the Holland Tunnel. The fire was reported to be 500 feet in the tunnel from the Jersey City entrance. Fire headquarters said it was not serious. No fire apparatus was sent from here, fire headquarters said, because the location was under the jurisdiction of Jersey City.

NEW HURLEY

New Hurley, Nov. 15 — Miss Myra Wright and Miss Betty Jenkins of Poughkeepsie were recent supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell.

Anna Beatyy is spending a few weeks with friends in Highland.

Mrs. George Sherwood called on her cousin, Mrs. Dasie Gilbert, who is a patient at the Goshen Hospital Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell were dinner guests at the home of their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Barr in Middletown Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cronk and daughter of Wallkill were callers in this place Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. John C. Cocks and son, Jay, of New York, spent the weekend with his father, Nicholas T. Cocks.

Mrs. Fred Rose of Gardinertown called at the home of Miss Bertha Sutton Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Grant and son, Bobbie, of New Jersey, were visitors at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Grant Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Powell and Miss Bertha Sutton called at the home of their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Hallock Sutton Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Sutton, who has been a patient at Goshen Hospital, returned home Saturday.

John Paul Tysse spent the weekend and Monday at the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Fred Simpson at Accord.

Plans are being made for a congregational meeting and supper to be held at the church hall Tuesday night, Dec. 11. Elders and deacons will be elected.

Last Thursday afternoon the Missionary Society was entertained at the home of Mrs. Joseph Monell in Newburgh. The devotions were led by Mrs. Albert Cronk and the program for the afternoon was in charge of Mrs. Charles Jenkins who had arranged a short play entitled The Spirit of Brewton with several members taking part. The president, Mrs. Tysse, presided over the business meeting. Plans were made for the December meeting which will be at the home of Mrs. Bertha Powell. At the close of the meeting the hostess served refreshments and a social time was enjoyed.

The annual turkey supper under the auspices of the Young Women's Club of the New Hurley Church was a success.

The junior choir will meet at the church tonight at 7:15 to begin rehearsal for the Christmas music.

On Friday night of this week a business meeting of the Sunday school will be held at the home of Superintendent Albert Cronk. All interested in Sunday school work are urged to attend.

There will be regular preaching services in the New Hurley Church Sunday at 11 a. m. and Sunday school at 10 a. m. with classes for all ages. All are cordially invited to attend these services.

Proceeds from the meal coin boxes for the church building fund amounted to $52. Anyone having banks is asked to return them to a member of the Missionary Society as soon as possible.

A Thanksgiving Eve service will be held in the church on Wednesday, Nov. 21, at 8 p. m. An offering for the hungry and needy of the world will be taken.

Esopus Resident Injured

Maude Bosworth, 62, Esopus, received contusions and arbasions Tuesday about noon when a Willys station wagon she was operating on the Esopus-Rifton county road at the junction of the Dashville Falls road, and a county truck collided. Mrs. Boswell was proceeding north and the two vehicles came together almost head-on. Operator of the county dump truck was Albert Ochner, 51, 17 Augusta street, Kingston. He was not injured. The county truck was not damaged but the station wagon was wrecked, according to state police at Highland who made an investigation.

Would Name Cases

Albany, Nov. 15 (AP)—State Senator Henry A. Wise wants the Legislature to permit local governments to make public the names of persons on welfare rolls. The Watertown Republican said he would introduce a bill in the 1952 Legislature to eliminate the state's ban on publication of the names and addresses of relief recipients. Wise said the measure was intended "to encourage local self-government."

BY SOPHIE MILLER

Although McBride's drug store is no more and its history has been covered in this paper at the time of its closing still on many shelves and in many medicine cabinets of Kingston and Ulster county will be found for many years to come, little bottles with the McBride drug store label. Van Deusen's drug store is out of existence such a long time that two generations perhaps have forgotten it, yet from time to time, old bottles with its labels show up. Dr. A. A. Stern has been dead for a number of years, yet old patients still used to come to my father's drug store to refill his old prescriptions. My father opened his drug store at 46 Broadway in 1910 and ran it in Rondout till the day he died Feb. 3, 1951, rounding out over 40 years. In that time he too pasted on many thousands of his labels, and made up lots of his own Ginz corn remedy. There are no more Ginz liquid bottles for corns made up, but still folks ask for it. So it goes. It is nice knowing, that my father's labels will continue to be found in medicine cabinets long after he is gone.

It was sad to see DuBois's store on North Front street go entirely out of existence. I think that somewhere, some group, should have tried to preserve a little of the old drug store of Kingston and Ulster county. The old show globes, the old bottles with gold labels which always stood on the front shelves until not too many years ago. Other cities have done it.

For instance in New York's Barclay Hotel, a carriage-trade hostelry on bustling Lexington avenue, is the Caswell-Massey drug-store, one of the oldest drug-and-cosmetic houses in America. Caswell Massey traces its apothecarial ancestors back two centuries, according to Paul D. Green, who has an illustrated article on it in the November 1951 Cosmopolitan Druggist, Ralph and Milton S. Taylor, acquired this drug store in 1936 and continued to maintain the dignified tradition begun in 1752 by Dr. William Hunter, who founded the first all drug shop in swank Newport, Rhode Island. The first Caswell joined the firm in 1840; the first Massey in 1877. They opened a branch in the old 5th Avenue Hotel in New York in 1860, and moved uptown to the present shop in 1926. The main window of the Newport store, which closed in 1906, is now preserved in the Newport Historical Museum.

Paul Green writes: "The bright, neat interior of the modern store does not prepare the casual visitor for the fact that George Washington, the Marquis de Lafayette, and Captain Kidd doused themselves with C-M's, Cologne No. 6, America's oldest cologne. But as the visitor looks around carefully, museum pieces greet his eyes. High on the shelf above the prescription counter are dozens of old glass jars bearing faded gold and black labels with the names of some of the original drugs, Dr. Hunter had in his Newport store. Only recently Milton Taylor found some raw nutmeg in one of these jars, still delightfully fragrant after two centuries.

The store is still proud of its collection of drug crocks dating back to the Italian Renaissance; a giant mortar and pestle made of ligum vitae, the hardest wood in the world. Since C-M's first days, it has compounded over 12 million prescriptions. Now about one fourth of its prescriptions are made for mail-order customers the world over.

Would Probe Alien Office

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP)—Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) has called for "a thorough look-see" into the affairs of the alien property custodian's office. He's received many complaints that it is a multi-million dollar "super-gravy train," he said in a statement yesterday. The office is the federal agency, under the Department of Justice, which seizes and disposes of property of enemy aliens. During and since World War 2, it has handled more than $300,000,000 worth of assets in this country formerly owned by Germans, Japanese and nationals of other wartime enemy nations.

Found Dead in Bed

Easton, Pa., Nov. 15 (AP)—Arthur Farrar, 58, of 19 Kerbert street, White Plains, N. Y., was found dead in bed yesterday at the Hotel Easton. Dr. Jacob Kincov said death was due to a heart attack. Farrar, an engineer employed by the Quality Bakers of America, was engaged in a survey of a bakery here. He was identified by Frank Busse, director of personnel for Quality.

Charlemagne first used the title kaiser in 800.

The Royal Academy of Fine Arts, founded in Paris in 1648, was the forerunner of present-day art schools, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

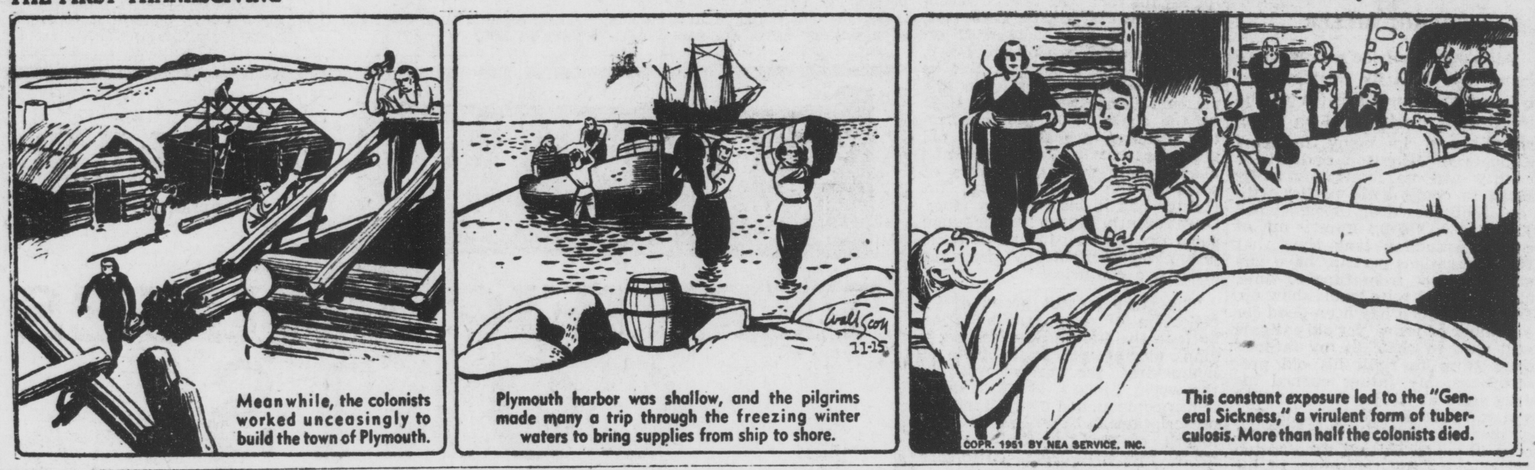
THE FIRST THANKSGIVING

Illustrated by Walter Scott



THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

So long as the international tension lasts we are going to be more and more submerged in, and influenced by, "propagandized" news. We shall need to reach for "contrary opinions" as a man grasps at straws, to keep from drowning.

Suppose we take a brief look at what propaganda consists of, and wherein it seems to the Ruminator that we and the Russians are diametrically opposed.

We can use the President's radio address on disarmament as an example.

Admittedly, the idea of a world-wide agreement to disarm is an ideal to strive for. However, the reason for making the appeal was not, obviously, a hope that disarmament would result from Mr. Truman's proposals. It was a strategical propaganda play to assume "an offensive for peace" and to take the punch out of Russia's proposals at the Paris meetings of the UN.

It seems to me that if we are to arrive at any comprehension of the uses of propaganda we first have to try and determine what Russia wants and what the Western nations want.

This, it seems to me, is how Russia and the western world are diametrically opposed:

First, let's consider Russia—

Russia requires a crisis in order to control her citizenry and prevent a revolt of the masses.

It is improbable that Russia is worrying too much about whether a major war will result.

Without a continuing crisis it is a fair assumption that Russia would collapse because dictatorships must have an excuse for regimenting the people.

Now look at our side—

We wish to get rid of the crisis in order to avoid collapse.

We are sickly worried that a war may result.

If the crisis persists too long, western nations will face collapse (Great Britain and France are already about at the end of their ropes and require bolstering).

You can see that "propaganda" is going to be used quite differently by Russia from the manner in which the western nations will use it.

Clyde R. Miller, in his book The Process of Persuasion lists what he terms the "four simple devices" that are employed to achieve acceptance or rejection of ideas, policies, personalities, and so on.

Boiled down, these are the devices:

The acceptance or "Virtue" Device—designed to cause us to accept by association with "good" words, symbols, acts.

The Rejection, or "Poison" Device—to cause us to reject by association with "bad" words, symbols, acts.

The Testimonial Device — to cause us to accept or reject by the testimony or evidence of persons considered "good" . . . or "horrible."

The "Together" Device — to cause us to accept or reject by the application of any or all of the former devices applied through the pressure of group or mass emotion and action.

If you think back to Hitler's day you will recall how these "devices" were used with success by Goebbles, Hitler's propaganda expert.

Or, refer again to the disarmament proposal which is now currently in everyone's mind.

The "virtue device," employed by us, is of course the idea of "peace."

Vishinsky's tirade against the Truman-Acheson proposal used the "poison" (and ridicule) device to the full limit. Vishinsky's "bad word" is "war-monger" which he applies to the western powers at every opportunity. His reply to the disarmament proposal was loaded with "bad words" and with ridicule (couldn't sleep for laughing, Vishinsky said!). Then, not wishing to appear as against peace, Vishinsky makes a counter-proposal for a four-power conference on disarmament next June. This latter continues the crisis but is fodder for home consumption (if I read the propaganda correctly).

From this brief look at the art of propaganda the Ruminator feels that you will agree that the habit of "contrary thinking" is a handy tool in these confusing days. It suggests that when these "big questions" are aired we always ask ourselves "What lies behind this proposal or scheme?" —"What is the other side of the question and how will it affect the other side?" At least, it makes us think occasionally and that is something gained!

Combatting Corn Insects

Des Moines, Ia. (AP)—Those persons familiar with the problems of insects in stored corn believe that considerable amounts of fumigant could be saved and the chore of spraying avoided by doing some stirring of stored corn. Dr. Harold Gunderson, extension entomologist at Ames, told bin inspectors to stir the top of the corn in their bins. If that is done, the insect population will be disturbed and, with cold weather coming on, the insects will become inactive and die during the winter.

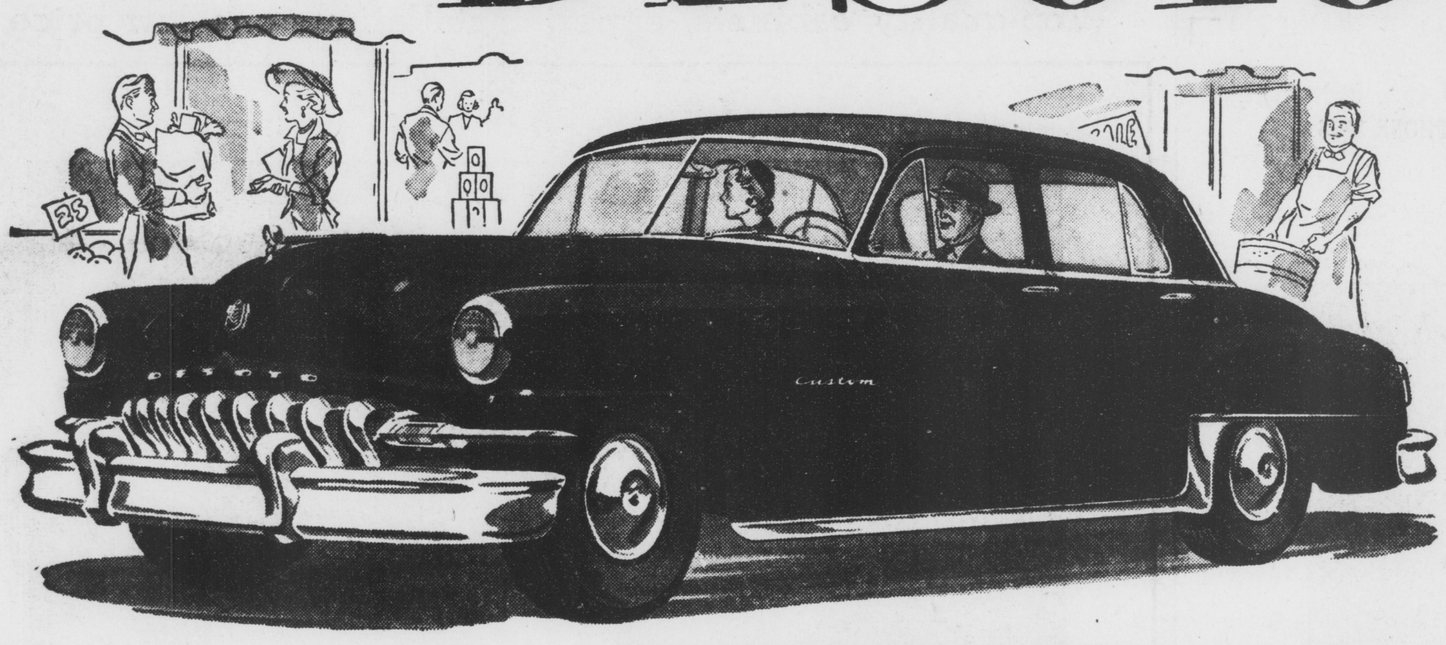
1952 DE SOTO



See it... on display today!

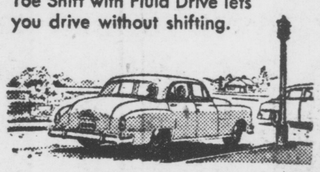
You are most cordially invited to come in to see the new 1952 De Soto. It's just arrived.

It is always a pleasure to inspect a new car —but we hope that you will do much more than merely admire this new De Soto. We would like you to give it a thorough going-over. We would like to show you—in detail —why it is such an outstanding car, from a design point of view, from a performance point of view and from a dollar-and-cents point of view.

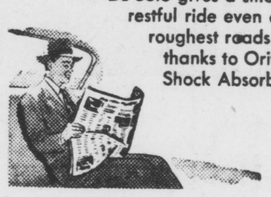
With all the famous features listed on the right, we sincerely believe that this 1952 De Soto offers you more for your money. Come and see the 1952 De Soto—the car designed for you and your budget too!

High-Compression Power!
De Soto's high-compression engine packs plenty of power—even without premium fuels. Insures long life, low upkeep!

Easy, No-Shift Driving!
De Soto lets you step on the gas to go, step on the brake to stop. Tip-Toe Shift with Fluid Drive lets you drive without shifting.



America's Smoothest Ride!
De Soto gives a smooth, restful ride even over roughest roads . . . thanks to Oriflow Shock Absorbers!



Safer, Easier Braking!
No car in America has bigger brakes. Big 12-inch drums with Cyclebond Linings give twice the life with no danger of rivet-scored drums.

Sure, All-Weather Driving!
De Soto's standard waterproof ignition gets you started quickly even in wettest weather . . . eliminates stalling in flooded streets.

Extra Value Throughout
• Chair-High Seats • Plenty of Headroom • Full Cradled Ride • Independent Parking Brake • Tip-Toe Shift with Fluid Drive • Big, Wide-view Windows • Featherlight Steering • Safety-Rim Wheels for Blowout Protection

THE RUMINATOR

By HUMPHREY B. NEILL

A Column of Contrary Opinion

So long as the international tension lasts we are going to be more and more submerged in, and influenced by, "propagandized" news. We shall need to reach for "contrary opinions" as a man grasps at straws, to keep from drowning.

Suppose we take a brief look at what propaganda consists of, and wherein it seems to the Ruminator that we and the Russians are diametrically opposed.

We can use the President's radio address on disarmament as an example.

Admittedly, the idea of a world-wide agreement to disarm is an ideal to strive for. However, the reason for making the appeal was not, obviously, a hope that disarmament would result from Mr. Truman's proposals. It was a strategical propaganda play to assume "an offensive for peace" and to take the punch out of Russia's proposals at the Paris meetings of the UN.

It seems to me that if we are to arrive at any comprehension of the uses of propaganda we first have to try and determine what Russia wants and what the Western nations want.

This, it seems to me, is how Russia and the western world are diametrically opposed:

First, let's consider Russia—

Russia requires a crisis in order to control her citizenry and prevent a revolt of the masses.

It is improbable that Russia is worrying too much about whether a major war will result.

Without a continuing crisis it is a fair assumption that Russia would collapse because dictatorships must have an excuse for regimenting the people.

Now look at our side—

We wish to get rid of the crisis in order to avoid collapse.

We are sickly worried that a war may result.

If the crisis persists too long, western nations will face collapse (Great Britain and France are already about at the end of their ropes and require bolstering).

You can see that "propaganda" is going to be used quite differently by Russia from the manner in which the western nations will use it.

Clyde R. Miller, in his book The Process of Persuasion lists what he terms the "four simple devices" that are employed to achieve acceptance or rejection of ideas, policies, personalities, and so on.

Boiled down, these are the devices:

The acceptance or "Virtue" Device—designed to cause us to accept by association with "good" words, symbols, acts.

The Rejection, or "Poison" Device—to cause us to reject by association with "bad" words, symbols, acts.

The Testimonial Device — to cause us to accept or reject by the testimony or evidence of persons considered "good" . . . or "horrible."

The "Together" Device — to cause us to accept or reject by the application of any or all of the former devices applied through the pressure of group or mass emotion and action.

If you think back to Hitler's day you will recall how these "devices" were used with success by Goebbles, Hitler's propaganda expert.

Or, refer again to the disarmament proposal which is now currently in everyone's mind.

The "virtue device," employed by us, is of course the idea of 'peace."

Vishinsky's tirade against the Truman-Acheson proposal used the "poison" (and ridicule) device to the full limit. Vishinsky's "bad word" is "war-monger" which he applies to the western powers at every opportunity. His reply to the disarmament proposal was loaded with "bad words" and with ridicule (couldn't sleep for laughing, Vishinsky said!). Then, not wishing to appear as against peace, Vishinsky makes a counter-proposal for a four-power conference on disarmament next June. This latter continues the crisis but is fodder for home consumption (if I read the propaganda correctly).

From this brief look at the art of propaganda the Ruminator feels that you will agree that the habit of "contrary thinking" is a handy tool in these confusing days. It suggests that when these "big questions" are aired we always ask ourselves "What lies behind this proposal or scheme?" —"What is the other side of the question and how will it affect the other side?" At least, it makes us think occasionally and that is something gained!

Fire Aids Toothache Cure

West Warwick, R. I., Nov. 15 (AP)—Antonio Petrarca has rid himself of a toothache—by setting a brush fire. Petrarca, a recent Italian imigrant, had a terrible toothache yesterday. He doesn't speak English so he set a small brush fire off Main street to attract the attention of any pasers-by who spoke Italian. Italian-speaking Patrolman Pontarelli directed Petrarca to a hospital.

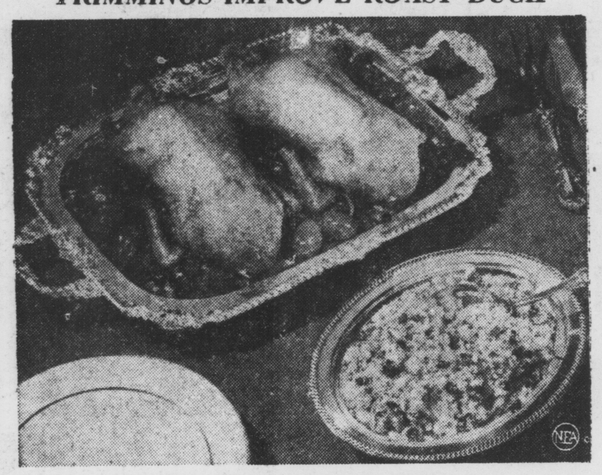
TRIMMINGS IMPROVE ROAST DUCK



ROAST DUCK with cranberry-cornbread stuffing is the perfect Thanksgiving suggestion for the small family.

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

A pair of browned roast ducks garnished with golden yellow preserved kumquats makes a perfect Thanksgiving dish for the family too small for a big turkey.

Because roast duck demands a sweet accompaniment, try a Cranberry Corn Bread Dressing. The mild flavor of rich corn bread is livened with the tartness of chopped, fresh cranberries.

As it bakes, the dressing becomes light and fluffy, slightly crisp in texture. The tangy flavor is good with any type fowl and especially fine with duck. Allow a cupful of dressing for each pound of duck.

Roast a 4 to 5 pound duck in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) approximately 2½ to 3 hours total cooking time, or to an internal temperature of 185 degrees F. when a roast meat thermometer is used. Extra dressing may be baked in a casserole with the bird during its last hour of browning.

Cranberry Corn Bread Dressing
(Makes 2 quarts dressing)

One and one-half cups sliced fresh cranberries, ¼ cup sugar, 1 pan Golden Corn Bread, crumbled, ¼ cup finely chopped celery, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, ¼ teaspoon mace, 1/3 cup melted shortening.

Combine cranberries and sugar. Let stand 5 minutes. Combine rest of ingredients with cranberries and toss lightly to mix. Stuff fowl, allowing 1 cup dressing per pound of fowl.

Golden Corn Bread

One cup enriched yellow corn meal, 1 cup sifted enriched flour, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 1 egg, 1 cup milk, ¼ cup shortening, soft.

Sift together dry ingredients into bowl. Add egg, milk and shortening. Beat with rotary egg beater until smooth, about 1 minute. Do not overbeat. Bake in greased 8-inch square pan or greased muffin pans in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Sliced bananas, ready-to-eat cereal, wholewheat toast, butter or fortified margarine, marmalade, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Creamed tuna and peas on toast, celery and raw carrot sticks, enriched crusty rolls, butter or fortified margarine, apple crisp, whole milk or light cream, tea, milk.

THANKSGIVING DINNER: Black bean soup, lemon slices, a pair of roast ducks, cranberry corn bread stuffing, preserved kumquats garnish, souffle mashed potatoes with grated cheese, buttered white onions, buttered green beans with sauteed almond slices, crisp rolls, butter or fortified margarine, watercress and grapefruit section salad, French dressing, pumpkin pie, cheese, coffee, milk.

Her Fiance In Marine Corps

DOROTHY A. CROSS

The engagement of Miss Dorothy Ada Cross, daughter of Mrs. Victor Cross and the late Victor Cross of Shandaken to Sgt. Norman J. Van Valkenburgh, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Van Valkenburgh of Westkill has been announced.

Miss Cross attended Grand Gorge High School, and is employed by the S. S. Kresge Company in this city.

Sgt. Van Valkenburgh attended Tannersville High School and joined the U. S. Marine Corps after his graduation in 1949. He served 14 months with the First Marine Division in Korea and is now stationed at Cherry Point, N. C.

The wedding will take place in March.

Raymond Austin Will Visit KHS

Raymond P. Austin, assistant director of admissions for Champlain College of the State University of New York, will visit Kingston High School Friday.

He will speak to the director of guidance, teachers and senior students, explaining to them the new Champlain Plan for liberal arts education and of the progress toward a more integrated higher education being made by this unit of the State university.

Shea-Radell

New York, Nov. 13—The marriage of Miss Dolores Ann Shea, 536 Prospect avenue, Brooklyn, and Donald Augustus Radell, formerly of Kingston, now residing at 225 East Pierpont avenue, Rutherford, N. J., will take place shortly.

The couple obtained their license to wed at the City Clerk's office here today.

Miss Shea, a native of Brooklyn, is the daughter of Thomas and Cecelia Long Shea. Her prospective husband, who is the son of August and Sophia Banta Radell, was born in Kingston.

Married in St. Colman's Church

MRS. RALPH CARPINO

Concetta Guido Weds Ralph T. Carpino Sunday, Nov. 10

The marriage of Miss Concetta Guido, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Guido, East Kingston, to Ralph T. Carpino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Carpino, East Kingston, took place on Sunday, Nov. 10, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in St. Colman's R. C. Church. The Rev. Edmond V. Radford, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception for 350 guests followed in St. Liberata's hall in East Kingston.

The church decorations included candles and white pompons. Mrs. Virginia Mancuso was the soloist. She sang the "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white brocaded satin gown with lace inserts, net bodice and long train and carried a muff of white pompons.

Ronald Costello, Port Ewen, was his cousin's best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpino left on a wedding journey through upper New York state. For traveling the bride chose a green and black checked suit, green coat, and black accessories. Upon their return they will reside in East Kingston.

Mrs. Carpino attended Kingston High School and is employed by Morris Berman. Mr. Carpino also attended Kingston High School and is employed by the East Kingston Brick Company. During World War II, he served for two years with the U. S. Army.

Supper Party Precedes Meeting

Mrs. Adam H. Porter, regent of Wiltwyck Chapter and Mrs. Charles Terwilliger, past state historian, were guests of honor at a supper party given by the Christopher Tappen Society CAR, prior to its meeting Tuesday.

Miss Jean Milliken, junior president, presided at the business meeting when contributions were approved for the Tamassee scholarship, the Kate Duncan Smith Milk fund, the Indian Committee and the Valley Forge project.

Mrs. William Macgregor Mills, senior president, introduced Mrs. Porter who told about the plans for the 300th anniversary celebration of Kingston. The group voted to take a membership for this work.

An interesting report was heard from Richard Torrens who attended the state conference at Elmira last month.

It was requested by Anne Schwalbach, flag chairman, that all CAR members display the flag on all holidays. She plans to have a program on the flag in the spring.

The group made plans to send a box of Christmas presents to the Tamassee child who is sponsored by Wiltwyck chapter.

The society has five new members who were accepted in October and four sets of papers are ready for Washington. Anyone interested in joining the organization may phone Mrs. Mills.

Birds are sensitive to light changes. They awaken at the first break of dawn and nest at dusk.

Miss Cross attended Grand Gorge High School, and is employed by the S. S. Kresge Company in this city.

Sgt. Van Valkenburgh attended Tannersville High School and joined the U. S. Marine Corps after his graduation in 1949. He served 14 months with the First Marine Division in Korea and is now stationed at Cherry Point, N. C.

The wedding will take place in March.

Raymond Austin Will Visit KHS

Raymond P. Austin, assistant director of admissions for Champlain College of the State University of New York, will visit Kingston High School Friday.

He will speak to the director of guidance, teachers and senior students, explaining to them the new Champlain Plan for liberal arts education and of the progress toward a more integrated higher education being made by this unit of the State university.

Shea-Radell

New York, Nov. 13—The marriage of Miss Dolores Ann Shea, 536 Prospect avenue, Brooklyn, and Donald Augustus Radell, formerly of Kingston, now residing at 225 East Pierpont avenue, Rutherford, N. J., will take place shortly.

The couple obtained their license to wed at the City Clerk's office here today.

Miss Shea, a native of Brooklyn, is the daughter of Thomas and Cecelia Long Shea. Her prospective husband, who is the son of August and Sophia Banta Radell, was born in Kingston.

MRS. RALPH CARPINO

Concetta Guido Weds Ralph T. Carpino Sunday, Nov. 10

The marriage of Miss Concetta Guido, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Guido, East Kingston, to Ralph T. Carpino, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Carpino, East Kingston, took place on Sunday, Nov. 10, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in St. Colman's R. C. Church. The Rev. Edmond V. Radford, pastor, officiated at the double ring ceremony. A reception for 350 guests followed in St. Liberata's hall in East Kingston.

The church decorations included candles and white pompons. Mrs. Virginia Mancuso was the soloist. She sang the "Ave Maria."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white brocaded satin gown with lace inserts, net bodice and long train and carried a muff of white pompons.

Miss Dolores Guido was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a nile satin gown with net yoke, mitts, and carried a muff of American Beauty roses.

Ronald Costello, Port Ewen, was his cousin's best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpino left on a wedding journey through upper New York state. For traveling the bride chose a green and black checked suit, green coat, and black accessories. Upon their return they will reside in East Kingston.

Mrs. Carpino attended Kingston High School and is employed by Morris Berman. Mr. Carpino also attended Kingston High School and is employed by the East Kingston Brick Company. During World War II, he served for two years with the U. S. Army.

Supper Party Precedes Meeting

Mrs. Adam H. Porter, regent of Wiltwyck Chapter and Mrs. Charles Terwilliger, past state historian, were guests of honor at a supper party given by the Christopher Tappen Society CAR, prior to its meeting Tuesday.

Miss Jean Milliken, junior president, presided at the business meeting when contributions were approved for the Tamassee scholarship, the Kate Duncan Smith Milk fund, the Indian Committee and the Valley Forge project.

Mrs. William Macgregor Mills, senior president, introduced Mrs. Porter who told about the plans for the 300th anniversary celebration of Kingston. The group voted to take a membership for this work.

An interesting report was heard from Richard Torrens who attended the state conference at Elmira last month.

It was requested by Anne Schwalbach, flag chairman, that all CAR members display the flag on all holidays. She plans to have a program on the flag in the spring.

The group made plans to send a box of Christmas presents to the Tamassee child who is sponsored by Wiltwyck chapter.

The society has five new members who were accepted in October and four sets of papers are ready for Washington. Anyone interested in joining the organization may phone Mrs. Mills.

Good Taste Today

by Emily Post

(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

UNTHINKABLE RUDENESS ON PART OF DAUGHTER

A mother writes: "What do you think of a daughter who is forever correcting her parents in front of others whenever they mispronounce a word? My husband and I were not born here and maybe we don't always pronounce words as they should be pronounced, but is that any reason to correct us when others are present? It is very embarrassing and it has got so that I am almost afraid to speak. What can we do to break her of this habit?

I can't imagine a greater rudeness than that which you describe and I can only think that you have never told your daughter how you feel about it. Surely if she knew, she would mend her ways.

Formality Is Reversed

Dear Mrs. Post: When I arrived in this country about six months ago I was astonished at receiving a letter from a business firm addressing me as "My dear Mrs. Jones." At home we only use the "My" for our most intimate friends. Will you please tell me what is correct as I certainly want to conform to the customs of this country."

Answer: In America, the custom is reversed and "My dear Mrs. Jones" is more formal than "Dear Mrs. Jones."

Acknowledging Wedding Presents

Dear Mrs. Post: What is the correct length of time for acknowledging wedding presents? I have sometimes waited as long as three months before knowing whether the bride received my present. This is disturbing since I usually have it sent directly from the store, on a charge account, and have no way of knowing if it was received.

Answer: The courteous bride always writes her own letters of thanks and as soon as she possibly can! If she has very many presents this will take her some time, but certainly very few brides receive such numbers as to excuse a three-months delay in writing "thank you."

Solid Color China

Dear Mrs. Post: Is solid-colored china in good taste on the dinner table?

Answer: Yes. The heavy varieties are especially suited to informal tables.

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. However, one of her many leaflets to help you is E-25, which includes a variety of party menus. Among them is a sit-down wedding breakfast or dinner. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, care of The Kingston Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Decision Is Made Because of State Play Here in '52

89 Teams Represented At Special Meeting

Due to the 27th annual championship handicap tournament of the New York State Bowling Association being scheduled for Kingston next spring, the board of directors of the Kingston Bowling Association voted Wednesday night at the YMCA to by-pass the regular city bowling tournament in 1952.

The state tournament is scheduled from April 2 until May 26, 1952, at both the Ruzzo Bowlatorium and Ferraro's Bowlodrome.

Nine leagues of the sanctioned 30 in the KBA, representing 89 different teams, voted unanimously last night to abandon the regular city tournament.

Leagues represented at last night's special voting included the following:

Nocando, Hercules, Silver Palace, Commercial, Jacobsen Mixed, Ferraro Major, City Minor, Federation National and the Tavern Association.

Joe Magnino, president of the KBA, presided at the board of directors meeting and also at the regular monthly meeting of the executive board which followed.

Carter Registers Unanimous Win In Coast Match

Los Angeles, Nov. 15 (AP)—World Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter and challenger Art Aragon observed contrasting celebrations today.

Carter enjoyed a round of victory toasts after successfully defending his crown in a bruising 15-round fight last night. Aragon, the slightly tarnished golden boy of boxing here, in more subdued fashion belatedly observed his 24th birthday.

Aragon's birthday was two days ago, but he had planned to combine it with a victory celebration after last night's battle.

Carter belted out a unanimous decision over Aragon, flooring him twice and leaving him well beaten at the end.

Referee Mushy Callahan and Judge Frankie Van gave the fight to Carter by an 11-point spread. Judge Joe Stone put the Gotham Negro ahead by 12 points.

Paid admissions totaled 7,251 and gross receipts, including $35,000 for television rights, were $109,463, at least $20,000 less than had been expected.

Aragon, as cocky as ever, and fresh, took the play in the opening rounds. But he ran into a bristling left hook that floored him for a three-count in the sixth round, and he took a severe beating in the last four rounds. It left him with one eye almost shut and the other cut and bloody.

Aragon's manager, Jimmy Roche, said he did not think Aragon was weakened by making the 135-pound limit. The fighters weighed 134¼.

Harmonica Player New Ring Sensation

London, Nov. 15 (AP)—Yolande Pompee, a harmonica player from Trinidad, is the newest sensation in British boxing.

It doesn't take much to be a sensation in British boxing, but Pompee, a two-fisted pounder who's won all of his 23 professional fights, really raised eyebrows here when he battered British Empire middleweight champ Dave Sands into submission in seven rounds of a non-title bout.

Sands, who has been chasing Sugar Ray Robinson for a world title chance, hadn't been stopped in 96 previous contests. But nobody, particularly Sands, protested when the referee called a halt Tuesday night. Sands hung helpless on the ropes, blood gushing from a deep cut near his left eye.

Pompee took a beating, too. His mouth was cut and he went to a hospital for some mending. Doctors suggested a rest, so his first plans call for a short vacation.

Bob Umpleby, the KAA president, sat near the center of the speaker's table at the Little League banquet, nervous as a new bride and pouring honest sweat, although he had gone through the crucible way back around 3:30 p. m.

"Do you know that Mel Allen canceled out a speaking engagement last night (Monday)?", came the electrifying query from Fred Davi, the much-traveled Laughing Boy.

In seconds Umpleby, saddled with the multiple duties of president of KAA and co-ordinator of the Little League banquet, was on the long distance telephone.

The operator caught up with Allen at his New Bedford Hills home, in bed with a cold and sore throat.

"The doc told me to stay in bed another day," came the mellifluous southern accent over the wire, "but I guess I'll be able to make it. I'll be there at 6:30."

Umpleby hung up the receiver as happy as a prisoner who had just been granted 11.59 p. m. reprieve. Such is the fate of those who run banquets, dinners and sports functions. You never are sure about those big personalities until you see them in the building.

Well, Allen arrived. He was tremendous, inspiring and his rich voice and delivery that have carried him to the No. 1 spot in sports broadcasting were as enchanting as ever. Never fear about this guy, he holds his audience all the way.

Allen was warm, sincere, humorous, then stern and serious. He cut up some touches dismantling Dave Freer's microphone before he settled down to his speechmaking. Stories about Yogi Berra, Phil Rizzuto, Lefty Gomez and countless other major leaguers—some old, some new—but always attractive when delivered in the rich Allenese accent came flowing out of the microphones.

Tommy Holmes who followed Judge John T. Loughran, which is about the same as following Winston Churchill, quickly moved into baseball strategy and philosophy and established himself as an interesting speaker and astute baseball man.

"Good baseball," he said, "is actually the results of well founded habits of learning. Everybody is subject to mistakes, errors and embarrassment in sports, but the greatest single obstacle to overcome was the instinctive fear among many of us in a 'situation.'"

"In other words," Holmes asked the Little Leaguers, "are there times when, with the bases loaded, you think to yourself, 'Gee I hope he doesn't hit the ball down here. Or, I hope I don't have to bat against that guy with the bases loaded and two outs'."

Until that fear is overcome, Holmes contended, the youngster or young man cannot become the complete ball player. On the theory that a solid basehit in the clutch or a bases-loaded triple oftimes overcomes fielding deficiencies, the youthful Boston Brave pilot urged the Little Leaguer to study "the bat."

"When you have learned to control the bat and hit the pitch no matter where it is, and then your learn the glove," he said, "you are on your way. The smart stuff and strategy come later."

Commenting on the crucial late season series between the Dodgers and Braves, Holmes said the baseball world would have second-guessed him to death if 20-year-old southpaw, Chet Nichols, a surprise pitching selection, had fizzled against the Brooks.

"Nichols had great faith in himself and pleaded not to be taken out when trouble cropped up late in the game. He had a bad finger and my instincts told me to get him out. But the kid had courage and faith. He pleaded for a chance to complete the game. I couldn't turn down a youngster in a spot like that. You know the rest. Nichols beat the Dodgers.

"I hope that I will be managing long enough so that maybe some day I'll be managing one of you in the big leagues," Holmes concluded.

That could be a prophecy built on solid foundation. Anybody who saw a Tony Turck fire a fast ball across the plate; a Joey Hoffman, Willie Cragan, or Ronnie Ashdown clout one over the fence and a Fibber Davitt make a spectacular stop, knows that this could happen.

Umpleby, modest and self-effacing, thanked everybody who had in any way helped to make the Little League a rousing success in its first season in Kingston. A tireless worker who devoted hours of time and incredible energy to the Little League project, he is certainly a credit to the community.

It was a great night for the Little Leaguers. The setting was resplendent and the smiling faces of 72 Little Leaguers and their friends gave one great confidence in baseball, America's national pastime.

That was quite a show, Mr. Umpleby.

Allen Predicts Joe D. May Start '52 Season

Believes Clipper Will Go to Spring Drills

Joe DiMaggio, if he finally decides to retire, will not call it quits until he has completed some part of spring training in 1952.

So said Mel Allen, the famous sportscaster, after the Little League banquet Tuesday night.

Allen did not touch on the controversial subject during his remarks to the audience but, in a private conversation with local friends, said bluntly:

"I don't think that at the moment Joe, himself, knows exactly what he wants to do."

Reminded that DiMaggio's statements to sports writers since his world series meeting with Yankee officials and during the Japanese tour never gave hope to the popular belief he would return to the Yankees in 1952, Allen commented:

"I have a hunch that Dan Topping and Casey Stengel will talk Joe into at least going into spring training. That's where the final decision will be made."

Allen hinted that DiMaggio's desire to enter the broadcasting field might have been a factor in his sudden decision to retire after the world series with the Giants.

May Go on TV

"Dizzy Dean's job on Yankee TV is still open," said Mel," and I believe that if Joe wants it, the Yankees will give it to him.

"Furthermore," continued the nation's No. 1 sports announcer, "I think DiMaggio will do a good job. He has a nice microphone voice and certainly is qualified to handle a mike."

Allen also said he thought that the condition of Mickey Mantle's legs might have an important bearing on DiMaggio's future.

"Nobody knows how Mickey Mantle's legs will respond after that accident in the stadium last fall."

"If Mantle is lost to the Yankees for 1952," Allen continued, "you can be sure that Stengel will want DiMaggio around, if only as a part time performer. The Big Guy is a tremendous influence, just sitting on the bench.

Praises Stengel

Allen had high praise for Casey Stengel, Yankee manager who tied an all-time record by winning pennants in his first three years with a team.

"I don't know if Old Case can achieve the miracle of a fourth straight pennant," Allen quipped.

"Each of the other three pennants was considered something of a miracle," an observer remarked. "Why not a fourth one?"

"Well, I don't think the Yankees as they are presently set up can do it again," Allen said modestly. "There will have to be changes made and I have a hunch Ole Case is working on a few of them right now."

Vols, Illini, Tigers Picked In Saturday's Top Grid Games

Spartans, Stanford Also Rate Nod

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—Halfbacks and drawbacks . . . homecomings and short comings . . . footballs and highballs . . . long roses and broken noses . . . winners and losers . . . all are parts of the football season.

So here are the winners and losers for this weekend's games:

Tennessee over Mississippi: The next three Saturdays will show if Tennessee is a great or simply a good team. Kentucky and Vanderbilt follow on the Vol schedule. Chances are Tennessee is about two touchdowns too strong for Mississippi.

Michigan State over Indiana: Too much to expect Michigan State to keep the edge it showed last week in blanking Notre Dame, but only half the amount will be needed to handle the Hoosiers.

Alabama over Georgia Tech: Tech already has been invited to the Orange Bowl—and it is a good thing. Alabama was the September choice to be unbeaten when the coming game started but it lost five of nine.

Princeton over Yale: Dick Kazmaier and his playmates annex the Big Three title for the fifth straight year. The Yales could be tougher than expected.

Illinois over Ohio State: The Illini to win but Janowicz to shine brighter than Karras in their private duel for All-America honors.

Stanford over Oregon State: Only the fact that the game is being played on the Stanford field keeps Oregon State out of the favorite's role.

Maryland Selected

Maryland over North Carolina State: The best means of stopping the split-T attack is a pair of fast charging linemen. North Carolina State has them but not enough to beat Maryland.

Oklahoma over Iowa State: Coach Bud Wilkinson never has lost a Big Seven game, so why should he start now?

Kentucky over George Washington: Kentucky has the nation's second strongest defense plus Babe Parilli. That is more than enough.

Wisconsin over Iowa: The Iowans are the nicest guests anyone could have. They never win, seldom cause opponents much concern.

Texas over Texas Christian: The difference between these two clubs can be covered by an ordinary sombrero. The home field gives the Longhorns' a one-point edge.

California over Oregon: Even if if California isn't as good as first expected, the Bears should be good enough to handle an Oregon team that has won only two of eight.

Skipping over the others in a hurry:

Boston University over Wichita, Brown over Harvard, Bucknell over Delaware, Colgate over Syracuse, Cornell over Dartmouth, Lehigh over Lafayette, Navy over Columbia, Penn over Army, Penn State over Rutgers, Temple over Fordham, Villanova over Boston College, West Virginia over Pittsburgh.

Clemson over Furman, Georgia over Auburn, Louisiana State over Mississippi State, Miami over Florida, Notre Dame over North Carolina, Vanderbilt over Tulane, Virginia over South Carolina, Washington and Lee over Louisiana, William and Mary over Duke.

Colorado over Nebraska, Kansas over Oklahoma A & M, Marquette over Detroit, Michigan over Northwestern, Missouri over Kansas State, Purdue over Minnesota.

Rice over Texas A & M, Southern Methodist over Arkansas, Tulsa over Texas Tech.

Brigham Young over New Mexico, Denver over Utah State, Idaho over Arizona, San Francisco over College of Pacific, Utah over Colorado A & m, UCLA over Washington, Washington State over Montana.

Caldwell Raps Bowl Games; Defends Merits of Spring Training Drills

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—The 1950 "coach of the year," Princeton's Charlie Caldwell, called for the outlawing of all bowl games today while the men who direct college athletics plunged headlong into the battle against football over-emphasis.

Caldwell, whose Ivy League Princetonians have won 20 straight games, defended the merits of spring practice and said the sport would have no problems with commercialism if post-season games were eliminated.

"If a team is good, it goes to a bowl and gets money to buy players so it can keep going to bowls," the coach added.

Meanwhile, there were these other developments on the bristling college football front:

1. The Council of the National Collegiate Athletic Association called a meeting in Chicago for next Monday and Tuesday to formulate a definite program for the control of athletics.

2. Twenty-one of 31 schools in the mid-western area okayed recommendations of the NCAA to restrict the two-platoon system, bowl games and spring practice. Every member of the Missouri Valley and Big Seven Conferences except Missouri and Iowa State was included on the deemphasis list.

3. Georgia's Board of Regents discussed the same NCAA report without taking any action.

4. Presidents of the 12 Southeastern Conference colleges decided to meet in Birmingham Sunday to "discuss how we might better keep the athletic program under control."

5. Navy Coach Eddie Erdelatz, commenting on Yale's decision to discard spring practice, said these maneuvers should be limited but not eliminated.

Caldwell took the same attitude as Erdelatz toward spring workouts. He said they should be controlled, such as at Princeton where drills are not compulsory and limited to 20 sessions of no more than an hour and a half each.

Shults Keglers Gain Revenge

Five male bruisers representing Shults Paints picked on a four-girl Canfield squad to wreak revenge for a recent tenpin embarrassment, 2136 to 1845, in a special bowling match at the Bowlatorium.

The victory so excited the Shults trundlers that they completely forgot to add up either the team or series totals in their report to the press.

Nat Phillips, the ex-gob, turned out to be the big bad wolf with 459 for the winners and Hank Breitenbach furnished 450. Margie Lawrence led the Canfield with 420 and the "blind" gal posted 417.

A third match appears to be a must. This thing could go on forever.

The scores:

Baseball Draft Slated Monday; Page on Market

New York, Nov. 15—For the price of $10,000—a good day's hot dog and beer take—any big league club can have Joe Page, the gay reliefer of the 1947-49 champion New York Yankees.

Fireman Joe and 4,683 other players are on the draft list for Monday's grab bag at Cincinnati. Owners are displaying unusual interest in the bargain basement sale.

If you're a little hazy on the draft, here's how it works. The last place club in the American League—the St. Louis Browns—gets first pick of all eligible minor leaguers. Then the Chicago Cubs, last in the National. And so on through to the New York Yankees No. 15, and the New York Giants, 16th and last.

Last year the majors drafted 28 men for $269,500. That was only $3,000 short of the record set in 1947 when 29 were picked for $272,500.

Martin Prize Pick

Prize pick of a year ago was Morris Martin, the ex-Brooklyn lefty who wound up with a 11-4 record for the Philadelphia A's. Once they gave Martin a starting chance in the second half of the season he was terrific.

Some 15 of the 28 stuck around most of the year including the No. 1 pick, George Metkovich who batted .294 for Pittsburgh.

Remember Boo Ferriss of the Red Sox? He's on the Louisville list. So is Bill Evans (8-4) who has had big league trials.

Page, who finished up at San Francisco with a 2-1 record, is on the Kansas City roster. So is pitcher Bob Keegan, 13-9 at Syracuse, and utility infielder Kermit Wahl.

Brooklyn's St. Paul farm has outfielder Dick Whitman (.311), second baseman Jack Cassini (.305) and reliefer Al Epperly (13-4). Anybody looking for a utility infielder might nab Gene Mauch, ex-Boston Brave at Milwaukee.

And so it goes all down the line. Some bargains. Some busts. Talent being as scarce as it is, the grabbing will be furious.

Vols, Illini, Tigers Picked In Saturday's Top Grid Games

Spartans, Stanford Also Rate Nod

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—Halfbacks and drawbacks . . . homecomings and short comings . . . footballs and highballs . . . long roses and broken noses . . . winners and losers . . . all are parts of the football season.

So here are the winners and losers for this weekend's games:

Tennessee over Mississippi: The next three Saturdays will show if Tennessee is a great or simply a good team. Kentucky and Vanderbilt follow on the Vol schedule. Chances are Tennessee is about two touchdowns too strong for Mississippi.

Then the Chicago Cubs, last in the National. And so on through to the New York Yankees No. 15, and the New York Giants, 16th and last.

Last year the majors drafted 28 men for $269,500. That was only $3,000 short of the record set in 1947 when 29 were picked for $272,500.

Martin Prize Pick

Prize pick of a year ago was Morris Martin, the ex-Brooklyn lefty who wound up with a 11-4 record for the Philadelphia A's. Once they gave Martin a starting chance in the second half of the season he was terrific.

Some 15 of the 28 stuck around most of the year including the No. 1 pick, George Metkovich who batted .294 for Pittsburgh.

Remember Boo Ferriss of the Red Sox? He's on the Louisville list. So is Bill Evans (8-4) who has had big league trials.

EMPLOYMENT

HELP WANTED—MALE

BUTCHERS, CARPENTERS, FARMERS, PAINTERS, FACTORY WORKERS, CONSTRUCTION WORKERS

If you now find yourself unemployed or about to be laid off through no fault of your own and you are willing to try a new field, then we will show you how to make a permanent place for yourself on our sales force in the electrical manufacturing business, which is recession proof.

You may now feel the same as M.P., a former worker, did when he was deciding on a change—he was afraid but his wife urged him on. His paycheck last week was $135.60 and here are other men from various lines of endeavor who are now permanent employes in our business (last week): W. C., $140.56; F. G., $115.51; O. K., $212.52; W. O'L., $112.35; N. R., $113.16; H. S., $136.29; P. D., $143.01; D. H., $276.32; W. McG., $106.34; C. O., $189.93; J. R., $104.26; D. T., $159.20; G. W., $104.93; J. D., $138.24; C. L., $110.13; J. M., $158.34; P. P., $205.60; W. S., $143.87; B. V., $110.93.

Our business is good and expanding into the towns, villages and wherever they wire for current, be it farm or penthouse.

If you are now available see our employment manager at the Washington Hotel, 90 Grand St., Newburgh, Room 205, 2nd floor, Friday, November 16, 10:15 to 12.

Charlie Grunenwald, Anna Berardi Pace League Pin Topplers With 685 and 538

A couple of poor fills and a ninth frame split robbed Charlie Grunenwald, veteran city tenpin thumper, of a sure 700 in the Central Rec Major League Wednesday night.

Despite these setbacks, however, Grunenwald still polished off a neat 685 blast on the hat trick of 227-216-242 to tie his own individual high triple score.

Grunenwald's hefty blast featured a heavy bombarding at the Central Rec drives last night.

Dividing the spotlight with Grunenwald on the distaff side last night was Anna Berardi who pumped a neat 169-179-190 for 538, a new high triple in the Purple Division of the Colonial Women's League at the Bowlatorium.

Elsewhere in local bowling circles, Jack Watzka fashioned 184-159-234 for a 577 to lead the CYO-Holy Name League at the Bowlodrome. Helen Broskie smashed 159-166-186 for 511 and a new high triple in the Silver Division of the Colonial Women's circuit; Rose Schatzel 160-182-191 for 533 in the Gold Division of the Colonial Women's wheel; and Dottie LaRocca posted 158-162-196 for a 516 series in the Bolodrome Pioneer Women's League.

While Grunenwald was blasting the maples in the Central Rec wheel, Jimmie's Inn registered a new team single of 1047, eclipsing their own previous high of 1043. The club finished with 2911. Miron Lumber posted 1003 and 2896 while Hymes Shoes fired 2911.

Ferraro Clips 249

In the individual parade, Randy Kelder was runnerup with a hat trick night of 223-200-230 for 653. Cliff Quick fired 242-628; Phil Masters 232-617; Angie Ferraro 249-607; George "Curly" Flemings 214-592; Elwood Robinson 234-200-590; George Robinson 225-585 and Lew Hymes 211-579.

Trailing Jack Watzka's 577 in the CYO were J. Fahey with 211-561; Joe Watzka 210-557; A. Maurer 550; G. Kearney 203-544; J. Zeeh 539 and Charlie Hertica 201-538. Ed Koskie rolled 208 and J. Bruck 200. Tony Guerrera converted the 8-10 split.

Elma MacElveen rolled 488 for the runnerup spot to Anna Berardi's 538 in the Purple Division. Gen Whitmore hit 438 and converted the 8-10 split; Dottie Geisler 402; and Marcia Olbert 402. Elma MacElveen converted the 7-9 split. Sue's Beauty established two new team records of 733 and 2084.

Runnerup to Mrs. Schatzel in the Colonial Women's League was Sue Heins with 507; Evelyn Gross 492; Tess Moss 484; Rose Rhymer 206-480; Carrie Mohr 478; Charlotte Lapine 477; Kay Roosa 471; Dot Flemings 467; Betty Helmbold 452 and Phyl Roosa 450.

Louise Cameron stacked 473 for the No. 2 spot to Dottie LaRocca in the Pioneer Women's loop. M. Goldstein rolled 469; M. Amarello 464; R. Amarello 439; T. Fondino 413; B. Macholdt 440; Nellie Glennon 409 and A. Kirn 400.

Bill Davis' 176-168-245 for 589 paced the Junior Major wheel last night. Ed Heins pounded a 240 single.

Creation of More Major Leagues Is Proposed; PCL President Hails Move

10-12 Club Idea Rejected by Group

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—Baseball is drawing up a master plan to create more major leagues.

Rejecting 10-club or 12-club versions of the current majors as "entirely unsound," a special committee has outlined plans for a new "open" classification through which entire eight-club leagues might advance to the majors.

Exact details of the steps leading from "open" to major still must be worked out. But the major leagues' special committee on Pacific Coast League problems promises the plan will be ready before the minor league meetings at Columbus in early December.

The Pacific Coast League, waging a vigorous battle against the player draft, would qualify for "open" classification under the proposal. The new "open" class would provide a measure of draft relief by letting players exempt themselves from selection.

President Clarence Rowland of the Pacific Coast League hailed the move. "This gives us assurance that the integrity of the Pacific Coast League will be recognized, and that when it advances, the advance will be made by all eight clubs as a whole," Rowland said.

This could mean a major league on the Pacific Coast "within a reasonable time." The "open" classification would not be permanent but open for review within a five-year period or less—as a preliminary step to major league status.

To qualify for the jump from Triple A to "open"—a league must have the approval of at least six clubs, remove salary limits, submit full data on stock ownership and financial stability of each club, show an average attendance of 2,250,000 annually over a five-year period, show an aggregate population of 10,000,000 and combined park capacity of at least 120,000.

Deadline for application would be 60 days before the season opening.

This all is in the proposal stage yet. The major-minor league executive council will recommend the proposal to the minors at Columbus and the major league council will recommend it to the majors at New York in mid-December.

The present three Triple A leagues are the Pacific Coast, International and American Association.

The idea of the 10 or 12-club majors was rejected because the committee thought the only practical method would be to advance eight clubs as a unit.

Charlie Grunenwald, Anna Berardi Pace League Pin Topplers With 685 and 538

A couple of poor fills and a ninth frame split robbed Charlie Grunenwald, veteran city tenpin thumper, of a sure 700 in the Central Rec Major League Wednesday night.

Despite these setbacks, however, Grunenwald still polished off a neat 685 blast on the hat trick of 227-216-242 to tie his own individual high triple score.

Grunenwald's hefty blast featured a heavy bombarding at the Central Rec drives last night.

Dividing the spotlight with Grunenwald on the distaff side last night was Anna Berardi who pumped a neat 169-179-190 for 538, a new high triple in the Purple Division of the Colonial Women's League at the Bowlatorium.

Elsewhere in local bowling circles, Jack Watzka fashioned 184-159-234 for a 577 to lead the CYO-Holy Name League at the Bowlodrome. Helen Broskie smashed 159-166-186 for 511 and a new high triple in the Silver Division of the Colonial Women's circuit; Rose Schatzel 160-182-191 for 533 in the Gold Division of the Colonial Women's wheel; and Dottie LaRocca posted 158-162-196 for a 516 series in the Bolodrome Pioneer Women's League.

While Grunenwald was blasting the maples in the Central Rec wheel, Jimmie's Inn registered a new team single of 1047, eclipsing their own previous high of 1043. The club finished with 2911. Miron Lumber posted 1003 and 2896 while Hymes Shoes fired 2911.

Ferraro Clips 249

In the individual parade, Randy Kelder was runnerup with a hat trick night of 223-200-230 for 653. Cliff Quick fired 242-628; Phil Masters 232-617; Angie Ferraro 249-607; George "Curly" Flemings 214-592; Elwood Robinson 234-200-590; George Robinson 225-585 and Lew Hymes 211-579.

Trailing Jack Watzka's 577 in the CYO were J. Fahey with 211-561; Joe Watzka 210-557; A. Maurer 550; G. Kearney 203-544; J. Zeeh 539 and Charlie Hertica 201-538. Ed Koskie rolled 208 and J. Bruck 200. Tony Guerrera converted the 8-10 split.

Elma MacElveen rolled 488 for the runnerup spot to Anna Berardi's 538 in the Purple Division. Gen Whitmore hit 438 and converted the 8-10 split; Dottie Geisler 402; and Marcia Olbert 402. Elma MacElveen converted the 7-9 split. Sue's Beauty established two new team records of 733 and 2084.

Runnerup to Mrs. Schatzel in the Colonial Women's League was Sue Heins with 507; Evelyn Gross 492; Tess Moss 484; Rose Rhymer 206-480; Carrie Mohr 478; Charlotte Lapine 477; Kay Roosa 471; Dot Flemings 467; Betty Helmbold 452 and Phyl Roosa 450.

Other top efforts in the Silver Division following Mrs. Broskie's 511 were Marie Bechtold with 471; Marie Kelekian 468; Catherine Landers 438; Betty Shipman 438; M. Smith 432; D. Jankowski 428; Ann Manfro 427 and B. Lynn 421.

Louise Cameron stacked 473 for the No. 2 spot to Dottie LaRocca in the Pioneer Women's loop. M. Goldstein rolled 469; M. Amarello 464; R. Amarello 439; T. Fondino 413; B. Macholdt 440; Nellie Glennon 409 and A. Kirn 400.

Bill Davis' 176-168-245 for 589 paced the Junior Major wheel last night. Ed Heins pounded a 240 single.

Creation of More Major Leagues Is Proposed; PCL President Hails Move

10-12 Club Idea Rejected by Group

New York, Nov. 15 (AP)—Baseball is drawing up a master plan to create more major leagues.

Rejecting 10-club or 12-club versions of the current majors as "entirely unsound," a special committee has outlined plans for a new "open" classification through which entire eight-club leagues might advance to the majors.

Exact details of the steps leading from "open" to major still must be worked out. But the major leagues' special committee on Pacific Coast League problems promises the plan will be ready before the minor league meetings at Columbus in early December.

The Pacific Coast League, waging a vigorous battle against the player draft, would qualify for "open" classification under the proposal. The new "open" class would provide a measure of draft relief by letting players exempt themselves from selection.

President Clarence Rowland of the Pacific Coast League hailed the move. "This gives us assurance that the integrity of the Pacific Coast League will be recognized, and that when it advances, the advance will be made by all eight clubs as a whole," Rowland said.

This could mean a major league on the Pacific Coast "within a reasonable time." The "open" classification would not be permanent but open for review within a five-year period or less—as a preliminary step to major league status.

To qualify for the jump from Triple A to "open"—a league must have the approval of at least six clubs, remove salary limits, submit full data on stock ownership and financial stability of each club, show an average attendance of 2,250,000 annually over a five-year period, show an aggregate population of 10,000,000 and combined park capacity of at least 120,000.

Deadline for application would be 60 days before the season opening.

Bundle Day Set In Schools for Needy Children

Clothing given at the Save-the-Children "Bundle Day" starting tomorrow in local schools will help to clothe approximately 185,000 children in America and overseas, according to information Superintendent of Schools Arthur J. Laidlaw has received from the Save the Children Federation, which will distribute the clothing.

The local drive is part of a nationwide "children's clothing crusade" conducted in public schools throughout America under auspices of a National Advisory Committee of School Superintendents.

About a third of the children who will be helped are in seven war-depleted European countries. The rest live in disadvantaged rural areas of America.

Most important is warm clothing—heavy underwear, wool skirts, suits, sweaters and coats. If the clothing is warm, even adult sizes can be used.

Babies' clothing is in constant demand. Diapers, crib-blankets, night-shirts, warm sweaters and undershirts are needed.

Lithium

Lithium is a metallic element belonging to the group of alkali metals which is widely distributed in the mineral, vegetable and animal kingdoms.

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS of OUR Business

A Customer	is the most important person in any business.
A Customer	is not dependent on us—we are dependent on him.
A Customer	is not an interruption of our work—he is the purpose of it.
A Customer	does us a favor when he calls—we are not doing him a favor by serving him.
A Customer	is part of our business—he is not an outsider.
A Customer	is not a cold statistic — he is a flesh-and-blood human being with feelings and emotions like our own.
A Customer	is not someone to argue or match wits with. .. .. .
A Customer	is a person who brings us his wants — it is our job to fill those wants
A Customer	is deserving of the most courteous and attentive treatment we can give him.
A Customer	is the life blood of this and every other business.

19 Years of Service

Bundle Day Set In Schools for Needy Children

Clothing given at the Save-the-Children "Bundle Day" starting tomorrow in local schools will help to clothe approximately 185,000 children in America and overseas, according to information Superintendent of Schools Arthur J. Laidlaw has received from the Save the Children Federation, which will distribute the clothing.

The local drive is part of a nationwide "children's clothing crusade" conducted in public schools throughout America under auspices of a National Advisory Committee of School Superintendents.

About a third of the children who will be helped are in seven war-depleted European countries. The rest live in disadvantaged rural areas of America.

Most important is warm clothing—heavy underwear, wool skirts, suits, sweaters and coats. If the clothing is warm, even adult sizes can be used.

Children's shoes are next in importance, even though scuffed. Some adult sizes can be used. High-heeled women's shoes are of no use.

Babies' clothing is in constant demand. Diapers, crib-blankets, night-shirts, warm sweaters and undershirts are needed.

Lithium

Lithium is a metallic element belonging to the group of alkali metals which is widely distributed in the mineral, vegetable and animal kingdoms.
